No. P.H./2770/W-68/56.—28th July 1956.—In pursuance of rule (8) of the Rules for the Preparation, Publication and Execution of Projects for Water Supply, Drainage or Sewerage by Municipal Authorities, it is hereby notified for general information that the scheme for augmentation of water-supply of the Budge Budge Municipality within the district of 24-Parganas has been approved by Government and the particulars of the scheme are as follows:—

1. (a) General description of the scheme.—The waterworks scheme of the Budge Budge Municipality has been prepared with a view to saving a total population of 27,000 with 10 per cent. rise in population. The basis of per capita daily supply is about 12½ gallons and the total daily supply of 3,36,000 gallons has been provided. The supply mains have been proposed to be set up only where the demand is the greatest with provisions for adequate future extensions of the distribution system.

Two supply zones have been provided—one at the Municipal office compound and another on acquired land at R. N. Thakur Road. The following works are proposed in the scheme:—

(i) Installation of two tube-wells having capacity of 14,000 gallons per hour to supply the respective zones.

(ii) Installation of two sets of bore-hole turbine pumping arrangements with pump houses.

(iii) Two Elevated Storage Reservoirs each with 30,000 gallons capacity.

(iv) Distribution system consisting of 8 inches diameter, 6 inches diameter, 5 inches diameter, 4 inches diameter, 3 inches diameter mains.

(v) Installation of total sixty-eight street taps with platforms for distribution.

The tube-wells will work 12 hours each day in two shifts. After extension of the distribution system, the working hours will be increased to 16 hours a day. Total supply of water will be available for consumption in ten hours. Provision of 150 house connections per zone has been contemplated.

(b) An estimate of the cost of carrying it out.—Rs. 4,48,000.

(c) An estimate of the cost of maintaining it.—Rs. 18,214.

(d) The source from which the cost will be met.—

(i) Capital cost—Government grant—Rs. 2,98,667; Municipal contribution—Rs. 1,49,333.

(ii) Maintenance cost—By imposition of water rates by the municipality.

2. (a) The total annual charge to be incurred by reason of the water-supply and to be met by a water-rate.—Rs. 18,214.

(b) The percentage of such water-rate on the annual value of holding.—Two per cent. on the annual value of all holdings situated within a radius of 500 feet from the stand post and 1½ per cent. on the annual value of those holdings situated beyond radius of 500 feet but within 1,000 feet.

(c) The average incidence of such water-rate per head of the population.—Annas 15-6p. per head.

The scheme will be taken into consideration on or after the 5th October 1956 and any objection or suggestion with regard thereto which may be received by the undersigned on or before that date will be duly considered.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER

No. 3317Dis./D/111-315/55.—31st July 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4769Dis./D/111-315/55, dated the 4th October 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Goswami Flour Mills, 5/A Kalakar Street, Calcutta-7, and one of their employees Shri Purosottam Prosad Misra, 2 Synagogue Street, Calcutta-1, represented by himself regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Dispute Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Goswami Flour Mills, 5/A Kalakar Street, Calcutta-7, and one of their employees Shri Purosottam Prosad Misra, 2 Synagogue Street, Calcutta-1 (case No. VIII—310 of 1955).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri Gopal Chandra Das, Pleader.

For the Employee: None.

This reference made by the Government of West Bengal, by order No. 4769Dis./D/111-315/55, dated Calcutta, the 4th October 1955, is concerned with the discharge of Sri Purosottam Prosad Misra, by Messrs. Goswami Floor Mills.

The issues submitted for adjudicated are as follows:—

(1) Is the discharge of Shri Purosottam Prosad Misra justified?

(2) What relief is he entitled to?

The case set forth in the written statement presented by the employee is that he was in service under this Company since September 1954. On the 19th February 1955, the Company dispensed with the services on all of a sudden without assigning any reason. The salary due and compensation for abrupt termination of services were promised to be paid but ultimately the Company failed to redeem the promise.

The Company in its reply submitted that this employee had left the service of his own accord on the 1st of February 1955, without rendering accounts.

The employee is fighting his own cause without receiving the support of any union or other employees of the Company. The question therefore arises whether this is an industrial dispute of which the Tribunal can take cognizance.

And additional issue is accordingly framed.

Issue No. 3

Is this an industrial dispute which the Tribunal has jurisdiction to deal with?

Issue No. 3.—As pointed out above the cause of this employee has not been taken up by any union or other workers serving under this Company. This Tribunal had to deal with individual disputes of this type on a number of occasions and the view has been taken that such an individual dispute is not an industrial dispute as defined in the Industiral Disputes Act. Reference may be made to two awards by this Tribunal which have been reported in 1956, 1, L.I.L., page 356, and 1956, 1, L.L.J., page 138. This view has been approved by a recent decision of the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court, reported in 66, C.W.N., page 856. The matter is therefore amply covered by authority binding upon this Tribunal. It must therefore be held that the dispute in question is not an industrial dispute and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to deal with it.

Dictated and corrected by me.

S. SENGUPTA,
Judge.

S. SENGUPTA,
Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

The 21st July, 1956.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER

No. 3304Dis./D/15L-5/56.—30th July 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1856Dis./D/15L-5/56, dated the 5th May 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. K. M. Sadhukhan and Sons, Rice and Oil Mills, Snanpiri Lane, Serampur, Hooghly, and their driver Shri Raghunath Shaw represented by the Motor Transport Workers' Union, 249 Bow Bazar Street, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. K. M. Sadhukhan and Sons, Rice and Oil Mills, Snanpiri Lane, Serampore, Hooghly, and their driver, Shri Raghunath Shaw, represented by the Motor Transport Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Employee: Shri Sunil Roy, Member of the Executive Committee, Motor Transport Workers' Union.

For the Company: Shri Biswanath Ash, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 1836Dis./D/15L-5/56, dated 5th May 1956, referred the above industrial dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication of the following issues as contained in the schedule to the order of reference:—

Is the discharge of Shri Raghunath Shaw justified? To what relief is he entitled?

AWARD

Shri Raghunath Shaw was engaged as a driver by the firm on a monthly pay of Rs. 130. He worked there for more than one year with full satisfaction of the Company. On 25th October 1955 as usual, he came for duty, but he was not allowed to take up his work, and was told that his services were terminated with immediate effect. No reason was assigned, nor was any charge-sheet issued or enquiry held in the matter. This action of the Company has been stigmatised as illegal and unjust. The discharge, in the circumstances, is the basis of the grievance, which the Tribunal has to consider. Reinstatement with wages for the period of unemployment has accordingly been claimed.

The Company's version in short is that Shri Raghunath Shaw had voluntarily given up the job, and that his services were not terminated by the Company as alleged. It further stated that he, of his own accord, left the service of the Company on 24th October 1955, and did not report for duty on 25th October 1955 as stated.

Shri Rabhunath Shaw has given his evidence, and on behalf of the Company, one of the partners, Shri Shyam Sundar Sadhukhan, and a darwan, Shri Krishna Bahadur by name, have been examined. Shri Raghunath Shaw has deposed that on 25th October 1955 when he came for duty as usual, he was all on a sudden discharged. He has denied of having relinquished his job of his own accord. But O.P.W. 1 Shri Shyam Sundar Sadhukhan, one of the partners, has stated that on 24th October 1955 Shri Raghunath Shaw has expressed his unwillingness to serve as their driver, and hence on that date he sent the key of the lorry, which he used to drive, through their darwan, Shri Krishna Bahadur, and that since then he did not turn up to work. He has emphatically denied that they dismissed or discharged him on 25th October 1955, when he turned up for duty. O.P.W. 2 Shri Krishna Bahadur is the darwan of the Company. His evidence is that on 24th October 1955 Shri Raghunath Shaw sent the key of the lorry, which he used to drive, through him stating that he would no longer serve under the Company. I have given my due consideration to the oral evidence as adduced on both sides. By view is that the version of the Company is acceptable. O.P.W. 1 Shri Shyam Sundar Sadhukhan, one of the partners, and O.P.W. 2 Shri Krishna Bahadur, darwan, deposed in a straightforward manner. It seems to me that they spoke the real truth. I do not see any reason as to why they would depose falsely. O.P.W. 1 Shri Shyam Sundar Sadhukhan being one of the partners of the firm appears to be a responsible person. It can hardly be believed that he would come to box to make a false statement. His evidence bears the stamp of truth. O.P.W. 2 Shri Krishna Bahadur, the darwan, has fully corroborated the version of O.P.W. 1 Shri Shyam Sundar Sadhukhan. The very fact that Shri Raghunath Shaw sent the key of the lorry, which he used to drive, through darwan on 24th October 1955, indicated that he had no more any charm for the service under this Company, and was not willing to serve there. Of course, Shri Raghunath Shaw has denied the fact that he voluntarily gave up the job under the Company. But his evidence did not impress me in the least. He suppressed the real truth, and his demeanour in the witness box was not also satisfactory. Hence, the Tribunal has got to be extremely cautious in assessing the value of his evidence. After giving the best consideration and due weight to the entire evidence placed before it, the Tribunal is of the opinion that this was a case of resignation, and not of termination of services by the employer. There is another fact, which points to the direction that Shri Raghunath Shaw had voluntarily given up the job under this Company. A certificate stating that Shri Raghunath Shaw was expert in driving and gave this Company every satisfaction during the period of his service there, was admittedly granted to him on 5th November 1955 by one of the proprietors of this Company. This has been produced and proved as Ext. 1 in this case. Had Shri Raghunath Shaw been really discharged or dismissed by the Company, such a certificate could not have been granted to him by one of the partners a few days after his alleged discharge. From the issue of this certificate, the conclusion can legitimately be drawn that Shri Raghunath Shaw himself threw up the job under this Company, and wanted to try his luck elsewhere, where there were betted prospects for him, and that with this object, he obtained the certificate in question from one of the partners of the Company on 5th November 1955. Taking a comprehensive view of the evidence and probabilities, I have not an iota of doubt that the Company did not terminate the services of the employee concerned, but he had himself resigned. Such a case is beyond the bounds of the Industrial Disputes Act. In view of the above finding, the employee concerned has no grievance, for which the Tribunal may be called upon to grant relief.

2. After usual notices the parties entered appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 3rd February 1956. The parties were thereafter directed to file their lists of documents. The dispute was heard on 10th July 1956.

3. The matter of dispute as stated in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows :—

If the closure of the factory was justified. To what relief including monetary compensation the workers were entitled as a result?

DECISION

Messrs. Hiralal Shaw & Co. (hereinafter called the employer) owns several cargo boats and carries on business of transport by boats. The employer has a workshop at 4/5 Ashutosh Mukherji Road, Belur, Howrah. There the employer maintains a small establishment to effect running repairs. The repair is done wtihout the aid of the power or machinery but by hands. According to the employer it had in its employment at the relevant time 17 workmen while according to the written statement as filed on behalf of the workmen, the number of workmen in the employ was 39. It is, however, agreed that workmen were all daily-rated workmen. Besides them, casual workers were and are employed from time to time according to necessity through contractors.

Admittedly there was and is no registered Union for the workmen employed in the workshop. One Shri Ram chandra Singh of 75 Joyabibi Road, claiming to be the Secretary of an unregistered Union of the workmen, raised a dispute over reduction of wages of two workers and moved the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, for intervention by a letter, dated 17th May 1955. Thereupon the Assistant Labour Commissioner called a conference on 18th May 1955 and on 6th June 1955 but without any response from the employer [Exts. 1 and 1(a)]. Subsequently, Shri Ram Chandra Singh claiming that more than 20 workmen were employed in the workshop and as such the workshop constituted a factory, moved the Factory Inspector for prosecution of the employer on the ground that the workshop was not registered as such. Eventually a prosecution was launched but it ended in acquittal of the employer (Ext. D).

In the meanwhile the employer closed the workshop from 24th June 1955. On such closure aforesaid Shri Ramchandra Singh again moved the Labour Directorate for intervention. The employer having been asked for comments denied liability [Ext. 1(e)]. Thus as conciliation failed, the Government made the reference under adjudication.

It was urged on behalf of the workmen that the closure was unjustified and that the workmen were accordingly entitled to full wages during the period of closure from 24th June 1955 to 24th September 1955. The employer, on the other hand, contended that the closure was forced upon it, the workmen having struck work from 24th June 1955. It was further said that there was subsequently a settlement between the employer on the one hand and the workmen on the other hand whereunder workmen among others agreed to accept at the rate of Rs. 20 per month during the period of three months the workshop remained closed. It was further said that when the workshop was reopened on and from 25th September 1955, the workmen were each paid the said compensation of Rs. 60, for the period of the closure, and that they were entitled to no further compensation or relief.

In support of the claim as laid on behalf of the workmen, none of the four representatives named in the order of reference, namely, Sheikh Osman, Budhu Ahir, Mazid Mistry and Kapil Deo Ram, nor any workman deposed before the Tribunal. The employer, on the other hand, has examined his officer D.W. 1 Shri Benoy Kumar Paul serving in the workshop, besides proving documents (Exts. A to D). The evidence on the side of the employer thus remains unrebutted.

From the said evidence it appears that the closure was forced upon the employer, the workmen having refused to work. It further appears that subsequently there was a settlement between the employer and the workmen (Ext. A), whereunder the workshop was reopened on and from 25th September 1955 when all the workmen including the aforesaid four representatives, viz., Sheikh Osman, Budhu Ahir, Mazid Mistry and Kapil Deo Ram and others in the employ just before the closure, resumed duty except one who did not, however, turn up for duty. Under the settlement the workmen agreed to accept compensation at the rate of Rs. 20 per month for the period of closure of three months and on their resuming duty, the evidence shows that they each received the said compensation of Rs. 60, for the period of closure. I have had nothing to discard the agreement which is Exhibit A. The representatives of the workmen as named in the order of reference who were parties to the said agreement, have not come forward to disown it. The positive evidence, on the other hand, shows and it is also not disputed that all the said four representatives have been working in the workshop since it was reopened on 25th September 1955. In the circumstances, I agree that no further monetary compensation should be given to the workmen. I, however, direct that service of the workmen, who resumed duty, would not be affected by the closure and should be treated as continuous. It is awarded accordingly.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, THIRD FLOOR, CALCUTTA

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. C. Bose, Pleader.

For the Union: Shri M. A. Latif, Vice-President of the Union.

The Government of West Bengal, by its order No. 808Dis./D/11L-422/55, dated Calcutta, the 28th February 1956, has referred for adjudication an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. W. R. Hildreth & Co., and their employees mentioned in the schedule to the order of reference.

The points for determination are as follows:—

(1) Whether the retrenchment of (i) Ramadhar Thakur, (ii) Akkal Singh, (iii) Ram Borai, (iv) Md. Yusuf, (v) Kalipada, (vi) Nayan and (vii) Tushar Kanti Ghosh, is justified? What relief are they entitled to?

(2) Whether the dismissal of (i) Chand Gobin and (ii) Subhanga, is justified? What relief are they entitled to?

The Union's written statement found fault with the Company for having retrench seven workmen by notice, dated 28th February 1955. According to the Union the retrenchment effected was unwarranted and was further vitiated by reason of non-compliance with the law which lays down that seniority rights must be safeguarded and juniormost employees have to make their exit first. Regarding the second issue the Union's case is that there was no reasonable ground at all for refusal by the Company to allot duties to the two workmen from the 30th of March 1955. Those two employees are entitled to reinstatement with full compensation for the period of unemployment.

The Company in its rejoinder expounded the case that it had lost the petronage of an important customer from whom the business was deriving handsome profits. The loss in business was such that the staff of the department concerned with the business had to be reduced. The management had its hand forced and had no other alternative but to effect retrenchment. As the step was taken under stress of circumstances over which the management had no control it tried its level best to provide the retrenched workmen with employment elsewhere. In fact one of the men retrenched has been given employment through the intervention of Mr. Hildreth, the Proprietor of the concern. Retrenchment was made on bona fide ground and not in pursuance of any ulterior object.

Chand Gobin and Subhanga were guilty of misconduct in so far as they were involved in starting a lorry belonging to the Company and moving it out of its place in the absence of the licensed driver. They were warned but the employees did not take the warning in the right spirit. They became defiant and questioned the right of the Proprietor to give them any warning. They intentionally absented themselves and quitted the job. No order of dismissal was passed by the Proprietor.

Issue No. 1.—The Glaxo Laboratories used to get their booking and despatching work done by this Company. In the month of January 1955, Glaxo Laboratories decided to withdraw the work hitherto performed by the Company. The letters Exts. A(1) and A(2), dated the 22nd January 1955, and 11th February, respectively, bear upon this point. According to Mr. Hildreth the loss suffered by him on the termination of the contract by the Glaxo Laboratories amounted to approximately Rs. 3,000 per month. It is not the Union's case that the business had suffered no loss. In paragraph 3 of the written statement of the Union the statement appears that services of seven workmen were terminated on the "dubious allegation" that they had lost the patronage of a client. Properly construed this means that the Union was doubtful about the truth of the allegation that the Company had lost custom. In paragraph 5 of the written statement there is no doubt that the termination of service was not caused by reason of trade necessity. But the fact remains that the services of this concern were no longer required by the Glaxo Laboratories. It goes without saying, that some loss was caused by the withdrawal of the commission. The statement Ext. C., prepared from the accounts produced before the Tribunal for verification, shows that the business was on the down grade. Ram Adhar Thakur, P. W. 1, admitted that the Glaxo Laboratories had withdrawn their patronage and the Company was not given any work to be done by them. The witness further admitted that when Mr. Hildreth went home last in 1955, he called the workers and exhorted them to work to the peak of their capacity. On his return from home he told the workers again that unless they stretched themselves to the utmost and worked strenuously he would have no other alternative but to close the business. Unless the business had struck a bad patch, the Proprietor could have no occasion to go out of his way to address the workers in this strain. The testimony of this witness therefore lends countenance to the case of the Company that the business had suffered to a large extent and the prospects were bleak. In the face of these facts the Tribunal must hold that the retrenchment was made for bona fide trade reasons. Ram Adhar admitted that he was on cordial terms with the management. The Proprietor bore the workers no ill will. Since admittedly relation were friendly no suggestion can be made that retrenchment was decided upon as a measure of punishment or in pursuance of extraneous aims. The Company has proved that retrenchment was necessary because of loss of business and the Union witness had admitted that relations between the employer and the employed were peaceful and friendly. Against this background there is no scope for argument that retrenchment was mala fide. The Union's contention that after the retrenchment the Company engaged the services of fresh hands carries no weight in view of Mr. Hidreth's evidence that according to exigencies of business only labourers (coolies) are engaged from time to time as before. There has been no addition to the staff. The Tribunal has supervisory jurisdiction and cannot arrogate to itself the right to sit as a court of appeal against the decision of the management. Its supervision is confined to find out whether the employer is acting bona fide and whether he has reasonable ground for wanting to pass the order or taking the action impugned. In this case the Tribunal is satisfied that the management acted bona fide and had reasonable ground for reducing its staff. The employer, it has been held, is prima facie the best judge to determine the strength of his labour force and when he acts bona fide and without any other ulterior motive, he has the right to retrench a number of workmen which he considers to be surplus. Applying this principle to the present case I hold that the retrenchment was fully justified.

The Union raised a point that the principle of "last come, first go" was not observed. Ram Adhar Thakur stated generally that there are cooly sarders still in service junior to him. The Union did not however supply specific particulars and data. No suggestion was given in course of cross-examination of Mr. Hildreth's naming particular employees who were retained in service though judged by the test of seniority they would have to leave. In the absence of positive evidenve the Tribunal is unable to hold that the principle aforesaid was actually violated. In the result it is held that the retrenched people are entitled to relief as provided in 25(f) of the Industrial Disputes Act. There was a dispute as to the length of service. Ram Adhar Thakur is supposed to have been in service since 1933. Mr. Hildreth deposed that records and registers are not preserved for more than 3 years. He was not therefore in a position to state that dates of appointment of these employees. The length of service cannot hence be determined accurately. We have to follow a rough and ready method. According Ram Adhar Thakur, he joined in 1933 as a cooly in the soap godown of Lever Brothers. This Company had obtained a contract from Lever Brothers. In 1942 he was transferred to the lorry department of this Company, and in 1943 he was made a cooly sarder. Mr. Hildreth stated that Ram Adhar Thakur entered service in this Company in 1942. From December 1940 or 1941 to April 1946, Mr. Hildreth was, on his own showing, not on the spot, being in military service during the period. It was urged on behalf of the union that his evidence regarding the commencement of Ram Adhar's service is hence unworthy of credit. From the evidence of Mr. Hildreth we find so far that Ram Adhar was not in service when he joined the military. I think Ram Adhar came on the staff of this Company in 1942 when according to his statement he was transferred to the lorry department. In calculating retrenchment relief Ram Adhar Thakur must be treated as in service from May 1952 as according to the Union his service had commenced in the month of May (vide Ext. 1). With regard to the other employees the management did not challenge the Union version regarding the date of commencement of service. Retrenchment relief is to be calculated treating the time of appointment stated in Ext. 1 to be correct in so far as the other six employees are concerned. The retrenched employees will also recover one month's wages as notice pay. Payment must be made within 15 days from the date of the publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

Issue No. 2.—The issue as framed assumes that Chand Gobin and Subhanga were dismissed. The Union's case however in paragraph 10 of the written statement is that no notice was issued by the Company terminating the services of these two employees. What the Company did was to refuse to assign them any duties from 30th of March 1955. From the evidence it is established that these two men were charged with misconduct in connexion with an incident happening on the 12th of March 1955. Ext. 1(b) is a letter addressed to Chand Gobin in which the circumstances have been described. In the absence of the driver of a lorry belonging to the Company which was standing at No. 2 Calcutta Jetty Subhanga had got into the driving seat, starting the engine he had backed the lorry at a high speed. He had no driving licence. Suinan and Chand Gobin, two coolies were in the same lorry. The driver of another lorry protested against these people moving the lorry in this way. Thereupon Subhanga and Chand Gobin had shouted to him that he had no authority to say anything, the lorry not having been entrusted to his care. Chand Gobin and Subhanga were warned that similar conduct in future would be visited with drastic punishment in the form of dismissal. It may be stated in passing that Suinan had thrown himself at the mercy of the Company and secured pardon. Chand Gobin and Subhanga took an intransigent attitude and approached the Union. According to Mr. Hildreth they stopped attending to their duties after the 30th of March. He had not seen their hide or hair after that day. The Union's case on the other hand is that they were dismissed on 5th of April by the letter Ext. 1(g). Ext. 1(c) is a letter of explanation addressed by Chand Gobin and Subhanga to Mr. Hildreth in which they stated that they had to move the lorry to make room for two carts to pass. In his evidence before the Tribunal Subhanga categorically denied the happening of any incident on the 12th of March. He was not prepared even to acknowledge the facts alleged in Ext. 1(c). Be that as it may, they indulged in some correspondences with the Proprietor regarding this matter. The Proprietor had warned them to be careful in future. No action was taken for the incident of the 12th. It is unfortunate that the workers did not accept the warning in a becoming spirit but sought the assistance of the Union to provoke a conflict creating bitterness. It seems these two workers having been taken under the wings of the Union felt that they were well protected and might tilt against the management. In the letter Ext. 1(g) Mr. Hildreth stated that he had not seen Chand Gobin at office or at the garage for about a week. Subhanga in his evidence stated that he had been to his place of work throughout the whole month of March 1955, but did not get any work. He did not say that he had attended in April. According to Mr. Hildreth these two employees had disappeared after 30th of March. The evidence given by Subhanga does not militate against Mr. Hildreth's testimony. Balancing the evidence given by the Union and the Proprietor, I find that Mr. Hildreth's evidence is entitled to greater weight. My conclusion therefore is that these two workers had of their own accord ceased to attend their duty and had by their own conduct thrown up their job. Their services were not terminated by the Proprietor. No question of relief can hence arise.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Calcutta Dyeing & Cleaning Co., 38 Wellington Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by laundry Workers' Union, 52 Doctor Lane, Calcutta-14 (case No. VIII-221 of 1955.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL. NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, THIRD FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri N. K. Mookherjee, Advocate, instructed by Shri D. M. Lahiri, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak, assisted by Shri Dilip Kumar Das, Secretary of the Union.

This reference made by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 3379Dis./D/11L-265/55, dated Calcutta, the 26th July 1955, relates mainly to the terms and conditions of service of the employees serving under the Calcutta Dyeing & Cleaning Co.

The issues formulated in the order of reference are as follows:—

(1) Grades and scales.

(2) Dearness allowance.

(3) Working hours.

(4) Leave and holidays.

(5) Confirmation of service.

(6) Gratuity and Provident Fund.

(7) Increment.

(8) Bonus for 1954.

(9) Whether refusal of employment to Shri Chhediram was justified? To what relief is he entitled?

The Union representing the workmen submitted a charter of demands dated the 18th of August 1953. A revised charter of demands was submitted on the 31st of May 1954.

With regard to one employee, viz., Chhediram the Union's grievance is that his application for leave was turned down by the management in the first instance but ultimately the management was forced to grant leave for a month from 1st to 30th of June 1954. When he returned from leave on the 1st of July, he was precluded from resuming his duties. All efforts to persuade the management to provide him with work came to naught. Besides the reliefs concerning the conditions of service the Union wants Chhediram to be reinstated with consequential reliefs.

The Company in its reply challenged the soundness and propriety of the claims made by the Union in regard to conditions of service. It maintained that the business had suffered a landslide owing to the growth of laundry business on a large scale and competition growing keener and keener. Labour charges had gone up and profits had gone down. Wages paid to the staff were higher than the wages paid in similar establishments in the neighbourhood.

In regard to Chhediram the Company's case is that before proceeding on leave he had washed a shirt and panjabi belonging to an outsider with the washing materials of the Company. These were kept in the custody of the Manager and on Chhediram's return he was charge-sheeted for misconduct on account of unauthorised washing of those garments. When the charge-sheet was tendered to him Chhediram refused to accept the charge-sheet and left the premises of the Company. He did not return to attend his duties. The Company was satisfied that this employee was guilty of misconduct and placed him under suspension.

Issue Nos. 1, 2 and 7.—Grades and scales, dearness allowance, and increment.—These three points may be considered jointly. The Company's contention was that after the partition of Bengal when there was large influx of immigrant population from East Pakistan, dyeing and cleaning establishments had sprung up like fungus from rotten wood. Competition was very keen. Necessarily the existing establishments suffered loss of income. The exiting scales of pay are eminently fair and should not be enhanced at this stage.

It must be conceded that there was a steady growth of laundry establishments with the result that income has been affected. That is however no reason why the employees should be left in a state of uncertainty as to their prospects so far as their emoluments are concerned. It does not appear that the Company grants any increments. The employees must not be left guessing as to their fate. In the circumstances it is expedient that scales of pay of the different categories of workers should be fixed. In the recent past I had occasion to consider and determine the scale of wages of a sister concern, viz., British India Cleaners. The award made was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated April 12, 1956. The present concern stands almost on the same plane as the British India Cleaners. The only noticeable difference is that British India Cleaners have got boiler and dry cleaning machine. The Calcutta Dyeing and Cleaning Co. are without these paraphernalia. The Union produced a chart Ext. 3(a) showing wages drawn by different categories of workmen in some other dyeing and cleaning establishments. This chart and the earlier award will provide helpful guidance in fixing the scale of wages. In the revised charter of demands Ext. 1(a) the Union claims wages for boys, coolies, peons, durwans, and chulli lighter to be fixed at Rs. 40—1—60. The Calcutta Dyeing & Cleaning Co has been paying Rs. 20 as basic pay and Rs. 25 as dearness allowance at a flat rate to these classes of workers. The minimum is thus Rs. 45 and the maximum is Rs. 23 as basic pay plus Rs. 25 as dearness allowance making a total of Rs. 48. According to the chart Ext. 3(a) the Shanghai Company pays a consolidated sum of Rs. 50 to 60. British India Cleaners used to pay Rs. 50. By the award the pay of menials was fixed at Rs. 40—1—60. As the Union demand agrees with the scale determined in the earlier award the same is accepted so far as these workers are concerned. It is unnecessary to treat basic pay and dearness allowance separately. Dearness allowance will remain merged in the pay thus settled.

In the Union chart Rs. 50—3—80 has been claimed for van-man and tailors. No such categories can be traced in the chart Ext. 3(a). In Ext. 3 it is stated that the tailor drawn Rs. 45 per month, Rs. 20 being basic pay and Rs. 25 as dearness allowance. Though Noor Muhammed is described as darji (tailor) his duty actually is to do needle work for repairing torn, linings, etc. I fix the scale for darji at 45—1—60.

The minimum pay for washerman is Rs. 50 and the maximum is Rs. 64. The Union claims Rs. 50—1-8—65—E.B.—2-8—90. Following the earlier award I fix the scale for washerman at Rs. 50—2—60—E.B.—2-8—80.

Ironers are getting minimum pay of Rs. 49 and maximum Rs. 84. The Union's demand is that wages should be on the scale of Rs. 50—2—70—3—100. As the scale is less than what was granted in the earlier award I give effect to the Union demand and fix the wages as claimed.

In the Union chart Ext. 3(a) there are workers designated menders. In Ext. 3 one Jan Mohammed is described as mender, who is paid Rs. 2-12 per diem. I fix the scale for menders at Rs. 60—2—90.

In Ext. 3 the pay of the dyers is shown as Rs. 125. In Ext. 3(a) none designated dyer finds place. The scale expected by the Union is Rs. 70—3—100—E.B.—5—150. Dyers' scale is fixed at Rs. 70—3—100—E.B.—5—150.

Clerks and assistants are paid minimum wages of Rs. 60 and maximum Rs. 120. The Union claims on the scale of Rs. 75—4—115—E.B.—7—185. In Ext. 3(a) the wages paid by two concerns only been stated. The British India Cleaners used to pay minimum wages of Rs. 80 and maximum Rs. 140. By the award the scale was fixed at Rs. 80 to Rs. 175. In this case the Union having claimed Rs. 75 as the minimum the same is accepted and the scale is fixed at Rs. 75—4—115—E.B.—6—175. The learned Union representative had pressed for dearness allowance being kept separate. No useful purpose would be served by allocating a part of the wages towards the claim for dearness allowance. All the other concerns mentioned in Ext. 3(a) pay consolidated wages. In the case of British India Cleaners also the wages are consolidated. No difficulty or inconvenience will be caused if the same pattern is followed in this case.

Issue No. 3.—Working hours.—Working hours in the workshop which is subject to the Factories Act will necessarily remain 48 hours a week. In the shops the period of work will not be more than 56 hours a week.

On behalf of the workers a plea was put forward that half-holiday should be observed on Saturdays. The management will in consultation with the Union so adjust the hours of work during the week so that the workers may be off duty at 3 p.m. on Saturdays.

Issue No. 4.—Leave and holidays.—The shop employees will enjoy leave in accordance with section 12 of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940.

The employees in the workshop will have annual leave, as prescribed under section 79 of the Factories Act. They will also get 7 days' sick leave on full pay in a year on medical certificate granted by a registered doctor so long as they are not entitled to sick leave in accordance with the Employees State Insurance Act. The workshop employees will also get 5 days' casual leave in a year on full pay.

The Company grants 5 days to all employees and 3 additional days to Muslim employees as holidays in a year. In my view no distinction should be made and all members of the staff should be allowed to enjoy holidays in the same way. I think the number of holidays is rather small. They should have 10 holidays as in the earlier award with full pay in connection with the festivals mentioned below:—

Republic day—One day.

Dol Jatra—One day.

First Baisak—One day.

Id-il-Fitr—One day.

Independence day—One day.

Muharram—One day.

Durga pujah Bijaya day—One day.

Kali pujah day—One day.

Viswakarma pujah—One day.

Iduz-Zuha—One day.

Issue No. 5.—Confirmation of service.—Confirmation would follow after a six months' apprenticeship on service being approved.

Issue No. 6.—Gratuity and Provident Fund.—Gratuity and Provident Fund are long-term reliefs: which appear inappropriate in a case of the present description. This is not a big scale business. Its future depends on uncertain factors. The reliefs already granted will put some strain upon the business. Any further strain will be too heavy to bear. I decline therefore to make any provision for gratuity or Provident Fund.

Issue No. 8.—Bonus for 1954.—The Company has not produced its account book evidence has been produced as to its financial position and the profits earned in 1954. The Assistant Manager was unable to say anything about the financial position. The Union's case is that the business was so conducted in 1954 that there was comfortable margin, remains uncontradicted. The learned Advocate for the Company suggested that 16 days' wages might be paid as bonus for 1954. Since the Company has withheld its accounts and has thereby shut out the Tribunal from making an accurate estimate, there is no reason why the Union claim should not be granted in its entirety. Wages equivalent to one month's pay are allowed to the employees as bonus for 1954 which must be paid within 15 days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

Issue No. 9.—Whether refusal of employment to Shri Chhediram was justified? To what relief is he entitled?—Chhediram had applied for leave which was refused. Not satisfied with the order rejecting his leave Chhediram moved the Assistant Labour Commissioner and Chief Inspector of Factories. The Company was ultimately compelled to grant leave for a month. After he had left it came to the notice of the Company that a shirt and a panjabi belonging to an outsider were washed and ironed by Chhediram on the factory premises with factory materials. Chhediram had left instructions with his cousin Ramlekha to hand over the shirt and panjabi to the owner. The washed articles could not however be taken out of the factory and were kept detained by the Manager. On his return from leave Chhediram was tendered a charge-sheet for misconduct on the ground that he had washed these articles with the Company's materials. Chhediram's case is that he was not allowed to resume his duties and the Company's case is that being offered the charge-sheet Chhediram bridled up and left the factory in a fit of temper. He did not return to report for duty. There was some controversy as to the ownership of the shirt and panjabi. Chhedi's case is that the shirt and panjabi belong to his brother-in-law Dewan Dhobi, an ex-employee of this Company. They were washed and ironed and kept in Chhedi's box awaiting return. When he went home he instructed Ramlekha to make them over to Dewan Ram. The Company's case is that these garments belong to one Mathuram of Bagmari Road. Chhediram had voluntarily offered to have them washed in the Company's factory and had actually done so. Later Mathuraram claimed these articles as his own. It is immaterial to whom the shirt and panjabi belonged. The crucial point is whether the washing was an act of such misconduct as would justify refusal to give work to the employee. The issue as framed takes it for granted that Chhediram as refused employment. The Tribunal is to take the issue as framed and give its decision whether the refusal was justified. The Company admits having placed Chhediram under suspension. Chhediram stated that during off hours the employees can wash their clothes with their own materials and iron them. The Company could not produce any evidence that the Company's materials were used by Chhediram. As the employees were free to wash their clothes, no fault can be found for Chhediram undertaking the washing of the shirt and panjabi so long it is not established that he had used washing materials belonging to the Company. As observed above evidence is lacking on this score. Chhediram had applied for leave but his prayer was refused by the Company in the first instance. He did not take the refusal lying down. Ultimately the Company was forced to concede his prayer. His attitude in thus challenging the authority of the management and succeeding in securing a victory over them may have flicked the authorities in the raw. This probably accounts for the action against him. In the circumstances I must hold that the Company was not justified in refusing to give employment to Chhediram. Chhediram must be deemed to be in service all the time and will get his wages for the whole period. Half the wages must be paid within 15 days of publication of the award and the other half within 15 days thereafter.

The scales of pay fixed by the award will become operative from the first day of the month following its publication in the Calcutta Gazette. Any employee drawing pay which is intermediate between two stages in any scale will be placed at the stage just above the present pay. Increment will be earned on completion of one year's continuous service from the date the scales come into force.

ORDER

No. 3377Dis./D/11L-73/56.—3rd August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 6056Dis./D/11L-432/55, dated the 22nd December 1955, read with its corrigendum No. 2262Dis./D/11L-432/55, dated the 28th May 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. S. S. Kapur and Md. Zakaria, Proprietors, Kashmir Restaurant, 23 Wellesley Street, Calcutta, and their workers represented by Calcutta Hotel Bar and Restaurant Employees' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIVof 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. S. S. Kapur and Md. Zakaria, Proprietors, Kashmir Restaurant, 23 Wellesley Street, Calcutta, and their workers represented by Calcutta Hotel Bar and Restaurant Employees' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12 (case No. VIII—392 of 1955).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, THIRD FLOOR, CALCUTTA

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Kashmir Restaurant: S. S. Kapur, Proprietor.

For the Union: Shri Sunil Dhar, Vice-President, assisted by Shri Ganga Prosad Singh, Assistant Secretary.

This reference was made by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 6056Dis./D/11L-432/55, dated 22nd December 1955, and subsequent corrigendum No. 2262Dis./D/11L-432/55, dated Calcutta, the 28th May 1956, for adjudication of disputes existing between Messrs. S. S. Kapur and Md. Zakaria, Proprietors, Kashmir Restaurant, and their employees.

The points for adjudication have been formulated in the order of reference in the following terms:—

(1) Pay and allowances.

(2) Daily hours of work and overtime.

(3) Leave and holidays.

(4) Bonus.

(5) Retiring benefits.

(6) Whether the management was justified in dismissing the following workers:—

(a) Md. Osman.
(b) Mansur.
(c) Noor Nabi.
(d) Salim.
(e) Yusuf.
(f) Jabbar.
(g) Shankar.
(h) Abdul.
(i) Noor Amin.
(j) Dilip.
(k) Nancow Ram.
(l) Riyaz.

Written statement was filed by the Union on behalf of the Union first on 25th January 1956. In this written statement the Union submitted that a charter of demands was presented to Proprietors on 6th September 1955, but the Proprietors treated the same with scant courtesy. Nothing was done to give relief as desired by the employees. Thereafter the employees banded themselves together and formed a Union. Charter of demands was again presented with no better results. The Labour Department was moved but efforts at conciliation having proved infructuous reference was made to this Tribunal. In the written statement filed subsequently on 20th June 1956, the Union dealt with the issue subsequently added. According to the employees Md. Osman and his mate Yusuf were dismissed on 9th December 1955 without any reason. All the remaining employees were dismissed on 10th December 1955. The Proprietors resorted to these drastic measures simply because the employees had the temerity to form the Union. They claim reinstatement and compensation.

The Proprietors in the original written statement submitted on 13th March 1956, alleged that the employees were being handsomely remunerated. Besides wages, they were provided with meals worth about Rs. 50 per month and each of them used to get anna 1 to annas 4 for pan and biri. Fixation of grade was objected to as the business was still in its infancy and had to pass through hard times. It was also stated that out of 24 workers 14 quitted service without any notice after receiving their wages on the 4th of December 1955. In the additional written statement the Proprietors stated that on desertion by this group of workers a notice was put up on the Notice Board but none of them came back to resume their duties. This was not an incident of dismissal by the Maliks.

Issue No. 1.—Annexure A to the Union's written statement marked Ext. 3 is a statement of the designation of the workers, period of service, and monthly wages. This was admitted to be correct more or less. The Proprietors' case is that the restaurant was started five years back. It has still to fight its way to an assured position. The period of service recorded in Ext. 3 lends support to the Proprietors' version that the restaurant is in existence for a period of five years. The boy Nasir had put in 5 years' service. All the rest served for 3 years or less. None of the employees had to their credit service exceeding five years. I am therefore persuaded that the restaurant is in being for a span of five years. The Union has claimed that pay and allowances should be fixed with a minimum of Rs. 40 for certain categories, Rs. 50 for some other categories and Rs. 55 to Rs. 75 for the remaining categories of workers. The maximum as claimed ranges from Rs. 110 to Rs. 150. This will appear in Annexure C to the written statement. In my view a business of this type would be ruined if pay and allowances are settled as suggested by the Union. The prosperity and even continued existence of such a business is extremely uncertain. One cannot predict that it will have a successful career or grow from strength to strength as years roll by. The wages paid in cash and kind do not make a poor show. According to the evidence of O.P.W. 1 all the employees used to be provided with morning tea with haluah and puri, and at 10 a.m. with two pieces of roti, one plate of dal and a cup of tea. The mid-day meal supplied to them consisted of rice or atta and dal cooked with meat. At night they were supplied with roti and vegetables. As per evidence of O.P.W. 1, the foodstuff supplied to the employees were worth Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-8 per diem. Over and above this they used to get 1 anna to 4 annas for pan and biri. The Proprietors in the written statement assessed the value of the meals at Rs. 50 per month. The total emoluments in cash and kind taken together are nothing to sneeze at. No evidence was adduced that the wages paid in other establishments of like nature are more favourable. I am not therefore impressed that the Tribunal should interfere to disturb the existing pay and allowance.

The learned gentleman appearing to press the case of the employees suggested that the tiffin and meals may be discontinued and cash payment of Rs. 50 might be made to supplement the cash wages. The suggestion is quite fair. It is hence directed that those employees who are so inclined may receive Rs. 50 in cash in lieu of tiffin and meals. Application must be made in writing to the Proprietors within 15 days' from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

Issue No. 2.—The hours of work as prescribed by section 10 of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, will be observed in this establishment.

Issue No. 3.—The holidays and leave will be enjoyed as provided in sections 9 and 12 of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act.

Issue No. 4.—The claim of the Union was that bonus should be made payable at Idd and Pujah time. It is not the Union's case that bonus is due as a condition of service. As there is no contract for payment of bonus and the present claim is not for profit bonus, this claim must be turned down.

Issue No. 5.—For an establishment of this description no retiring benefits can be provided.

Issue No. 6.—The Union's case is that after the formation of the Union the Proprietors started a regime of persecution. Those employees who were the moving spirits were spotted and earmarked for victimisation. On the 9th of December 1955, Usman and Yusuf were suddenly dismissed. According to paragraph 11 of the second written statement of the Union all the remaining employees were dismissed on 10th December 1955. In course of hearing it appeared that a section of employees remained loyal and continued working in the restaurant. It is not correct that all the employees were dismissed. It is quite clear that the Union indulged in exaggeration to some extent. As pointed out just now all the employees were not turned out. In his evidence before the Tribunal Md. Osman stated that he was threatened with assault by Lalaji. Nothing of the kind appears in the written statement. On the other hand, in paragraph 7, Mansoor is said to have been severely beaten by the cashier. Since the Union has departed in some measure from the truth, the case presented by it must be subjected to careful scrutiny. The case of the other party is that on the 4th of December, wages were paid and accepted by all the employees. From the next day 12 employees mentioned in the schedule to the order of reference, absented themselves from duty without notice. Srijut Kapoor put up a notice in the Notice Board re-calling them to join within three days but the deserters did not come back. One boy was appointed on the 7th of December and thereafter other appointments were made to fill up the vacancies caused by these people throwing up their job. On the other hand, the case of the employees is that they were dismissed on the 9th and 10th of December. The Proprietors' case is that they had voluntarily relinquished their job. The suggestion made on behalf of the Union was that the Proprietors wanted to get rid of these members of the establishment who were engaged in carrying on agitation for better service conditions. It will appear that several of those employees who signed Ext. 1(b) are still in service. Among the persons alleged to have been dismissed are some who did not affix their signatures to the appeal forwarded to the Labour Commissioner. It is not hence correct that the wrath of the Proprietors had fallen upon the heads of the employees engaged in the agitation. The evidence is meagre but I am led to hold that the Proprietors' case that the employees had suddenly quitted service reflects the correct picture. It was probably expected that by shock tactics the Proprietors could be brought down to their knees and the employees might get their demands granted. So many workers going out at a time, the management was likely to be seriously embarrassed. Probably the employees felt in that state of predicament the Proprietors would climb down and meet them at least half way but they had miscalculated. Considering the circumstances and probabilities I have reached the conclusion that the employees mentioned in the schedule to the order of reference were not dismissd by the Proprietors but they had left of their own accord.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, dated 7th April 1954, order No. 2329/Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 6th May 1954, order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated 12th July 1954, order No. 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 21st July 1954, and order No. 4130Dis/D/7L-47/54, dated 26th August 1954, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 5th November 1955 Sumaru Das, a workman of the Company, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act stating as follows:

The petitioner presented himself in the Mills on 19th August 1955 for usual duty and after some hours of work was called by the Manager himself in the Mill office and was beaten severely there and was stopped from joining the work. Since then the opposite party Company has kept the petitioner out of work. The petitioner is an active member of the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union and is a leader of the workmen of the Mill. The petitioner, therefore, prays for an award directing the opposite party Company to reinstate him with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment.

The Bhuturia Jute Mill, being the opposite party Company, in its written statement, states as follows:

The petition is not maintainable in law and fact inasmuch as the Company already filed a petition under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act before the Tribunal on 18th October 1955. The facts relating to the misconduct of this workman have been stated in detail in the above petition. The workman has been in the employ of the above Jute Mill and his services were not at all satisfactory. This workman was working in A shift at the relevant time and as there was a shortage of roller winder, female workers were recruited to work in the A shift, for which reason it was necessary in the interest of administration to transfer the applicant to B shift and the said order of transfer was verbally and in writing communicated to him by a letter, dated 6th June 1955. The workman refused to work in the B shift and kept away from the Mill from 3rd June 1955, but later on falsely represented to the Labour Commissioner that he had been discharged from the services of the Jute Mills. He was allowed to join on the recommendation of the Labour Commissioner and the Manager excused him for his previous absence as also for refusal to work in the B shift. Thereafter this workman did not improve his conduct and was a disturbing element in the factory and as such, he had been warned on 23rd July 1955 and 29th July 1955 for very slow production and bad workmanship. On 30th August 1955 this worker was found neglecting his work and was found raising subscription inside the Mills premises in course of which, he threatened some female workers and when questioned by the overseer to stop raising subscription, he flared up and misbehaved with the supervisor and also threatened Janaki, another worker of the Mill. A charge-sheet was framed against him and he offered his explanation denying the charge, whereupon the Management thought it necessary to hold an enquiry, for which two notices were issued to him by registered post with A/D, but he refused to accept such notices. After due enquiry, the Management was convinced that this worker was in the habit of threatening other workers, negligent and insubordinate and the charges framed against him were proved. The Management decided that he should be dismissed from service, and as such an application was made before the Tribunal under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act for permission to dismiss the man. The present petition made by the workman is clearly an after-thought and has been made as the Tribunal had become functus officio and was incompetent to decide any further issue and pass orders under section 33 of the Act. The petition is not maintainable and the Tribunal would uphold the orders of suspension by the Management and reject this petition of the worker and pass an order of dismissal.

On the date of hearing on 16th July 1956, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise, a copy whereof appears as Appendix A to this award. Persued the terms of the compromise petition and it appears to me that they are reasonable and should be accepted. The compromise petition is accepted and I award accordingly. The compromise petition in Appendix A shall form a part of this award.

M. C. BANERJI,
Chairman.

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Sumaru Das in connection with Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, order No. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referring certain industrial disputes between 101 Jute Mills in West Bengal including Bhuturia Jute Mills and their workmen (case No. 165 of 1955 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE JUTE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman.

For the Complainant: Shri Kali Chakrabarty.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, dated 7th April 1954, order No. 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 6th May 1954, order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated 12th July 1954, order No. 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 21st July 1954, and order No. 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 26th August 1954, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 12th July 1955 Sumaru Das, a workman of the Company, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as follows:

On 28th April 1955 the petitioner sustained an injury rendering him incapable of work for a time. The petitioner went to join his duties with a fit certificate from the Medical Officer on 26th May 1955, but was refused work since then. The petitioner, therefore, prays for reinstatement with full compensation for the period of unemployment.

The Bhuturia Jute Mills, being the Company opposite party, states in its written statement as follows:

The opposite party Company has no knowledge that on 28th October 1954 the petitioner sustained injury or that he had been under the treatment of a doctor, as alleged. It is not true that the petitioner went to join his duties with a fit certificate on 26th May 1955 and that he was not allowed to join on that date. The fact is that the worker absented himself from the factory without any reason and without any leave from November 1954. Thereafter he came up in the first week of July 1955 and preferred an industrial dispute before the Labour Commissioner, and the matter had been settled by an agreement, which will show that he reported himself for duty on 18th July 1955. The matter rested there and there was no further dispute between the parties.

On the date of hearing on 16th July 1956, the petitioner filed an application stating that the dispute had been settled out of court, and that the petitioner did not desire to proceed with this application any further. The petitioner prayed that the application might be treated as withdrawn and not pressed and finally disposed of. This petition appears as Appendix A to this award. It is, therefore, awarded that the complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act stands withdrawn.

M. C. BANERJI,
Chairman.

ORDER

No. 3301Dis./D/11L-39/56.—30th July 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1255Dis/D/11L-39/56, dated the 23rd March 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Brahmachari Research Institute, 82/3 Cornwallis Street, Calcutta-4, and their employees represented by Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity, C/o S. Bhattacharjee, 43 Manicktolla Main Road, Calcutta-11, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Brahmachari Research Institute, 82/3 Cornwallis Street, Calcutta-4, and their employees represented by Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity, C/o S. Bhattacharjee, 43 Manicktolla Main Road, Calcutta-11.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT :

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances :

For the employees : Shri Suprabhat Mukherjee, Pleader.

For the Company : Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

By Government order No. 1255/Dis./D/11L-39/56, dated 23rd March 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication regarding the matters mentioned in the schedule to the order of reference.

The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Whether 75 retrenched employees as per attached list are entitled to gratuity in addition to retrenchment benefits?

(2) Whether the said employees are entitled to wages for the period of leave not availed of by them?

AWARD

The employees in question were employed in the Brahmachari Research Institute, but they were retrenched from 17th October 1954. This retrenchment was effected with the permission of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal. The said Tribunal passed order in this respect on 13th October 1954, because an application under section 22 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act was made on 30th August 1954 by the Company before it for such retrenchment. The employees so retrenched, were given the retrenchment relief as provided in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is the contention of these retrenched employees that in addition to the retrenchment relief as paid by the Company, they were entitled to get gratuity as per award of Shri A. Das Gupta made on 18th August 1952, and also the wages for the period of leave not availed of by them. But the Company refused to pay them such gratuity and wages. Hence this reference.

The Company in reply stated that the workers concerned were not entitled to get gratuity as provided under the award of Shri A. Das Gupta over and above the retrenchment compensation payable under section 25F of the Act, which was paid to them at the time of retrenchment. Regarding the wages in lieu of the leave not availed of, the Company wanted to say that the workers were not also entitled to get the same, in view of the leave rules as made by this Company. There was and is no provision under the Company to pay wages in lieu of leave not availed of. But still the Company out of generosity paid the workers at the time of retrenchment wages for the leave found due to their credit according to the Company's record. The Company finally contended that the claim of the workers as put forward by the Union was, in the circumstances, flimsy and speculative, and should be dismissed.

Issue No. 1.—Whether 75 retrenched employees as per attached list are entitled to gratuity in addition to retrenchment benefits?—There is no dispute or controversy between the parties that the Labour Appellate Tribunal gave permission to the Company to retrench these 75 workers. Admittedly, the employees who were so retrenched, got retrenchment relief as provided in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. It may be stated in this connection that out of these 75 workmen mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference, two workmen were not actually retrenched, and they are Shri Sudhansu Roy and Shri Puran Bahadur [Serial Nos. (34) and (38), respectively, of the said list]. These two employees are still in service of the Company. This fact was also admitted on behalf of the Union at the time of hearing. Therefore, no question about payment of gratuity or wages for the period of leave not availed of can arise, so far as those two workers are concerned. As regards the other workers, the Company paid them retrenchment relief under section 25F of the Act. The demand of the Union is that these workers in addition to the retrenchment relief payable under section 25F of the Act are also entitled to get gratuity as provided under the award of Shri A. Das Gupta. It is a fact no doubt that in the award passed by Shri Das Gupta on 18th August 1952, a scheme for gratuity was made for the workers in cases of retrenchment or termination of service by the Company. The relevant extract regarding the gratuity scheme of this award is Ext. 2. The gratuity scheme as made in that award for cases of retrenchment or termination of service by the Company for any reason other than misconduct, or for cases of resignation with the consent of the Management, was as follows:—

(a) On completion of 15 years' service or over 15 days' basic pay for each completed year of service up to a maximum of 15 months' basic pay.

(b) On completion of 10 years' service, but less than 15 years' service— 10 days' basic pay for each completed year of service.

(c) On completion of 5 years' service, but less than 10 years' service— 7 days' basic pay for each completed year of service.

(d) Before the completion of year service, no gratuity will be paid.

(e) Persons discharged at any period of service for misconduct, no gratuity will be paid.

(f) In case of death of an employee, his widow or children or other dependents will be granted gratuity on the above basis.

Now the question is, whether the remaining 73 workers of the list are entitled to get gratuity as provided under the award of Shri A. Das Gupta, in addition to retrenchment compensation paid to them by the Company under section 25F of the Act. Having heard the learned representatives on both sides, and on a perusal of Chapter V(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act, which was inserted in the Act 43 of 1953, I am of the view that these workers are not entitled to get gratuity as was provided in the award of Shri A. Das Gupta. The gratuity scheme as provided in that award was by way of compensation only for the workers, who were retrenched or whose services were terminated for any reason other than misconduct. Since that award was made, Chapter V(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act was introduced, and it was introduced to standardise the liability of the employers and the rights of the employees in respect of payment of lay-off and retrenchment relief. The whole object of Chapter V(A) dealing with lay-off and retrenchment is to standardise compensation to be paid on the termination of the services of an employee, and not to leave it to various Industrial Tribunals awarding different compensations on different basis [vide case reported in 1955(I) L.L.J. 371 at page 374]. In this connection, the provisions as made in section 25J of Chapter V(A) of the Act are important and relevant. Section 25J is as follows:—

(i) The provisions of this Chapter shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law including standing orders made under the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 (XX of 1946):

Provided that nothing contained in this Act shall have effect to derogate from any right which a workman had under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948 (XI of 1948), or any notification or order issued thereunder or any award for the time being in operation or any contract with the employer.

(ii) For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that nothing contained in this Chapter shall be deemed to affect the provisions of any other law for the time being in force in any State, in so far as that law provides for the settlement of industrial disputes, but the rights and liabilities of employers and workmen, in so far as they relate to lay-off and retrenchment, shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter.

I am mindful of the fact that the proviso of this section as quoted above protects the existing benefits, to which a workman is entitled to, on retrenchment, either under an award for the time being in operation, or under any contract with the employer. But it must be remembered that the existing benefits must be higher than what is payable under section 25F of the Act. This is clear from the words "Derogate from any right" as used in the proviso. The said words are significant, and manifestly mean some better rights already secured under an award or contract. The intention of the Legislature is not to pay both statutory compensation and gratuity otherwise payable according to the terms and conditions of service subsisting at the time of retrenchment. Furthermore, the gratuity scheme approved in the award of Shri Das Gupta provides for payment of an amount of 15 days' basic pay for each completed year of service, and not 15 days' average pay as provided in section 25F of the Act. This is not all. That award provided 10 days' basic pay for each completed year of service in case of workers who had completed less than 15 years' service, and 7 days' basic pay for each completed year of service for workers whose services were less than 10 years. This falls short of what is provided in section 25F of the Act. So, in any view, it cannot be said that the benefits as provided in the gratuity scheme of that award, were higher than what is payable under section 25F of the Act. My view is that the gratuity scheme as provided in the award of Shri A. Das Gupta stands superseded by the legislative enactment, in which provision for relief in cases of lay-off and retrenchment has been made. In the face of this Statutory Enactment, the workmen concerned in the present case, are not entitled to any gratuity under the previous award. They are entitled only to retrenchment relief as provided in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company says that the payment of such retrenchment compensation, in accordance with section 25F of the Act, has already been made to these workers. This is not disputed in the present case. That being so, these retrenched employees, barring Shri Sudhansu Roy and Shri Puran Bahadur [serial Nos. (34) and (38) respectively, of the list attached to the order of reference] who are still in service of the Company, are not entitled to any gratuity under the award, over and above the compensation received by them under the provision of section 25F of the Act. This issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 2.—Whether the said employees are entitled to wages for the period of leave not availed of by them?—Regarding the workers Shri Sudhansu Roy and Shri Puran Bahadur [serial Nos. (34) and (38), respectively, of the list attached to the order of reference], the question of their getting wages for the period of leave not availed of, does not arise, as they are still in service of the Company. Regarding the remaining 73 employees of the list, the Tribunal is of the view that they are not entitled to get any wages for the period of leave not availed of by them. From the materials placed before the Tribunal, it appears that the privilege leave allowed to the employees of this Company was more lavish and liberal than what was allowed under the Factories Act. The Company allowed such privilege leave all along to its workers. In the Standing Order which was certified on 4th January 1952, it has been provided inter alia that holidays with pay will be allowed as provided for in the current Factories Act, and other holidays in accordance with customary usage. In the said Standing Orders, nowhere it is to be found that any provision was made to pay wages to the employees, in lieu of leave not availed of. It could not be shown or proved on behalf of the Union that the employees of this concern got any wages for the leave not availed of. No mention is also made that the employees will get wages for the leave not availed of in the document—a letter, dated 13th December 1951, written by the Works Manager to the Secretary, Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity (Ext. 3), on which reliance was placed on behalf of the Union. All that is said in that document is that leave not availed of will be credited to the leave account of the employee concerned. Under the circumstances, the Tribunal comes to the conclusion that these 73 employees are not entitled to wages for the period of leave not availed of by them. In this connection, it may be stated that another fact has come out from the evidence in the instant case, and in my opinion it completely demolishes the claim of the workers on this score. It is the Company's contention that at the time of retrenchment, it paid the wages for leave found due to the credit of the workmen according to the Company's record, though strictly speaking they were not entitled to the same. Learned advocate for the Company has argued that the Company paid such wages, in lieu of leave to the workers out of generosity. The Company has produced a book (Ext. I), from which it appears that almost all the workers retrenched, were given leave pay due, which means wages for the leave due to their credit, but not availed of. Only 7/8 such retrenched workers were not given leave pay due, and it is presumably because that they fully availed of the leave leaving nothing behind to their credit. No material was produced before the Tribunal by the Union to show that these workers did not fully avail of their leave. In the result, the Tribunal holds that the claim of the workers for wages for the leave not availed of, is untenable in any view of the matter. This issue is therefore answered in the negative.

This is the award of the Tribunal.

ORDER

No. 3514Dis./D/11L-264/55.—10th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3563Dis./D/11L-264/55, dated the 4th August 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Metro Theatre Calcutta, Ltd., No. 5, Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13, and their employees represented by the Metro Cinema Employees' Union, 5 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Metro Theatre, Calcutta, Ltd., No. 5 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13, and their employees represented by the Metro Cinema Employees' Union, 5 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta (case No. VIII-238 of 1955).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, THIRD FLOOR, CALCUTTA

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For Messrs. Metro Theatre Calcutta Ltd.: Shri S. K Mullick (Jr.) of Messrs. Sandersons & Morgans, Solicitors.

For Metro Cinema Employees' Union: Shri S. K. Acharjee, Bar-at-law, assisted by Shri Suprobhat Mukherjee.

Demand for bonus for the year 1953-54 submitted by the employees of the Metro Theatre Calcutta, Limited, gave rise to this reference made by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 3563Dis./D/11L-264/55, dated Calcutta, the 4th August 1955.

The issue referred for adjudication is as follows:—

Are the employees entitled to any bonus for the financial year 1953-54? If so, what amount?

The case as made out by the Union in the written statement is that there is an established practice in the cinema trade of this State for payment of bonus in every financial year. There is also a practice prevailing in this particular Company in conformity with which bonus had been paid regularly year after year up to 1952-53, though at different rates. In the year under reference the Company did not make any payment as the election of Professor Nirmal Bhattacherjee as President and that of Srijut Haripada Chatterjee as Secretary of the Union was not to their liking. The Union failed to bring the management round to a reasonable frame of mind and had therefore to move the authorities of the Labour Department for redress of the grievance. Claim has been laid for bonus at the rate of 8 (eight) weeks' total emoluments.

The Company resisted the claim and alleged in the written statement that there was no established practice in the trade regarding payment of bonus nor was any such practice in existence, so far as the Company is concerned. During years of prosperity the Company made payment of bonus. In the years 1951, 1952 and 1953 the Company had trade reverses and did not make any payment of bonus. But on repeated representations made by the employees certain ex gratia payments at different rates had been made in those three years purely as a gesture of goodwill. In 1954, the losses rose to a dizzy height and hence the Company was unable to make even ex gratia payment as in the preceding three years. Regarding the allegation that the election of Professor Nirmal Bhattacherjee and Shrijut Haripada Chatterjee had caused annoyance or irritation to the management, the Company has given a categorical denial.

The basis of the claim has been stated in paragraph 2 of the Union written statement. According to the Union there is an established practice in the cinema trade for payment of bonus. Secondly, this particular Company has been following a practice of its own in the same manner. Plainly speaking this is not a case for bonus to be paid out of surplus profits, nor is this strictly speaking a case of a right to recover bonus as a condition of service arising from implied agreement. Reported cases dealing with cases for annual bonus on the footing that the right was rooted in the conditions of service have been placed in course of argument. In my view those cases are inappropriate having regard to the case made out in paragraph 2 of the written statement.

There is no evidence that a practice or convention has grown up in the cinema trade which is binding on everybody engaged in this industry that bonus must be paid to the employees year by year. Reference was made to the practice followed by members of the Bengal Motion Pictures Association. The witness appearing for the Metro Cinema deposed that all members of the Association did not pay bonus every year. The Elite Cinema, according to witness, never paid any bonus to its employees. The Union cannot in the circumstances rest its claim for bonus on practice prevailing in the industry.

Admittedly the Company was floated in 1935. Bonus was being paid, according to P. W. 1, since 1948. Payment of bonus was made at varying rates up to 1953. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 is that bonus was paid up to 1950. Thereafter the Company suffered losses. Ex gratia payments were made in the years 1951, 1952 and 1953, on representations made by the employees. These were ex gratia payments calculated to maintain cordial relations with the employees. To use the language of the witness, these were exgratia payments made as a gesture of goodwill. Ext. A is a document signed by the President, Secretary and members of the Union. The employees agreed to accept four weeks' basic salary by way of ex gratia payment in full and final settlement of their claim for bonus in the year ending 31st August 1952. Ext. A(2) is the letter addressed by the Managing Director to the President of the Union intimating that the authorities at the Head Office in New York had accepted the recommendation by the local office for ex-gratia payment by way of gesture of goodwill. Ext. A(1) is a document by which the employees agreed to accept ex gratia payment for the year ending 31st August 1953. Ext. B series are the receipts granted by the employees in which this has been described as "ex gratia bonus." These documents prove conclusively that the Company was not willing to concede the existence of any right in the employees to receive bonus in those years. They decided however to make some payment to keep them contented and the employees accepted the same without protest. On behalf of the Union learned Counsel cited a case reported in 1954, L.A.C., page 18. In that case claim was pressed on the footing that payment of annual bonus was a condition of service founded on implied agreement. I have already observed that in view of the pleadings this aspect of the case does not fall for consideration. Still the learned Counsel having relied on this case I may make my observation thereon. In the case cited, bonus had all along been paid since 1945 although the Company had incurred losses in all those years excepting one year when the profits earned were negligible. According to their Lordships, the conduct of the Company to a certain extent excluded the element of bounty. Although the evidence was not very strong an agreement to pay bonus irrespective of profits could, in their Lordships' view, be implied. In the present case element of bounty has not been excluded, for, in express terms the Company gave the employees to understand that this was nothing better than ex gratia payment. The employees accepted the payment with the string thus attached. They cannot therefore turn round and say that payment in years of loss excludes the element of bounty

The case set up by the Union is that a practice had grown up in terms of which bonus was being paid year after year. If it is treated simply as a practice there is nothing to prevent the Company from setting a period to it and withdrawing the concession. A practice of this nature cannot be treated as binding forever or of perpetual effect. Treated a little more liberally the case may be considered to be one of a customary right. The law as administered in courts of civil jurisdiction recognises customary rights but in order to crystalise into a right a custom must be immemorial, reasonable, and certain and further the enjoyment must have been as of right and neither by violence nor by stealth nor by leave granted (36 C.L.J., page 20). As in this case payment was made as a gesture of goodwill and was described as ex gratia payment it is not possible to affirm that the employees had received bonus during these years as of right. Payments by agreement in the terms referred to is negation of the important element that the enjoyment must have been as of right. Secondly, a right to ripen into a customary right must be ancient. That element is also absent. In these circumstances the Tribunal cannot hold that the employees have acquired any right to receive bonus as claimed. The Company had the option to grant their prayer or to refuse it. It is hence awarded that the employees are not entitled to any bonus for 1953-54 as of right.

For the appellant: Shri S. K. Acharya, Bar.-at-Law, with Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the respondent: Shri K. B. Bose, Bar.-at-Law, with Shri K. L. Chatterjee of Orr Dignam & Co., Calcutta.

State: West Bengal.

DECISION

This appeal is preferred against the decision and award of the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, dated 4th February 1955, in a reference between Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd., and all the associated companies of which Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd., are the Managing Agents, and their workmen represented by Martin Burn Indian Employees' Union.

2. The matters in dispute that were referred for adjudication to the Tribunal as contained in the schedule to the order of reference are as follows:—

(1) Revisions of existing grades.
(2) Tiffin.
(3) Extent of medical aid.
(4) Security of service.
(5) Gratuity over and above Provident Fund.

This appeal has been preferred by the Union against the award of the lower Tribunal.

3. In the course of arguments Shri Acharya stated before us, that he was not pressing the appeal so far as the decision in respect of item No. (4) "Security of service" was concerned. The appeal has been argued in respect of the other matters in dispute.

4. In the first place we shall take up the question of revision of existing scales of pay for the clerical staff. The existing grades and rates of pay are set out in paragraph 4 of the award of the lower Tribunal. These grades are those laid down in the award of the Mercantile Tribunal, published in the Calcutta Gazette of 25th August 1949. The learned Judge of the lower Tribunal has held, that there is no case made out for revision of the existing scales in the manner contained in the Union's statement, that the award of the Mercantile Tribunal is not liable to be disturbed in a piecemeal manner, and that if there is any need for revision that should be done in a collective manner by another Major Tribunal. In the award of the Mercantile Tribunal, there are four grades, viz., A, B, C and D. Shri Acharya for the Union does not seek any revision so far as Grade A and Special Grade are concerned. He has confined his arguments to Grades B, C and D. The learned Tribunal has awarded as below:—

Grades B and C—Rs. 70—4—110—E.B.—7—180.

5. The first contention raised on behalf of the Union by Shri Acharya is, that the learned Tribunal is wrong in holding that the scales cannot be revised so far as this particular company is concerned, and that any revisions must be made in a collective manner by another Major Tribunal. It is urged before us, that the scales as fixed by the Mercantile Tribunal have been revised in the case of other companies even without another Mercantile Tribunal being constituted to go into the question of grades of pay. Strong exception has been taken to the observation of the learned Tribunal which are as follows: "Even the wives of workmen do not sit idle. Besides, these workmen, working in one province and having their native place in another, do generally have agricultural income. That implements the earnings obtained by serving in concerns here". Even granting that we are not in agreement with these observations, still it can be, by no means be contended that the scales as fixed in the Mercantile award need revision in the present circumstances. That award was published in August 1949. In the Caltex case (1952 LAC, p. 402) the starting wage of a clerk was fixed at about Rs. 80. Shri Acharya has contended that in any case the starting salary must be raised from Rs. 70 to Rs. 80.

6. It is well settled that fairness to workers requires that rewards for similar work be equal, and fairness to employers requires that cost of production be equal for similar kind of work. In other words, the wage should be such as amounts to average payment for tasks of equal difficulty and disagreeableness. The argument on behalf of the workmen, that the capacity of Messrs. Martin Burn, Ltd., to pay wages demanded is not denied and therefore the scales of pay as demanded by the Union should be adopted, does not commend itself to us. Messrs. Martin Burn, Ltd., are Managing Agents of a number of firms. It can by no means be said on the material on record that all the companies of which Martin Burn are Managing Agents have equal or identical paying capacity. It is argued on behalf of the Management that there are certain companies whose economic condition is much inferior to that of other companies. There is no valid reasons to disturb the scales of pay as laid down in the award of the Mercantile Tribunal. We cannot also ignore the repercussions which may arise in respect of other companies governed by the Mercantile Tribunal award, if the scales of pay laid down in the award of that Tribunal are revised in an upward direction in the manner claimed by the Union. Moreover as observed by the learned Tribunal, the Mercantile Tribunal and Bengal Chamber of Commerce have provided for more handsome dearness allowance based on a sliding scale which neutralizes the deficit caused by the high cost of living to a great extent. Under the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale 115 per cent. or thereabout is the dearness allowance given on the first Rs. 100 of the salary. The total wages and dearness allowance that are provided for as a result of the Mercantile Tribunal award, are fair and reasonable and no circumstances have been established on the facts of this case to have the scales of pay revised in an upward direction. We must also not lose sight of the consumer. It is well recognised that a scheme of wages, is meant to subsist for some time, and such arrangements for scales and grades of pay are long-term affairs which cannot be interfered with except on proof of change of circumstances, vide Army and Navy Stores, 1951 I LLJ, p. 51, and Union Drug Co., and their workmen 1954 I LLJ, p. 766. On the materials on record we are not satisfied that there is proof of such a change of conditions and circumstances as to compel revision of the scales of pay as demanded by the Union.

7. Shri Acharya has argued that in any event the starting salary must be fixed at Rs. 80 as the lowest in the grade. Reliance is placed on the decision in Caltex case referred to above. We are not in agreement with this contention. The decision in Caltex case is distinguishable. That related to an oil company whose resources are vast and whose profits are generally undisclosed. That cannot serve as a model for raising the minimum to Rs. 80. Moreover we cannot lose sight of the argument of Shri Bose, that we must make note of the New Companies Act which has become law, that therein the scope of Managing Agencies in almost every direction has been considerably restricted, that the expenses are multiplying, and that this is hardly a propitious time for increasing the scales or revising them in the manner stated on behalf of the Union. It is also urged, that each of the associated companies of Martin Burn are not on the same economic level, that for example the firm of Robert Hudson is a small concern and cannot compare with Martin Burn Ltd., and that the wage structure that should be fixed must be consistent with the financial stability of the weaker units. It is further contended that a downward tendency is noticeable in the matter of prices, and that it would be anomalous to raise the scales of pay at the present moment. On a consideration of all circumstances we are of opinion that no circumstances have been established for acceding to the contention of the Union for a general revision of the scales of pay or for raising the starting salary to Rs. 80 in the case of clerks. We may also notice the fact, that in Karam Chand Thapar's case 1953 LAC, p. 152, the starting salary was fixed at Rs. 70 only. We find no valid reason to raise the minimum to more than Rs. 70 in the case of clerks.

8. In the course of arguments Shri Acharya has contended that stenographers at least must start in any case at Rs. 110 and go up to Rs. 180 the maximum of the grade. To this Shri Bose has no objection.

9. Again Shri Acharya has drawn our attention to the case of Comptometer operators. It is argued that they should be given a starting salary of Rs. 78 and not at Rs. 70. Shri Bose has accepted this contention, and has agreed that the grades in their case may be from Rs. 78 to Rs. 140. But he urges that they cannot be placed on the same footing as stenographers. We agree with this view, but we fix the maximum of the grade at Rs. 142, annual increments being Rs. 4.

10. However, objection is taken to the grades as fixed by the lower Tribunal. It is argued by Shri Acharya that there is no need for Grade D, that it may be abolished, and that grades B and C should be amalgamated. It is also urged that the learned Tribunal by introducing an efficiency bar, has interfered with the scales as laid down by the Mercantile Tribunal. It is pointed out before us that the scales as laid down by the lower Tribunal are even less advantageous than those fixed by the Mercantile Tribunal. We notice that there is no provision for efficiency bar in the scales of pay laid down by the Mercantile Tribunal. We do not consider that the grades and scales as laid down by the lower Tribunal with efficiency bar meet the needs of the case and in fact they operate to the prejudice of the workmen. We hold that there is no need for the existence of a separate Grade D. In the Mercantile Tribunal award the scale of pay for Grade D is Rs. 70—3—130, and for Grade C it is Rs. 70—4—134. In our opinion there is no need for the existence of two separate grades with the same starting salary and with a maximum of the grade with a difference of only Rs. 4. We are in agreement with Shri Acharya's contention that Grade D should be abolished and that B and C should be amalgamated. We consider the following scales of pay will meet the ends of justice, viz., Rs. 70—4—138—7—180. We find on issue No. 1 that Grade D should be abolished, Grades B and C should be amalgamated, and that the scales and grades of pay should be as mentioned above.

11. The next question is with reference to sub-staff. Even with reference to the question of wages and scales of pay of sub-staff, we are not prepared to hold that any revision is called for. The same considerations which apply in the case of the clerical staff also apply here. We find that no change of circumstances has been established as to warrant interference with the scales of pay fixed for the sub-staff in the Mercantile Tribunal award.

12. Our finding on this question is that the grades and scales of pay for the clerical staff shall be as follows:—

Special Grade—As in the Mercantile Tribunal award.

Grade A—As in the Mercantile Tribunal award.

Grade B—Rs. 70—4—138—7—180.

Stenographers—Rs. 110—4—180.

Comptometer operators—Rs. 78—4—142.

13. So far as sub-staff are concerned the same rates as fixed in the Mercantile Tribunal award shall prevail.

14. The second question is with reference to "tiffin allowance". The contention on behalf of the Union is that tiffin allowance of Re. 1 per day per head should be given. Reference has been made in this connection to the letter Ext. 1, dated 20th January 1948. There is a demand that the meagre allowance of Rs. 6 is inadequate and that the allowance should be raised to at least Rs. 15. Ext. 2 is the letter, dated 18th December 1947, by the management to the Secretary wherein it was said that the Company was prepared to grant cash payment of Rs. 6 per mensem to each clerk for the purpose as from 1st January 1948 and that for non-attendance on any day as. 4 per day would be deducted.

15. The contention of Shri Acharya is, that a number of companies have been granting tiffin allowance, and that therefore such allowance should be granted as demanded by the Union. We are not prepared to agree. In the first place the question of tiffin allowance is not one of the appealable items under section 7(1)(b) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act. Secondly, the learned Judge has exercised his discretion in the matter and has found that there is no case made out for grant of tiffin allowance. We do not see any ground for differing from the said conclusion. The learned Judge has observed that the Company has started a canteen also. We find that there is no case made out for the grant of tiffin allowance in the manner claimed on behalf of the Union; but the companies will continue to pay whatever tiffin allowance, if any, they have been paying till now, and our finding as above will not affect any existing arrangements about the tiffin.

16. The next question is about medical assistance. The decision in Karam Chand Thapar case (1953 LAC, p. 152) lays down the manner in which provision should be made in the matter of medical assistance. The arrangements are set out in pages 160 and 161 of the said decision. The directions given in the award of the lower Tribunal are substantially in accord with the said arrangements. We confirm the award of the learned Judge on this question.

17. Issue No. (5).—The last question is with reference to retiral benefit. The argument on behalf of the workmen is, that they should be given gratuity in the manner claimed in addition to Provident Fund. The learned Tribunal has rejected the claim for gratuity. We are in agreement with the said decision. It is in accordance with the decision of the Mercantile Tribunal and also another award referred to in the judgment of the lower Tribunal. It is well recognised, that the question of gratuity in addition to Provident Fund, depends upon the financial condition of the Company. We are not prepared to hold that such circumstances have been established in the facts of this case as to compel the conclusions that the workmen are entitled to gratuity in addition to Provident Fund, so far as Martin Burn and other associated companies of which they are Managing Agents are concerned. This finding however will not operate to the prejudice of any existing arrangements, if any, in any Company where both gratuity and Provident Fund benefits are in existence.

18. In the result the appeal is allowed in part and for the award of the lower Tribunal in the matter of grades and scales of pay we substitute the following grades and scales of pay so far as clerical staff is concerned, viz.—

Special grade—As in the Mercantile Tribunal award and in the award of the lower Tribunal.

Grade A—As in the Mercantile Tribunal award and in the award of the lower Tribunal.

Grade B—Rs. 70—4—138—7—180.

Stenographers—Rs. 110—4—138—7—180.

Comptometer operators—Rs. 78—4—142.

So far as the sub-staff is concerned, the grades shall be the same as awarded by the lower Tribunal in the Mercantile Tribunal award. With reference to the fitting in of the scales the order passed by the lower Tribunal is confirmed. Medical assistance shall be provided as in paragraph 16. In all other respects the order of the lower Tribunal is confirmed and the appeal is dismissed. There will be no order as to costs.

BOARD OF SECONDARY EDUCATION, WEST BENGAL

NOTIFICATION No. Syl./21/56

Dated the 27th June 1956

Syllabi in Pali for Classes VI, VII and VIII

The following shall be the syllabi of studies in Pali for Classes VI, VII and VIII. The syllabi will be introduced in 1957.

Class VI

A primer will be prescribed. The primer should be printed in Roman script (in 14 point type) and should contain not more than 32 pages ($8'' \times 5\frac{1}{2}''$) including illustrations. It should illustrate simple grammatical forms and expressions in Pali, starting with the Pali alphabet. No grammar will be prescribed for Class VI.

Classes VII-VIII

A graduated Reader for Classes VII and VIII together will be prescribed. It should contain 5 forms (Crown Octavo $7\frac{1}{2}'' \times 5''$) printed in Roman script in 12 point type. Two forms will be taught in Class VII and the remaining forms being taught in Class VIII. It should incorporate idiomatic sentences leading up to short stories and moral lessons in prose and verse, collected from various sources. The pieces should be selected with a view to creating in the minds of young learners a genuine interest both in the language and the literature of Pali.

Pali grammar published on behalf of the Board of Secondary Education, West Bengal, will be followed in Classes VII and VIII and the following topics should be taught:—

Alphabet, Euphony, Division of words, change of Gender, Declensions (Masculine bases ending in vowels), Conjugation of Verbs (Bhuvadi group only), Case-endings and their application.

By order of the Administrator,
D. P. RAY CHAUDHURI,
Secretary.

Desirable

Knowledge of Bengali—spoken and written.

Age between 22 and 35 years on 1st September 1956, relaxable for a candidate otherwise well qualified. The upper age-limit is relaxable by five years for Scheduled Castes/Tribes and up to 45 years for displaced persons from Pakistan.

The upper age-limit is relaxable for a non-Muslim Government servant in undivided Bengal, who had originally opted to serve in East Bengal and was working under the Government of East Bengal after partition, but has since formally resigned his service under that Government and has come over to India as refugee.

A candidate who before the 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age-limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(2) Pay.—The scale of pay is Rs. 250—20—650—25—750 per month plus dearness allowance and marine allowance at Rs. 5 per day spent at sea. Higher initial pay is admissible to a candidate specially well qualified and experienced.

(3) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

The application must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 4th September 1956.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of Treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation) in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation) in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

S. C. CHOWDHURI, Secretary,
Public Service Commission, West Bengal.

Alipore, the 13th August 1956.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

Advertisement No. 43

APPLICATIONS are invited for 12 temporary posts of Assistant Engineers under the following Departments, West Bengal:

	Posts.
(a) Works and Buildings Department ...	7
(b) Construction Board ...	5

Women are considered unsuitable.

(1) Qualifications.—

(i) Citizenship of India as defined in Part II of the Constitution of India.

(ii) A degree in Civil Engineering of a recognised University or equivalent qualification.

(iii) Approved practical training for at least one year.

Age not more than 27 years on 1st November 1955. The upper age-limit is relaxable by five years for Scheduled Castes/Tribes and up to 45 years for displaced persons from Pakistan.

The upper age-limit is relaxable for a non-Muslim Government servant in undivided Bengal, who had originally opted to serve in East Bengal and was working under the Government of East Bengal after partition, but has since formally resigned his service under that Government and has come over to India as refugee.

A candidate who before the 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age-limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(2) Pay.—The scale of pay is Rs. 250—20—650—25—750 (E.B. after 10th and 18th stages) per month plus the usual allowances.

(3) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

The application must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 31st August 1956.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 (for each category of posts) in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of Treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation) in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

S. C. CHOWDHURI, Secretary,
Public Service Commission, West Bengal.

Alipore, the 11th August 1956.

3. (1) With effect from such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint in this behalf, there shall be established for the purposes of this Act an institution to be called the All-India Institute of Medical Sciences.

(2) The Institute shall be a body corporate by the name aforesaid having perpetual succession and a common seal, with power to acquire, hold and dispose of property, both movable and immovable, and to contract, and shall by the said name sue and be sued.

Composition of the Institute.

4. The Institute shall consist of the following members, namely :—

(a) the Vice-Chancellor of the Delhi University, ex officio;

(b) the Director-General of Health Services, Government of India, ex officio;

(c) the Director of the Institute, ex officio;

(d) two representatives of the Central Government to be nominated by that Government, one from the Ministry of Finance and one from the Ministry of Education;

(e) five persons of whom one shall be a non-medical scientist representing the Indian Science Congress Association, to be nominated by the Central Government;

(f) four representatives of the medical faculties of Indian Universities to be nominated by the Central Government in the manner prescribed by rules; and

(g) three members of Parliament of whom two shall be elected from among themselves by the members of the House of the People and one from among themselves by the members of the Council of States.

Declaration of the Institute as an institution of national importance.

5. It is hereby declared that the Institute shall be an institution of national importance.

Term of office of, and vacancies among, members.

6. (1) Save as otherwise provided in this section, the term of office of a member shall be five years from the date of his nomination or election :

Provided that the term of office of a member elected under clause (g) of section 4 shall come to an end as soon as he ceases to be a member of the House from which he was elected.

(2) The term of office of an ex officio member shall continue so long as he holds the office in virtue of which he is such a member.

(3) The term of office of a member nominated or elected to fill a casual vacancy shall continue for the remainder of the term of the member in whose place he is nominated or elected.

(4) An out-going member shall, unless the Central Government otherwise directs, continue in office until another person is nominated or elected as a member in his place.

(5) An out-going member shall be eligible for re-nomination or re-election.

(6) A member may resign his office by writing under his hand addressed to the Central Government but he shall continue in office until his resignation is accepted by that Government.

(7) The manner of filling vacancies among members shall be such as may be prescribed by rules.

President of the Institute.

7. (1) There shall be a President of the Institute who shall be nominated by the Central Government from among the members other than the Director of the Institute.

(2) The President shall exercise such powers and discharge such functions as are laid down in this Act or as may be prescribed by rules or regulations.

Allowances of President and members.

8. The President and members shall receive such allowances, if any, from the Institute as may be prescribed by rules.

Meetings of the Institute.

9. The Institute shall hold its first meeting at such time and place as may be appointed by the Central Government and shall observe such rules of procedure in regard to the transaction of business at the first meeting as may be laid down by that Government; and thereafter the Institute shall meet at such times and places and observe such rules of procedure in regard to the transaction of business at its meetings as may be prescribed by regulations.

Governing Body and other Committees of the Institute.

10. (1) There shall be a Governing Body of the Institute which shall be constituted by the Institute from among its members in such manner as may be prescribed by regulations.

(2) The Governing Body shall be the executive committee of the Institute and shall exercise such powers and discharge such functions as the Institute may, by regulations made in this behalf, confer or impose upon it.

(3) The President of the Institute shall be the Chairman of the Governing Body and as Chairman thereof shall exercise such powers and discharge such functions as may be prescribed by regulations.

(4) The procedure to be followed in the exercise of its powers and discharge of its functions by the Governing Body, and the term of office of, and the manner of filling vacancies among, the members of the Governing Body shall be such as may be prescribed by regulations.

(5) Subject to such control and restrictions as may be prescribed by rules, the Institute may constitute as many standing committees and as many ad hoc committees as it thinks fit for exercising any power or discharging any function of the Institute or for inquiring into, or reporting or advising upon, any matter which the Institute may refer to them.

(6) A standing committee shall consist exclusively of members of the Institute; but an ad hoc committee may include persons who are not members of the Institute but the number of such persons shall not exceed one-half of its total membership.

(7) The Chairman and members of the Governing Body and the Chairman and members of a standing committee or an ad hoc committee shall receive such allowances, if any, as may be prescribed by regulations.

Staff of the Institute.

11. (1) There shall be a chief executive officer of the Institute who shall be designated as the Director of the Institute and shall, subject to such rules as may be made by the Central Government in this behalf, be appointed by the Institute:

Provided that the first Director of the Institute shall be appointed by the Central Government.

(2) The Director shall act as the Secretary to the Institute as well as the Governing Body.

(3) The Director shall exercise such powers and discharge such functions as may be prescribed by regulations or as may be delegated to him by the Institute or the President of the Institute or by the Governing Body or the Chairman of the Governing Body.

(4) Subject to such rules as may be made by the Central Government in this behalf, the Institute may appoint such number of other officers and employees as may be necessary for the exercise of its powers and discharge of its functions and may determine the designations and grades of such other officers and employees.

(5) The Director and other officers and employees of the Institute shall be entitled to such salary and allowances and shall be governed by such conditions of service in respect of leave, pension, provident fund and other matters as may be prescribed by regulations made in this behalf.

Location of the Institute.

12. The Institute shall be located in New Delhi.

Objects of the Institute.

13. The objects of the Institute shall be—

(a) to develop paterns of teaching in undergraduate and postgraduate medical education in all its branches so as to demonstrate a high standard of medical education to all medical colleges and other allied institutions in India;

(b) to bring together in one place educational facilities of the highest order for the training of personnel in all important branches of health activity; and

(c) to attain self-sufficiency in post-graduate medical education.

Functions of the Institute.

14. With a view to the promotion of the objects specified in section 13, the Institute may—

(a) provide for undergraduate and postgraduate teaching in the science of modern medicine and other allied sciences, including physical and biological sciences;

(b) provide facilities for research in the various branches of such sciences;

(c) provide for the teaching of humanities in the undergraduate courses;

(d) conduct experiments in new methods of medical education, both undergraduate and postgraduate, in order to arrive at satisfactory standards of such education;

(e) prescribe courses and curricula for both undergraduate and postgraduate studies;

(f) notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, establish and maintain—

(i) one or more medical colleges with different departments, including a department of preventive and social medicine, sufficiently staffed and equipped to undertake not only undergraduate medical education but also postgraduate medical education in different subjects;

(ii) one or more well-equipped hospitals;

(iii) a dental college with such institutional facilities for the practice of dentistry and for the practical training of students as may be necessary;

(iv) a nursing college sufficiently staffed and equipped for the training of nurses;

(r) rural and urban health organisations which will form centres for the field training of the medical, dental and nursing students of the Institute as well as for research into community health problems; and

(ri) other institutions for the training of different types of health workers, such as physiotherapists, occupational therapists and medical technicians of various kinds;

(g) train teachers for the different medical colleges in India;

(h) hold examinations and grant such degrees, diplomas and other academic distinctions and titles in undergraduate and postgraduate medical education as may be laid down in the regulations;

(i) institute, and appoint persons to, professorships, readerships, lecturerships and posts of any description in accordance with regulations;

(j) receive grants from the Government and gifts, donations, benefactions, bequests and transfers of properties, both movable and immovable, from donors, benefactors, testators or transferors, as the case may be;

(k) deal with any property belonging to, or vested in, the Institute in any manner which is considered necessary for promoting the objects specified in section 13;

(l) demand and receive such fees and other charges as may be prescribed by regulations;

(m) do all such other acts and things as may be necessary to further the objects specified in section 13.

Payment to the Institute.

15. The Central Government may, under appropriation made by Parliament by law in this behalf, pay to the Institute in each financial year such sums of money and in such manner as may be considered necessary by that Government for the exercise of its powers and discharge of its functions under this Act.

Fund of the Institute.

16. (1) The Institute shall maintain a Fund to which shall be credited—

(a) all moneys provided by the Central Government;

(b) all fees and other charges received by the Institute;

(c) all moneys received by the Institute by way of grants, gifts, donations, benefactions bequests or transfers; and

(d) all moneys received by the Institute in any other manner or from any other source.

(2) All moneys credited to the Fund shall be deposited in such banks or invested in such manner as the Institute may, with the approval of the Central Government, decide.

(3) The Fund shall be applied towards meeting the expenses of the Institute including expenses incurred in the exercise of its powers and discharge of its functions under section 14.

Budget of the Institute.

17. The institute shall prepare in such form and at such time every year as may be prescribed by rules a budget in respect of the financial year next ensuing showing the estimated receipts and expenditure of the Institute and shall forward to the Central Government such number of copies thereof as may be prescribed by rules.

Accounts and audit.

18. (1) The Institute shall maintain proper accounts and other relevant records and prepare an annual statement of accounts including the balance-sheet in such form as the Central Government may by rules prescribe in consultation with the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India.

(2) The accounts of the Institute shall be audited by the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India and any expenditure incurred by him in connection with such audit shall be payable by the Institute to the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India.

(3) The Comptroller and Auditor-General of India and any person appointed by him in connection with the audit of the accounts of the Institute shall have the same rights, privileges and authority in connection with such audit as the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India has in connection with the audit of the Government accounts and, in particular, shall have the right to demand the production of books, accounts, connected vouchers and other documents and papers and to inspect the offices of the Institute as well as of the institutions established and maintained by it.

(4) The accounts of the Institute as certified by the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India or any other person appointed by him in his behalf together with the audit report thereon shall be forwarded annually to the Central Government and that Government shall cause the same to be laid before both Houses of Parliament.

Annual report.

19. The Institute shall prepare for every year a report of its activities during that year and submit the report to the Central Government in such form and on or before such date as may be prescribed by rules and a copy of this report shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament within one month of its receipt.

Pension and Provident funds.

20. (1) The Institute shall constitute for the benefit of its officers, teachers and other employees in such manner and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by regulations, such pension and provident funds as it may deem fit.

(2) Where any such pension or provident fund has been constituted, the Central Government may declare that the provisions of the Provident Funds Act, 1925, shall apply to such fund as if it were a Government provident fund. 19 of 1925.

Authentication of the orders and instruments of the Institute.

21. All orders and decisions of the Institute shall be authenticated by the signature of the President or any other member authorised by the Institute in this behalf and all other instruments shall be authenticated by the signature of the Director or any other officer of the Institute authorised in like manner in this behalf.

Acts and Proceedings not to be invalidated by vacancies, etc.

22. No act done or proceeding taken by the Institute, Governing Body or any standing or ad hoc committee under this Act shall be questioned on the ground merely of the existence of any vacancy in, or defect in the constitution of, the Institute, Governing Body or such standing or ad hoc committee.

Recognition of medical qualifications granted by the Institute.

23. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Medical Council Act, 1933, the medical degrees and diplomas granted by the Institute under this Act shall be recognised medical qualifications for the purposes of that Act and shall be deemed to be included in the First Schedule to that Act. 27 of 1933.

Grant of medical degrees, diplomas, etc., by the Institute.

24. Notwithstanding anything contained in the other law for the time being in force, the Institute shall have power to grant medical degrees, diplomas and other academic distinctions and titles under this Act.

Control by Central Government.

25. The Institute shall carry out such directions as may be issued to it from time to time by the Central Government for the efficient administration of this Act.

Disputes between the Institute and the Central Government.

26. If in, or in connection with, the exercise of its powers and discharge of its functions by the Institute under this Act, any dispute arises between the Institute and the Central Government, the decision of the Central Government on such dispute shall be final.

Returns and information.

27. The Institute shall furnish to the Central Government such reports, returns and other information as that Government may require from time to time.

Power to make rules.

28. (1) The Central Government, after consultation with the Institute, may by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act:

Provided that consultation with the Institute shall not be necessary on the first occasion of the making of rules under this section, but the Central Government shall take into consideration any suggestions which the Institute may make in relation to the amendment of such rules after they are made.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the manner of nomination of members under clause (f) of section 4;

(b) the control and restrictions in relation to the constitution of standing and ad hoc committee under sub-section (5) of section 10;

(c) the conditions of service of, the procedure to be followed by, and the manner of filling vacancies among, members of the Institute;

(d) the powers and functions to be exercised and discharged by the President of the Institute;

(e) the allowances, if any, to be paid to the President and members of the Institute;

(f) the number of officers and employees that may be appointed by the Institute and the manner of such appointment;

(g) the form in which and the time at which the budget and reports shall be prepared by the Institute and the number of copies thereof to be forwarded to the Central Government;

(h) the form and manner in which returns and information are to be furnished by the Institute to the Central Government;

(i) any other matter which has to be or may be prescribed by rules.

(3) All rules made under this section shall, as soon as may be after they are made, be laid before both Houses of Parliament.

Power to make regulations.

29. (1) The Institute may, with the previous approval of the Central Government, make regulations consistent with this Act and the rules made thereunder to carry out the purposes of this Act, and without prejudice to the generality of this power, such regulations may provide for—

(a) the summoning and holding of meetings other than the first meeting, of the Institute, the time and place where such meetings are to be held, the conduct of business at such meetings and the number of members necessary to form a quorum;

(b) the manner of constituting the Governing Body and standing and ad hoc committees, the terms of office of, and the manner of filling vacancies among, the members of, the Governing Body and standing and ad hoc committees;

(c) the powers and functions to be exercised and discharged by the President of the Institute and the Chairman of the Governing Body;

(d) the allowances, if any, to be paid to the Chairman and the members of the Governing Body and of standing and ad hoc committees;

(e) the procedure to be followed by the Governing Body and standing and ad hoc committees in the conduct of their business, exercise of their powers and discharge of their functions;

(f) the tenure of office, salaries and allowances and other conditions of service of the Director and other officers and employees of the Institute including teachers appointed by the Institute;

(g) the powers and duties of the Chairman of the Governing Body;

(h) the powers and duties of the Director and other officers and employees of the Institute;

(i) the management of the properties of the Institute;

(j) the degrees, diplomas and other academic distinctions and titles which may be granted by the Institute;

(k) the professorships, readerships, lecturerships and other posts which may be instituted and persons who may be appointed to such professorships, readerships, lecturerships and other posts;

(l) the fees and other charges which may be demanded and received by the Institute;

(m) the manner in which, and the conditions subject to which, pension and provident funds may be constituted for the benefit of officers, teachers and other employees of the Institute;

(n) any other matter for which under this Act provisions may be made by regulations.

(2) Until the Institute is established under this Act, any regulation which may be made under sub-section (1) may be made by the Central Government; and any regulation so made may be altered or rescinded by the Institute in exercise of its powers under sub-section (1).

DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION

No. 6992/2A-23/55.—9th August 1956.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 35 of the West Bengal Development Corporation Act, 1954 (West Bengal Act XIV of 1955), the Governor is pleased to make the following rules, namely:—

Rules.

1. These rules may be called the West Bengal Development Corporation Rules, 1956.

2. In these rules unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "the Act" means the West Bengal Development Corporation Act, 1954 (West Bengal Act XIV of 1955);

(b) "section" means a section of the Act;

(c) other expressions used in these rules but not specifically defined have the same meanings as in the Act.

3. The Corporation shall include:

(i) two members representing the State Government to be nominated by it;

(ii) one member being a shareholder, representing the shareholders, to be elected in the manner provided in rule 4 whenever the Corporation is constituted or reconstituted after the issue of shares.

4. (1) The manner of election of a shareholder to represent the shareholders shall be by postal ballot.

(2) The Chairman of the Corporation shall act as the Returning Officer. He shall invite, when so directed by the State Government, nominations, within such date as may be specified by him, of candidates from the shareholders in writing and each candidate must be proposed by a shareholder and seconded by another shareholder. He shall then make out a list of validly nominated candidates.

(3) The Chairman shall thereafter send by registered post to each shareholder a list of validly nominated candidates and a postal ballot paper as nearly as possible in the form given in Schedule I to these rules and shall enter on the counterfoil of each such ballot paper the name of the shareholder and his serial number on the register of shareholders.

(4) Each shareholder shall have as many votes as the number of shares owned by him.

(5) A shareholder shall, on receiving his ballot paper, record his vote or votes thereon in favour of the candidate of his choice among those specified in the list of nominated candidates and shall sign the declaration on the back of the ballot paper. The elector shall obtain the attestation of his signature but not of his vote on the postal ballot paper by a Gazetted Officer of the State Government. He shall then send his ballot paper by registered post to the Chairman.

(6) The Chairman shall then count the votes and prepare a list showing the votes obtained by each of the candidates and declare the candidate who has obtained the largest number of votes to be elected and a shareholder so elected shall be a member of the Corporation on its constitution or reconstitution after such election.

5. The term of office of the members of the Corporation, including the Chairman, shall be four years.

6. (1) In the event of a casual vacancy among the members of the Corporation on account of resignation, removal or death, it shall be filled by nomination by the State Government, provided that the person to be nominated in place of the representative of the shareholders shall be the shareholder who may be available from amongst those who stood for election and who obtained the next largest number of votes.

(2) A person nominated to fill a casual vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the member in whose place he is so nominated.

7. (1) The members of the Corporation other than the Chairman shall be entitled to receive a fee of Rs. 100 each for attending every sitting of the Corporation:

Provided that when a member of the Corporation is a salaried officer of Government he shall not be entitled to the said fee.

(2) The members of the Corporation other than those who are salaried Government officers shall be entitled to travelling allowances for journeys made by them in the course of their duty as such members at the same rates as are admissible to Government officers of the First Class drawing a salary of over two thousand five hundred rupees per month.

8. The Administrative Officer and the Chief Accounts Officer of the Corporation shall be Government officers whose services may be placed at the disposal of the Corporation by the State Government on such terms as to period of deputation, pay, allowances and leave and pension contributions as may be agreed upon between the State Government and the Corporation. These officers shall, in respect of disciplinary matters, continue to be under the control of the State Government.

9. (1) The capital which the Corporation may be authorised to raise from time to time under sub-section (2) of section 19 or the additional capital which may be raised by the Corporation under section 20 shall be divided into shares of Rs. 100 each.

(2) The Corporation shall not allot shares exceeding Rs. 50,000 in value to any one party other than the State Government.

(3) Payment of the shares shall be made:

(i) in cash or assets in the case of the State Government, and

(ii) in cash or bonds issued by the State Government, in the case of any other party, such bonds being redeemable by the State Government.

(4) The shares of the Corporation shall not be transferred to any party other than the State Government or a party approved by the Government.

(5) The Corporation shall maintain a register of shareholders and shall enter therein the following particulars separately in respect of each issue of shares:—

(a) the name of the shareholder and the number, value and serial numbers of the shares held by him,

(b) the postal address of the shareholder and the address of his principal place of business,

(c) the date on which and the manner in which he acquired his shares,

(d) the date on which he ceases to be a shareholder and the reasons therefor.

10. The net profits of the Corporation shall be utilised:

(i) in paying the interest and repaying the principal of the money borrowed under section 22;

(ii) in building up a fund for the redemption of shares (to be called the Share Redemption Fund) where so directed by the State Government;

(iii) in building up the reserve fund; and

(iv) in carrying out any other purpose of the Act.

11. (1) No redemption of share shall be resorted to if the amount to the credit of the share redemption fund referred to in clause (ii) of rule 10 is less than five lakhs of rupees.

(2) In redeeming the shares issued to parties other than the State Government:

(a) the shares issued earlier shall be preferred to those issued later,

(b) full face-value of the shares with guaranteed dividend still due shall be paid.

12. (1) The financial year of the Corporation shall be from the 1st of April to the 31st of March next following.

(2) Annual Budget Statements shall be submitted by the Corporation to the State Government on or before the fifteenth day of November in each year as nearly as possible in the form given in Schedule II to these rules.

(3) The Corporation may without the previous sanction of the State Government incur expenditure under any head or in connection with any particular scheme in excess of the budget allotments only up to a limit of twenty-five thousand rupees for recurring expenditure and one lakh of rupees for non-recurring expenditure in a financial year. The Corporation shall, however, report to the State Government the circumstances under which it has become necessary to incur such expenditure.

(4) If in respect of any financial year, expenditure over and above the total amount provided for in the budget estimates becomes necessary or is incurred in terms of sub-rule (3), a supplementary estimate shall be prepared by the Corporation and submitted to the State Government by the first day of January in the same manner as the annual budget.

13. The number of members necessary to constitute a quorum at a meeting of the Corporation shall be three, of whom at least one shall be a representative of the State Government.

14. (1) The Corporation shall keep such books of account as the State Government may determine in consultation with the Corporation.

(2) All account books and registers shall be bound and all the pages thereof shall be numbered before being brought into use and all corrections and alterations in the accounts shall be made in ink and duly attested by a person authorised in this behalf by the Chief Accounts Officer.

15. (1) The annual accounts of the Corporation shall be audited by an auditor appointed by the State Government as soon as may be after the close of each financial year.

(2) The auditor shall see, while examining the accounts of the Corporation,—

(i) whether the books of account required to be kept under sub-rule (1) of rule 14 have been duly kept and whether the books of account and registers conform to the provisions of sub-rule (2) of rule 14;

(ii) whether the items of receipt and expenditure are stated in sufficient detail;

(iii) whether the payments were made under proper authority and are supported by vouchers; and

(iv) whether all sums received have been brought into account.

(3) The auditor may require the production of any document or the attendance before him of any person responsible for the preparation of the accounts of the Corporation, to enable him to obtain information for the proper conduct of audit.

16. The Corporation shall furnish the State Government with—

(a) an annual balance-sheet of the assets and liabilities of the Corporation as on the 31st March of every year;

(b) statements of the grants made by the Corporation to the Boards from time to time for executing the schemes entrusted to the Boards under section 24;

(c) such periodical reports as the State Government may direct showing the progress of development schemes, undertaken by the Corporation; and

(d) a report of the proceeding of each meeting of the Corporation as soon as possible after the meeting.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER

No. 3440Dis./D/11L-443/55.—6th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 20Dis./D/11L-443/55, dated the 6th January 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Metro Goldwyn Mayer India, Ltd., Metro House, 5 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13, and their employees represented by the Metro Goldwyn Mayer Employees' Union, 5 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Metro Goldwyn Mayer India, Ltd., Metro House, 5 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13, and their employees represented by the Metro Goldwyn Mayer Employees' Union, 5 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13 (case No. VIII—15 of 1956).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, THIRD FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For Messrs. Metro Goldwyn Mayer India, Ltd: Shri S. K. Mullick (Jr.) of Messrs. Sandersons and Morgans, Solicitors.

For Metro Goldwyn Mayer Employees' Union: Shri S. K. Acharyya, Bar.-at-Law, assisted by Shri Suprobhat Mukherjee.

Demand for bonus for the year 1953-54 submitted by the employees of Messrs. Metro Goldwyn Mayer India, Ltd., gave rise to this reference made by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 20Dis./D/11L-443/55, dated Calcutta, the 6th January 1956.

The issue referred for adjudication is as follows:—

> Are the employees entitled to any bonus for the financial year 1953-54? if so, what?

The case of the Union as set forth in the written statement is that the employees were receiving bonus every year and were thus entitled to have the same in customary right. In the year under reference the Company did not make any payment as the election of Professor Nirmal Bhattacherjee as President and that of Srijut Haripada Chatterjee as Secretary of the Union was not to their liking. The Union failed to bring the management round to a reasonable frame of mind and had therefore to move the authorities of the Labour Department for redress of the grievance. Claim has been laid for bonus at the rate of eight weeks' total emoluments.

The Company resisted the claim and denied that the employees had any customary right to receive bonus. It was submitted that the Company had suffered loss in the years 1951, 1952 and 1953 and hence no bonus was paid in those years. As a result of representations made by the employees during those years for some payment, the Company exercised its discretion in their favour and made ex gratia payment solely as a gesture and goodwill without creating any precedence for the future. In 1954, the losses were still heavier and hence no payment of any amount was possible. Regarding the allegation that the election of Professor Nirmal Bhattacherjee and Shrijut Haripada Chatterjee had caused annoyance or irritation to the management, the Company has given a categorical denial.

The Union's case appears in paragraph 3 to be one of customary right. Plainly this is not a case for bonus to be paid out of surplus profits, nor is this strictly speaking a case of a right to recover bonus as a condition of service arising from implied agreement. Reported cases dealing with cases for annual bonus on the footing that the right was rooted in the conditions of service have been placed in course of argument. In my view those cases are inappropriate having regard to the case made out in paragraph 3 of the written statement. P.W. 1 admitted in his evidence that he did not know if bonus used to be paid on profits or as a condition of service. According to P.W. 1 bonus is being paid since 1947. Ext. B(1) is a letter written by the Managing Director to the Secretary of the Union intimating that the authorities at the head office in New York had accepted the recommendation of the local office for ex gratia payment to the employees for the year ending 31st August 1953. Ext. B is the communication addressed to the Company by the Union and the members individually signifying their willingness to accept ex gratia payment of four weeks' basic salary, in satisfaction of their claim for bonus. Ext. A is a receipt granted for the ex gratia payment made in accordance with the letter aforesaid. These documents prove conclusively that the Company was not willing to concede the existence of any right in the employees to receive bonus in those years. They decided however to make some payment to keep them contented and the employees accepted the same without protest. On behalf of the Union, the learned Counsel cited a case reported in 1954, L.A.C., page 18. In that case claim was pressed on the footing that payment of annual bonus was a condition of service founded on implied agreement. I have already observed that in view of the pleadings this aspect of the case does not fall for consideration. Still the learned Counsel having relied on this case I may make my observations thereon. In the case cited, bonus had all along been paid since 1945 although the Company had incurred losses in all those years excepting one year when the profits earned were negligible. According to their Lordships, the conduct of the Company to a certain extent excluded the element of bounty. Although the evidence was not very strong an agreement to pay bonus irrespective of profits could, in their Lordships' view, be implied. In the present case element of bounty has not been excluded, for, in express terms the Company gave the employees to understand that this was nothing better than ex gratia payment. The employees accepted the payment with the string thus attached. They cannot therefore turn round and say that payment in years of loss excludes the element of bounty.

The case set up by the Union is that a practice had grown up in terms of which bonus was being paid year after year. If it is treated simply as a practice there is nothing to prevent the Company from setting a period to it and withdrawing the concession. A practice of this nature cannot be treated as binding forever or of perpetual effect. Treated a little more liberally the case may be considered to be one of a customary right. The law as administered in course of civil jurisdiction recognises customary rights but in order to crystallise into a right a custom must be immemorial, reasonable, and certain and further the enjoyment must have been as of right and neither by violence nor by stealth nor by leave granted (36, C.L.J., page 20). As in this case payment was made as a gesture of goodwill and was described as ex gratia payment, it is not possible to affirm that the employees had received bonus during these years as of right. Payment by agreement in the terms referred to is negation of the important element that the enjoyment must have been as of right. Secondly, a right to ripen into a customary right must be ancient. That element is also absent. In these circumstances the Tribunal cannot hold that the employees have acquired any right to receive bonus as claimed. The Company had the option to grant their prayer or to refuse it. It is hence awarded that the employees are entitled to any bonus for 1953-54 as of right.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Britannia Engineering Works, Ltd., Titaghar, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Britannia Engineering Sramik Union, B. T. Road, Titaghar, 24-Parganas, referred under Government order No. 1256-Dis. D/10L-6/56, dated 23rd March 1956.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the employees: Shri Suren Dhar Chowdhury, Secretary, Britannia Engineering Sramik Union.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Assistant Labour Adviser of Indian Engineering Association.

By Government order No. 1256Dis./D/10L-6/56, dated 23rd March 1956, the aforesaid dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The issues as contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Should the Management subsidise the canteen to enable the workmen to have mid-day meals at concessional rates?

(2) Has there been any cut in piece-rates and if so, what should be the fair piece-rates?

(3) Whether new recruits should be confirmed on completion of six months' continuous service in compliance with the certified standing orders?

AWARD

Notice of the aforesaid dispute having been served on the parties, the Union filed its written statement on 5th May 1956 and the Company on 23rd June 1956. The case of the Union is that the canteen maintained by the Company in the factory at present serves no good to the workmen. The workmen are not allowed to use the dining hall for recess, nor do they get cheap mid-day meals. The grievance of the Union on this score is that unless the Company meets the establishment charges and other necessary expenses for the maintenance of the canteen, the object of the canteen will remain unfulfilled. The Union has further stated that there has been cut in the rates of the piece-rated workers during the last two years, as a result of which their wages have gone down considerably in relation to their past wages. Accordingly, the Union claimed that fair wages should be given to the piece-rated workers with full compensation for loss of their wages during the period in question. The Union has further contended in its written statement that the Company does not care to follow the provision of the certified standing orders in the matter of confirmation of new recruits on completion of six months' continuous service. The Company discontinues the services of such workmen just before the expiry of the period of six months, thereby disentitling them to permanency of service, and again recruit new hands who also go out of employment in the same way, as a result of which the new recruits are never confirmed in their services.

The Company, in reply, has stated in its written statement that it started a canteen according to the directions of the First Major Engineering Tribunal Award of 1948, and maintains the same in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act and rules made thereunder. The Management of the canteen is entrusted to a Managing Committee consisting of four persons, two of whom are elected by the workmen and two are nominated by the Manager. It denied the statement of the Union that the workmen were not allowed to use the dining hall of the Canteen during recess hours. It maintains that the dining hall is kept open during recess and lunch hours, and is utilised by the workmen every day. Regarding the alleged cut in piece-rates, the Company denied the allegation of the Union that it indulged in wilful wage cutting of the piece-rated workmen. As regards confirmation of new recruits on completion of six months' continuous service, the Company wants to say that the question of such confirmation arises only in cases of probationers recruited on permanent vacancies, and that the said provision of the standing orders does not extend to temporary workmen, who are taken from time to time on account of temporary requirements, and whose period of service entirely depends on the duration of temporary work for which they are engaged. The Company has stated further that there is no such provision in the standing orders of the Company for confirmation of such temporary workmen.

Issue No. 1.—Should the Management subsidise the canteen to enable the workmen to have mid-day meals at concessional rates?—Admittedly, there is a canteen in the factory of the Company. It appears that the Company maintains the said canteen in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act and rules made thereunder. O.P.W. 1 Shri V. S. Raghuvanshi, who is the Personnel Manager of the Company had deposed in this case. From his evidence, it appears that in the canteen, which is maintained inside the factory, sweets, snacks, tea, etc., are catered, and that about 450 workers purchase the said materials from the canteen on an average per day. He has deposed that the dining hall in the canteen is also used by the workmen, who bring food from home, as they take the said food in the dining hall of the canteen during recess hours. In face of such positive testimony of the Personnel Manager, the version of the Union as made in the written statement that the workmen are not allowed to use the dining hall for recess, cannot be believed. It has further transpired from the evidence of the Personnel Manager that the Company provides crockery, cutlery, utensils, electricity, furniture, etc., for the canteen, and also pays Rs. 378 per month on an average for maintaining the staff of the canteen and for the cost of coal, fuel, etc. There is also a Canteen Committee, which consists of employers's and employees' representatives in equal number. In my view, the Company has done, what it is required to do in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act and the rules made thereunder. The Management subsidises the canteen by paying a handsome amount per month. It is for the Canteen Committee to decide as to menu and price to be settled for mid-day meals. It is up to that Committee to take steps as to what would be the concessional rate for mid-day meals. Such a thing is a matter of detail, and it is for the Canteen Committee or for the Works Committee to settle it, and the Management cannot be directed to do anything further in this respect. This issue is decided accordingly.

Issue No. 2.—Has there been any cut in piece-rates and if so, what should be the fair piece-rates?—In fixing a piece-rate, one is to calculate everything to a nicety. This requires, among others, time and motion study and the degree of fatigue involved. There is no material before this Tribunal to enable it to consider whether the existing piece-rate is unfair, and should be revised. It must also be remembered that piece-rate once fixed in a scientific way, should not be easily disturbed. In the instant case, the grievance of the Union was that there has been cut in piece-rates, but the Union produced no material whatsoever before this Tribunal to support its contention. On the contrary, the Company has examined its Personnel Manager and has produced cost sheets (Ext. A-series). The oral and documentary evidence as adduced on the side of the Company, points to the clear direction that during the last few years, there has been no reduction or cut in piece-rates. So, on a consideration of the material placed before it, the Tribunal feels no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that there has been no cut or reduction in piece-rates. It being so, the question of fixing fair piece-rates does not and cannot arise at all in this case. This issue is thus decided.

Issue No. 3.—Whether new recruits should be confirmed on completion of six months' continuous service in compliance with the certified standing orders?—The Company has produced certified standing orders, and it is

Ext. B. From the said standing orders, it is evident that the workmen in this concern are classified into four categories, (1) permanent or regular workmen, (2) probationers, (3) temporary workmen and (4) trade apprentices. It appears that only the probationers, who are provisionally employed to fill vacancies in regular posts, are to be confirmed on completion of six months' continuous service in compliance with the certified standing orders. According to the Company, they have got some temporary hands in their factory. These temporary hands are recruited for some temporary work in anticipation of construction of some new factory. O.P.W. 1 the Personnel Manager has denied that these temporary hands were discharged and again reappointed. He, on the other hand, has deposed on oath that the Company pays to these temporary hands the same wages as they do pay to other workmen, and they also enjoy other benefits and facilities, which the workers of the Company do enjoy. Whatever might be that, according to the provisions of the certified standing orders, such temporary workmen are not entitled to be confirmed on completion of six months' service, as these temporary workmen are appointed for a limited period of work of an essentially temporary nature. Therefore, the new recruits who are taken as such temporary workmen are not entitled to confirmation on completion of six months' continuous service. The contention of the Union is, therefore, untenable and cannot be accepted regarding the new recruits, who are taken in as temporary workmen. This issue is answered accordingly.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Butto Kristo Paul & Co., Limited, 1 and 3 Bonfield's Lane, Calcutta, and their employee Shri Prahlad Mistry, represented by Butto Kristo Paul & Co. Ltd. Employees' Union, 23/A Netaji Subhas Road (top floor), Calcutta.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Employee: Shri Samar Roy, Vice-President of the Butta Kristo Paul & Co., Ltd., Employees' Union.

For the Company. Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

By Government order No. 1583Dis./D/11L-12(A)Pt/56, dated 19th April 1956, the above industrial dispute has been referred to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

The issues as contained in the schedule to the order of reference are as follows:—

(1) Is the discharge of Shri Prahlad Mistry justified? To what relief is he entitled?

(2) Is any sum payable to the said workman on account of earned wages?

AWARD

The case of the employee, Shri Prahlad Mistry, in short is that he was continuously in the service of the Company since November 1952 on a salary of Rs 63 per month, but he was suddenly retrenched with effect from 1st Jyaistha of 1362 B.S. He was not given any retrenchment relief under the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is further alleged that at the time of his retrenchment, his salary for six months was due. Accordingly, retrenchment compensation for 1½ months' wages, one month's wages in lieu of notice and also arrears of wages for six months have been claimed on behalf of the workman concerned.

In reply, the Company stated that Shri Prahlad Mistry, who was a plumber, was not a regular workman of the Company, but he was something of a petty contractor engaged on a monthly basis. The Company has further contended that Shri Prahlad Mistry had not been in continuous service of the Company as alleged, and that he was, therefore, not entitled to any retrenchment compensation as contemplated under the Act. The Company terminated the engagement of Shri Prahlad Mistry by way of retrenchment, in view of its financial difficulties.

Issue No. 1.—Is the discharge of Shri Prahlad Mistry justified? To what relief is he entitled?—On a consideration of the matter, I am convinced that Shri Prahlad Mistry had to be discharged, in view of the bad financial position of the Company. This fact was not and could not be denied by Shri Prahlad Mistry himself, while giving evidence before the Tribunal. Accordingly, the Tribunal holds that the discharge of Shri Prahlad Mistry was justified.

The workman concerned is entitled to get retrenchment relief as provided in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. In my view, this is a case, which would attract the provisions of section 25F, and it makes no difference whether the discharge of the employee concerned by way of retrenchment is justified or not. But the Company wanted to defeat this claim of the employee concerned by contending that Shri Prahlad Mistry was not a regular workman under the Company, but he was something of a petty contractor engaged on a monthly basis, and that the contract with him was contract for service, and not contract of service. On a consideration of the evidence adduced by the parties, I feel no doubt or hesitation in saying that Shri Prahlad Mistry was a regular workman employed by the Company on a monthly pay. By no means, it can be held that he was a contractor, with whom there was contract for service and not contract of service. The Company, in my view, has signally failed to establish that Shri Prahlad Mistry was employed as their contractor. On the contrary, the evidence of the witness examined on behalf of the Company points to the direction that Shri Prahlad Mistry came within the ambit of "workman" as defined in section 2(s) of the Act. So, there is no substance or merit in the contention of the Company that Shri Prahlad Mistry was not a workman, but was a contractor. The Tribunal is of the view that Shri Prahlad Mistry was a workman within the meaning of the Act. That being so, Shri Prahlad Mistry is undoubtedly entitled to get retrenchment compensation as provided in section 25F of the Act.

Therefore, the point for decision in this respect is what would be the amount of such compensation. It is laid down in clause (b) of section 25F that the workman shall at the time of retrenchment be entitled to get compensation, which shall be equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of 6 months. This necessarily requires determination of the length of such service of the workman concerned in the Company and also of his pay. Regarding pay, there is no dispute or controversy between the parties. The version of the Company is that Shri Prahlad Mistry used to get Rs. 63 as his pay per month, and that no dearness allowance was paid to him. Shri Prahlad Mistry has also admitted in his evidence that he used to get Rs. 63 only as his pay, and did not get any dearness allowance. But the dispute centres round the question of his period of service for the purpose of assessing the amount of retrenchment compensation payable under section 25F of the Act. As stated already, the workman concerned is entitled under the law to get compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of 6 months. Section 25B provides that for the purposes of sections 25C and 25F, a workman, who during a period of 12 calendar months has actually worked in an industry for not less than two hundred and forty days, shall be deemed to have completed one year of continuous service in the industry. In Explanation to that section, it has been laid down that in computing the number of days, on which a workman has actually worked in an industry, the days on which he has been on leave with full wages, shall be included. In the instant case, it appears from the oral and documentary evidence furnished by the Company that this worker had gone on leave from 14th Ashar 1360 B.S. and joined on 1st Agrahayan of that year, and that during this period he did not get any wages. The worker concerned has also admitted in his evidence that he had gone home for some months after taking leave in the year 1953, and that he got no pay while he was on leave. That he got no wages while on leave during the period from 14th Ashar 1360 B.S. to 1st Agrahayan of that year, is thus an admitted fact. It being so, the above period should be excluded while computing the number of days, on which he actually worked in the Company for that year. Admittedly, this workman served the Company from November 1952 till 3rd May 1955, when he was retrenched. The period as noted above, that is the period while he was on leave without wages, cannot be taken into account in computing one year of continuous service within the meaning of section 25B for the purpose of section 25F of the Act. According to section 25B of the Act, in order to qualify for one year's continuous service, the actual work aggregating to at last 240 days should be done within a span of 12 calendar months. That section clearly lays down that the actual work for not less than 240 days should be done during a period of 12 calendar months. The workman must satisfy two conditions before he can claim the benefits offered by section 25F. The first condition is that he must have put in 12 calendar months' service with the employer. The second condition is that during this service of 12 calendar months, he must have actually worked for not less than 240 days. Judged by the above tests, it appears that this workman in the year 1952 worked only for two months (that is for November and December only), which was far below 240 days and less than 6 months during a period of 12 calendar months, and that during the year 1953, he worked for 223 days only (that is from January 1953 to 27th June 1953=178 days and from 17th November 1953 to 31st December 1953=45 days). So, for the years 1952 and 1953, this workman is not entitled to get any retrenchment compensation. For the year 1955 also, he is entitled to no compensation. He was retrenched on 3rd May 1955. This indicates that his service for this year fell short of six months. But it is abundantly clear that in the year 1954, he was in continuous service of the Company, and had actually worked for 313 days in course of 12 calendar months. Hence, for the year 1954 only, Shri Prahlad Mistry is entitled to get retrenchment compensation, which shall be equivalent to 15 days' average pay, that is Rs. 31-8.

Next question for consideration is whether the workman concerned is entitled to get one month's wages in lieu of notice. In the present case, one month's notice as required under section 25F was not admittedly given to the workman. But a letter was given to this workman by the Managing Director of the Company on 3rd May 1955 and it is Ext. 1. From this letter, it appears that the workman concerned was informed that his services would not be required with effect from 1st Jyaistha 1362 B.S. 3rd May 1955 corresponded to 19th Baishakh 1362 B.S. From that letter (Ext. 1) it appears further that the Management agreed to pay wages to the workman till 31st Baishakh 1362 B.S. The workman concerned has also admitted in his evidence that he got his wages from the Company up to 31st Baishakh 1362 B.S., and that nothing was due to him for arrears of wages. So, on a consideration of the matter, I am of the view that this workman is entitled to get wages for 18 days more (that is for the remaining days to complete one month) in lieu of notice, and such wages shall be calculated at the rate of Rs. 63 per month, which was the basic salary of the workman concerned. It is accordingly awarded that the above payments be made to Shri Prahlad Mistry within 14 days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette. This issue is decided thus.

Issue No. 2.—Is any sum payable to the said workman on account of earned wages?—It was stated in the written statement filed on behalf of the workman that his earned wages for six months were also due from the Company, and accordingly a claim was laid for the same. But at the time of hearing, this part of the claim was abandoned by the workman concerned. He has deposed that he got his arrears of wages for six months, which were due to him. He has also admitted that he got the same about 5/6 months ago. In view of this clear and unequivocal statement of the worker, the Tribunal holds that nothing is payable to this workman on account of earned wages. This issue is accordingly answered in the negative.

This is my award.

ORDER

No. 3466Dis./D/11L-14/56.—7th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4685Dis./D/11L-12/53, dated the 7th December 1953, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Waterproof Works (1940), Ltd., Panihati, 24-Parganas, and their workers as represented by the Bengal Waterproof Workers' Union, Kamarhatty, 24-Parganas, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, a complaint was filed before it against the said Company by Shri Bimalendu Ghose and 338 other workers of the said Company alleging that the said Company had altered, to the prejudice of the said workers, the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of said proceedings;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by Bimalendu Ghose and 338 others of Messrs. Bengal Waterproof Works (1940), Ltd., 32 Theatre Road, Calcutta, represented by Bengal Waterproof Workers' Union, P.O. Panihati, 24-Parganas, against the aforesaid Company (case No. 106—33A of 1954).

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 4685Dis./D/11L-12/53, dated 7th December 1953.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act preferred by 339 employees of Messrs. Bengal Waterproof Works, Ltd., on the alleged violation of section 33 by the Company refusing to grant annual increment for the year 1954.

The Company's case is that losses were suffered in 1953, to such an extent that the Company's finances did not permit of granting any increment. There was no award in force by virtue of which the employees could claim as of right, increment for the year in question.

Parties settled their differences by friendly treaty and embodied the terms of settlement in a petition filed before the Tribunal. The terms are fair and reasonable. An award is accordingly made in terms of the settlement, the compromise petition being treated as part thereof in the form of an annexure.

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:

That the parties abovenamed have settled their disputes in terms of an agreement enclosed herewith.

It is therefore humbly prayed that the Tribunal will be pleased to pass a "no dispute" award in terms of the agreement enclosed herewith.

And for this act of kindness your petitioners as in duty bound shall ever pray.

Dated Calcutta, the 24th July 1956.

BIMALENDU GHOSH,
Secretary,
Bengal Waterproof Workers' Union,
R. N. 494,

THIS AGREEMENT made this 24th day of July 1956, between BENGAL WATERPROOF WORKS (1940), LIMITED, hereafter called the Company of the one part and BENGAL WATERPROOF WORKERS' UNION hereinafter called the Union of the other part;

WHEREAS there are pending certain disputes between the Company and the Union and WHEREAS the parties are desirous of settling the disputes amicably for smooth and better working of the Company, the parties thereto agree to the following terms of settlement in the matters of incremental grade-scale, annual bonus, economic production, etc.

1. Incremental grade-scale.—(a) The Union agrees to give up its claim for increment of salary/wages for the years 1954 and 1955 in order to assist in the economic reorganisation and reconstruction of the Company. The Union agrees to withdraw its cases pending before the Industrial Tribunals.

(b) The Company agrees to pay increment of salary/wages for the year 1956 according to the 1948 grade-scale.

(c) It is mutually agreed that the 1948 grade-scale is modified as per attached schedule with effect from 1st January 1957.

2. The Company agrees to pay its employees on the completion of this agreement only one ex gratia payment equal to 7½ days' basic salary/wages plus 7½ days' dearness allowance as on 31st December 1955. This is in addition to the ex gratia payment declared by the Company's notice, dated 17th October 1955.

3. Annual bonus.—(a) The Company agrees to pay for 1956 onwards its employees as annual bonus, equivalent in amount to 25 per cent. (twenty-five per cent.) of the net profit of the Company for the year before deducting income-tax, to be paid proportionately to basic salary/wages plus dearness allowance, with a minimum amount equal to half month's basic salary/wages plus half month's dearness allowance and a maximum amount equal to three months' basic salary/wages plus three months' dearness allowance.

(b) It is agreed that the minimum bonus as mentioned above will be paid three weeks before the Puja holidays of the year for which bonus is payable and the balance, if any, will become payable after the net profit of the year is finally ascertained.

(c) The Union has no claim for any arrear bonus for any year up to 31st December 1955.

(d) The above payments will be subject to rules regarding payment of bonus that will be framed in agreement between the parties.

4. Economic production.—The Union agrees to raise existing production norms. Such norms, which have been under discussion between the Company representatives and the Union's representatives, will be mutually settled and finalised within two months from date. If the settlement about revised production norms together with provision by the Company of facilities for extra production to enable workers to obtain increased earnings does not materialise the Company will not in that case be bound to pay the minimum annual bonus as indicated in clause 3 mentioned above.

5. Regarding refixation in grades, jobs will be revalued and grades fixed on such revaluation where possible, and in other cases on some suitable principle. For this purpose, the Company will appoint a Consulative Fixation Committee, consisting of the representatives of the Company and the Union.

6. About the Company's proposal for introduction of a new "D" grade for non-productive workers on an experimental and temporary basis, this will be settled later by mutual agreement.

7. Other matters raised by both the parties will be discussed and settled by mutual agreement at later stage.

8. This agreement will be valid and binding on the parties for three years from date. At the end of three years, the position will be reviewed in the light of the circumstances then existing, and if necessary, a fresh agreement on all matters will be entered into.

IN WITNESS whereof the parties hereto have signed this agreement the day and the year first above written.

ORDER

No. 3500Dis/D/4L-12/55.—9th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2546Dis./D/4L-12/55, dated the 8th June 1955, the industrial dispute between Shri D. N. Biswas, owner of bus No. WBU332 of 18/1 Chandi Ghosh Road, Tollygunge, Calcutta, and his employee, named in the schedule thereto, represented by Howrah District Bus Workers' Union of 342/1 G. T. Road, Salkia, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Shri D. N. Biswas, owner of the bus No. WBU332 of 18/1 Chandi Ghosh Road, Tollygunge, Calcutta, and his employee Shri Mrinal Bose, represented by the Howrah District Bus Workers' Union of 342/1 G. T. Road, Salkia, Howrah.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Union: Shri Saroj Ghosal of the Union and Shri Prodip Sen, President, Howrah District Bus Workers' Union.

Present for the Employer: Shri A. Gan, General Secretary of the Joint Service Committee.

1. By Government order No. 2546Dis./D/4L-12/55, dated the 8th June 1955, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 15th June 1955. After usual notices, the Union filed written statement on 25th July 1955. The employer filed written objection on 15th September 1955. The case was taken up for hearing on 21st May 1956. But at the suggestion of the parties for an amicable settlement of the dispute, the hearing was adjourned. But no settlement could be reached. So the case was taken up for hearing again on 7th June 1956, and the evidence was concluded on that day. The argument was heard in part on 14th June 1956, and finally it was concluded on 24th July 1956. The award was reserved.

3. The only issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows:—

> If the discharge of Shri Mrinal Bose was justified; to what relief including reinstatement and/or any other compensation is he entitled?

AWARD

4. Before I discuss the issue specifically, I would like to refer to the brief history of the dispute. According to the Union, the Howrah District Bus Workers' Union was formed on 31st May 1954 in respect of workers numbering about 330 of buses plying in routes Nos. 51, 54, 56 and 60 in the district of Howrah. Thereafter the Union placed its charter of demands to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, and to the individual owners of buses on 25th August 1954. The present petitioner, Shri Mrinal Bose, who was a driver under the employer Shri D. N. Biswas, was the Organising Secretary of the aforesaid Union. Then, during the period between 31st May 1954 and 6th September 1954 the owners of buses in the aforesaid routes discharged as many as 18 workmen serving under them without any reason being assigned and without any charge-sheet being given to them. Mrinal Babu along with one Sukharanjan Chakravorty and others championed the cause of the said victimised workers. They waited on a deputation before the District Magistrate, Howrah, and the Regional Transport Authority in September 1954. Eventually there had been a conciliation proceeding started by the Labour authorities, and those 18 workmen had their reinstatement in service in November 1954. But just before this Shri Mrinal Bose, the Organising Secretary of the Union, was discharged on 1st October 1954 without any charge-sheet and without any reason being shown. So Shri Mrinal Bose, the present petitioner, claims reinstatement, and also compensation for the period of forced unemployment.

The employer contends that he is an East Bengal refugee, and owns a single bus. He purchased the bus at a heavy outlay, but his transport business proved to be a losing one. He accuses the driver Shri Bose with the charges of rash driving and causing damages to his bus in course of the driver's 10 months and 15 days' service. It is further said that Shri Mrinal Bose used to withhold a portion of the day's collection without the employer's permission. He was warned by the employer against committing accidents by rash driving, and against allowing other drivers to ply the bus without the employer's permission. Shri Mrinal Bose was a temporary workman employed in the leave vacancy of one Kartic Chandra Das. After his discharge Shri Bose was fully paid his dues. But Shri Bose, however, kicked up a "row" on 30th September 1954, and abused the employer in filthy language. This is the employer's version of the story of the present case. The employer, later on, has taken legal objections that the present dispute being an "individual dispute" as distinguished from an "industrial dispute", the Tribunal has got no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon it, and also that Mrinal Bose is not competent to raise a dispute after his discharge, as has been done in the present case.

Now, I would like to deal with the legal objections first before I discuss the case on merits.

Regarding the assertion that the present dispute is an individual dispute, it will have to be shown by evidence that the cause of the workman in question was not espoused either by any Union or by his fellow workers, prior to the date of reference. The evidence, of course, is rather meagre so far as the question that the fellow workers of this man had made his grievances their own cause directly. But the evidence is abundantly clear that the Union had taken up his cause long before the date of reference. I refer to the Ext. 2, dated the 8th November 1954. This is a copy of the proceedings of the joint discussions on the 8th November 1954, under the name of Shri B. K. Basu, Assistant Labour Commisssioner, Howrah, West Bengal. I quote from the paragraph 4: "As regards Sukharanjan, Bharat and Mrinal, as employers concerned cannot agree to reinstate them it is proposed that the dispute over their dismissal be referred to a Tribunal for adjudication, on the understanding that the Union will withdraw the contemplated strike". Thus, it is clear that the Union had espoused the cause of Mrinal Babu as far back as the 8th November 1954, if not earlier, and that the Union was contemplating to resort to a strike over the dismissal of the above workmen. The Ext. 2(a) gives the names of the other workers who were similarly discharged. The Ext. 2(b) also shows that the President of the Union wrote to the District Magistrate over the dismissal of Shri M. Bose on 1st October 1954. The date of the present reference is the 8th June 1955. So it is clear that Shri Mrinal Bose was discharged, and his discharge was taken up by his Union long before the date of reference. It is contended by the employer that there is no document to show that the Union was specifically authorised by Shri Mrinal Bose to represent his case. But that is neither here nor there. The question of "representation" by a Union is something different from the question of one's cause being espoused by a Union. So far as the "representation' is concerned the order of reference is explicit, and perhaps says the last word. So it is clear that the present dispute, though originally it had been between Shri Mrinal Bose and his employer was developed into a dispute between the employer and the Union of which the said Mrinal Bose was a member. So it developed into a collective dispute and, as such, there can be no question of the present dispute being an industrial dispute.

The argument that Shri Mrinal Bose being an ex-employee cannot be a "workman" is merely an attempt of a dying man to catch at a straw. A "dismissed workman" is a "workman" as defined in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 as I shall show presently. A dispute raised in connection with his non-employment falls within the definition of industrial dispute in section 2(k). This was decided in the case of Ganesh Das Ramgopal versus the Government of U.P., reported at page 479 of the Indian Factories Journal of February 1953. Further reference may be made to the famous cases of Western India Automobile Association versus Industrial Tribunal (1949), reported in 1 F.J.R., page 97, and India Paper Pulp Co., Ltd., versus Workers' Union, reported in 1 F.J.R., page 119. Both are the decisions of the Hon'ble Federal Court. I may refer also to the decision of Mr. Justice Mack of the Madras High Court in the famous Kandan Textile Ltd. versus Industrial Tribunal case. I quote from His Lordship's observations: "If such a dismissal, however, even of an individual workman is taken up by Workers' Union or a substantial body of workmen who continue in employment and espouse his cause, then an industrial dispute may arise".

His Lordship Bind Basni Prasad of the Allahabad High Court in the case of Ganesh Das Ramgopal observed: "It is admitted on behalf of the applicant that if any dispute is taken up by other workmen of the industrial establishment or by their Union, then it would become an industrial dispute". The most recent case of the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court can be found in the C.W.N., Vol. LX, dated the 16th July 1956. Mr. Justice Sinha found in the case of Bengal Club, Ltd. versus Santi Ranjan as follows: "Where an individual workman is dismissed and his dismissal is not objected to by any Union of workmen or by a majority of his fellow workmen, that is an individual dispute between the employer and an individual workman, and is not an 'industrial dispute' and never developed into one". From this it is clear that if the majority of the fellow workmen or any Union of workmen espouse an individual dispute, then it turns into an industrial dispute even though it might not be originally so. So the position is perfectly clear. In the present case there is no question of the dispute being an industrial dispute, though it might look as an individual dispute in the context of circumstances.

Regarding the maintainability of the present dispute in law by an ex-workman, the position is not different. It can be maintained as such as is clear from the aforesaid cases. Besides, the evidence makes it clear that there had been already a pre-existing dispute over the discharge of certain workmen, and Mrinal Babu was pushing their cause. Then followed his own dismissal. So he was discharged in course of a dispute and, as such, comes within the definition of "workman".

Next, I consider the question on merits. It is admitted that Shri Mrinal Bose was given no charge-sheet, and there was no enquiry held before his discharge, nor after that. The discharge certificate was given to him only when he refused to stop running the vehicle. That will appear from the Ext. 1, which is the discharge certificate. But it does not speak of any reason for his discharge. So it is clear that the employer had practically nothing before him to justify the discharge of Shri Mrinal Bose. It is only in the written statement that the management comes forward with a statement that the facts pleaded in paragraphs 3, 4, 5 and 6 of the said written statement constitute the cause of his discharge. But in the evidence the employer could not substantiate any of them. By the Ext. C the employer wanted to show that Mrinal Babu was involved in an accident. But the Exhibit does not show that on its face. Besides, it might be that the accident was of such a nature over which the driver could not have any control. It does not appear that the driver was ever convicted and fined by any Court of Law for any accident. Then, regarding the charge of rash driving, there is no evidence at all. Then again, regarding the alleged unauthorised taking of a moiety of the day's collection, some receipts have been filed. But these may show that such practice was only usual. It is admitted that the driver defrayed the expenses of running repairs of the bus from the day's collection and adjusted the same later on. Had the employer really taken any exception to such conduct of the driver, he would certainly have demanded an explanation from the driver. But there is no evidence to that effect. So it appears that the employer is piling up these charges only to justify his action of discharge which could not otherwise be accounted for. Besides, the employer practically keeps mum over the fact that Mrinal Babu had Union activities. There is ample evidence to this effect in writing. So it is likely that Mrinal Babu had incurred the displeasure of his employer along with those of other employers of the aforesaid transport service who had an organisation of their own. That is why Mrinal Babu was served with the dismissal or discharge order without any charge-sheet, without any enquiry and without showing any reason. If such a conduct on the part of an employer is condoned, then that would put the cause of progress of the labour movement backward. In that case there would be hardly any employee who would be brave enough to have active part in Trade Union movement because that would entail loss of his service. Service now a days is hard to procure. Loss of service may mean starvation and ruin to a worker who generally lives from hand to mouth. So, in the circumstances, I set aside the order of dismissal or discharge of Shri Mrinal Bose, the present petitioner. I order his reinstatement within one month of the award coming into operation.

Regarding compensation for the period of forced unemployment, I have in evidence that Mrinal Babu had casual services during this period altogether to two months or so. He is also running a tailoring shop with his brother. Of course, it is not to be expected that a man though unjustly thrown out of employment, would be sanguine enough of his reinstatement and sit idle, therefore, in the hope of getting compensation for the period of unemployment. But at the same time we should remember that the employer also did not have the benefit of service of this man during that period, though for this he is to blame none but himself. So, in view of this, I award compensation at the rate of half his average monthly earnings during last two months just before his discharge, from 1st October 1954 up to the date of his reinstatement in service. This should be paid in three equal monthly instalments after the award becomes operative.

ORDER

No. 3555Dis./D/11L-275/56.—13th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5059Dis./D/11L-217/54, dated the 13th October 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Grant Advertising Inc., 16 Theatre Road, Calcutta, and Messrs. Imperial Tobacco Company of India, Ltd., 37 Chowringhee, Calcutta-16, and their workmen represented by Grant Advertising Calcutta Employees' Union, 27/3/2E, Kankulia Road, Ballygunge, Calcutta-19, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal a complaint in writing was made by Shri S. Roy and seven others, before the said Tribunal, against the said Companies, alleging that the said Companies had discharged the said workmen concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its interim award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said interim award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri S. Roy and seven others against Messrs. Grant Advertising Inc., 16 Theatre Road, Calcutta-16, and Messrs. Imperial Tobacco Co. of India, Ltd., 37 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-16. (Case No. 16 of 1956 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

For the Complainants—Shri P. R. Mukherji, assisted by Shri N. Podhi, Joint Secretary.

For Grant Advertising Inc.—Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, assisted by Mr. E. Foster, Manager.

For Imperial Tobacco Co. of India, Ltd.—Shri S. K. Banerji, Solicitor Shri H. H. Tayabjee.

INTERIM AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 5059Dis./D/11L-217/54, dated 13th October 1955, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Grant Advertising Inc., 16 Theatre Road, Calcutta, and Messrs. Imperial Tobacco Company of India, Ltd., 37 Chowringhee Calcutta-16 and their workmen represented by Grant Advertising Calcutta Employees' Union, 27/3/2E Kankulia Road, Calcutta-19, regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The proceedings arising out of this reference are still pending.

The Company by a notice, dated 14th January 1956, terminated the service of eight of the artists in their employ with immediate effect. On 16th January 1956 these eight artists filed a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, stating that the opposite party No. 1 Messrs. Grant Advertising Inc. and opposite party No. 2 Messrs. Imperial Tobacco Co. of India, Ltd., have been guilty of violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act in terminating the services of the petitioners. It is also stated that the order of discharge of the applicants was passed by the said opposite party No. 1 in collusion with the opposite party No. 2 with the object of victimising the applicants for their trade union activities. The petitioners pray for reinstatement and other further relief as the Tribunal may award.

The opposite party No. 1 Grant Advertising Inc. in their written statement denies that it was guilty of violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is stated that the petitioners were, until the termination of their services, employed by the opposite party No. 1 as artists in its Arts Studio and were not engaged in doing any skilled or unskilled, manual or clerical work with this opposite party and were not, therefore, "workmen" within the meaning of the term in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The petitioners were not, therefore, entitled to apply under section 33A of the Act as they have done. The opposite party No. 2, the Imperial Tobacco Co. of India, Ltd., in a separate written statement states that there is no employer-employee relationship between the petitioners and the opposite party No. 2 Imperial Tobacco Co. of India, Ltd., and that this opposite party is not in any way concerned with the business arrangements of Messrs. Grant Advertising Inc. Both the opposite parties, therefore, state that the petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by the applicants should be rejected.

The complaint under section 33A of the Act was taken up for hearing on 25th May 1956, and after a partial hearing, it was agreed between all the parties that the hearing of this case should be taken up either along with the hearing of the main reference, or after the disposal of that reference, as there are common points for decision in the main reference case as well as in this case.

On 14th July 1956 the petitioners filed an application for getting interim relief, pending decision of the prayer under section 33A of the Act mentioned above. The applicants prayed for receiving 50 per cent. of their wages up-to-date to maintain themselves on the grounds that,—

(a) they were stranded after their sudden and unjustified discharge, and

(b) they honestly believed that there was a very good chance of their ultimate success in this case.

The petition was fixed for hearing on 21st July 1956, and on that date a written statement was filed by the opposite party No. 1 Grant Advertising Incorporated. The parties agreed to address the court on that date and the case was heard on that date. The written statement of the Company opposite party No. 1 states as follows:

(1) The application for interim relief is not maintainable in law, inasmuch as, the applicants in question have already been discharged on economic grounds. In the reply to the application under section 33A of the Act, the opposite party submitted that the applicants were not "workmen", as contemplated under the Industrial Disputes Act. Unless this question is finally settled, this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain this application and give any award, final or interim.

(2) This application for interim relief is not a bona fide one, as on the last date of hearing, the applicants themselves prayed for adjournment of the case till the final disposal of the main case, in which all the employees of the opposite party raised the question whether they were the employees of this Company or of the Imperial Tobacco Co. of India, Ltd.

(3) On the applicants being discharged on economic grounds, the other employees of the opposite party, evidently at the instance of the applicants, staged a stay-in-strike and a conciliation proceeding was started and an agreement arrived at. In this settlement, it was agreed that the petitioners would return their cheques which were given to them on 14th January 1956 with the letters of discharge and the Management would give them the actual working period wages only, i.e., from 1st January 1956 to 15th January 1956, and that if the Tribunal's decision went in favour of the Management on the question whether artists were workmen, they would get the balance payable to them along with other legal dues, if any. This agreement is binding on the petitioners and they also ratified it by their conduct and returned the cheques to the Company in pursuance of the above agreement.

The two grounds which the petitioners advance are not sufficient to sustain a claim for interim relief as made. An interim relief can be asked for only in aid of the final relief that is likely to be given and in the case where money payments are prayed for as a measure of interim relief, the question of adjustment towards the final amount to be given must be kept in view (vide case of Messrs. Benett Colman & Co., 1954 L.A.C. 24). The money awarded in the interim relief should be capable of being merged and adjusted in the final relief. The question whether the petitioners are "workmen" and would be entitled to any relief by way of wages in the final adjudication of the case under section 33A of the Act, is of importance, in view of the claim for an interim relief of 50 per cent. of the wages for the period from the date of their discharge till date. Although a decision of the question is necessary for the final determination of the case, a prima facie decision on the point would be sufficient for a consideration of the present petition (vide the case of National Tobacco Co. of India, Ltd., 1952 L.A.C. 251). Again, even if this point were decided in favour of the petitioners, inasmuch as the dispute relates to termination of service, an interim award allowing wages or emoluments should not be made when there is a risk of the money awarded being not recoverable, if the termination of service be upheld in the final award• (vide the case of Punjab National Bank, 1952, L.A.C. 73 at page 80). An interim award could be made for a sum which would be payable to the petitioners, even if the claim of re-instatement failed as the sum could be adjusted at the final decision.

It has been decided in the case of Advertising Corporation of India, Calcutta versus Birendra Chandra Nag and others, which is reported in 1955 L.A.C. 634, that assistant artists in the Advertising Corporation, who got their idea from the Chief Artist, were not "workmen". The learned lawyer for the petitioners claimed that the facts of that case did not apply to the present one. That may be so when detailed evidence are adduced on the point at the time of the hearing. At the present stage, however, it would appear, in view of the decision quoted above, that the prima facie case is against the petitioners. Secondly, the claim for wages month by month till the present day by retrenched persons, even if they were workmen, would be unjustified as in case the claim of the petitioners were negatived in the section 33A case, there would be the risk of the money thus paid being not recoverable. An interim award could, however, be made as mentioned above for a sum which would be payable to the petitioners even if their claim for reinstatement were rejected. But in this respect the petitioners have shown a contrary desire, inasmuch as the additional emoluments which were paid to them in a cheque have been returned by the petitioners to the Company opposite party No. 1 in ratification of an agreement between the Union and the Company.

In these circumstances, there is nothing to warrant advance payment of any money to the petitioners by way of an interim relief, and the present petition should be rejected and it is awarded accordingly.

ORDER

No. 3520Dis./D/14L-8/56.—10th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2785Dis./D/14L-8/56, dated the 25th June 1956, the questions mentioned in the said order and relating to the interpretation of the award, published under the said department order No. 583Dis./D/14L-11/54, dated the 10th February 1956, was referred for decision to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said questions;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the award on the said questions as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of interpretation of the award given by this Tribunal in respect of an industrial dispute existing between Uttarpara Municipality and their workmen represented by Uttarpara-Kotrung Municipal Mazdoor Union, which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 23rd February 1956, under the Labour Department order No. 53Dis.-/D/14L-11/54, dated 10th February 1956.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the employees—Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

For the Company—Shri P. R. Mukherjee, Advocate.

By order No. 4024Dis./D/14L-11/54, dated 30th August 1955, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute existing between Uttarpara Municipality and their workmen represented by Uttarpara-Kotrung Municipal Mazdoor Union to this Tribunal for adjudication regarding certain matters, as mentioned in the order of reference. One of the items in respect of that dispute was probationary period of workmen, and it was issue No. (4) of the schedule to the said order of reference. This Tribunal duly gave its award on 25th January 1956 regarding the dispute, and it was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 23rd February 1956. After its publication, the Municipal Authorities wanted certain clarification regarding the decision of the Tribunal on the above issue No. (4). So, the Government by its order No. 2785Dis./D/14L-8/56, dated 25th June 1956, referred to this Tribunal for decision the following questions:

(1) Whether under issue No. (4) of the said award the workmen are to be confirmed, after six months' probationary period with benefits or without benefits.

(2) Whether under the said issue, the conservancy menials, who work under "No work no pay" system, are also to be similarly confirmed? If so, how?

I am, therefore, required to give my decision on the questions. But I doubt very much, if the Tribunal has got anything to do after the award is made and published in the Gazette. It seems that the Tribunal becomes functus officio after making a complete award, and has no power to clarify or interpret the award. This was the view taken in some cases, and the decisions in Pampa River Factory (1952 L.A.C., 591) and Kamdar, Ltd. [1952 (ii) L.L.J. 192] might be cited in this connection. Very recently, it has been held also in the case of Rajruani Transport, Ltd. versus Collector of Trichinapalli (1956 1 M.L.J., page 222), which has been printed also in notes portion (xci) of Calcutta Weekly Notes, volume LX, dated 7th May 1956, that once an award has been published in the Gazette, the Tribunal can do nothing further with the award—it has no power to alter, modify, clarify or even interpret the award. The State Government has made the present reference for interpretation of the award, presumably acting under rule 20A of the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1947. By notification No. 5268Dis./D/1R-3(A)/54, dated 18th November 1954, the aforesaid rule 20A was inserted in the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1947. The Tribunal does not like to say anything regarding the propriety or otherwise of the said rule, nor does it want to make any observation as to whether that rule is consistent with the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Though I am doubtful if the Tribunal can be required to offer interpretation of the award, I propose to consider the questions referred to the Tribunal, and give my decision on the same as desired by the Government. Notice on both parties to appear before the Tribunal was duly given, and I had the advantage of hearing the arguments made by the learned representatives of both sides.

Question No. 1.—While dealing with issue No. (4)—probationary period of workmen, this Tribunal observed as follows:

> "The demand of the Union is that on putting three months' satisfactory services, every workman be made permanent with all the benefits, to which a permanent worker is entitled. The Municipality resists this demand by saying that no question of probationary period arises at all in case of methors or sweepers, as they are treated as conservancy menials. I find no substance in this contention of the Municipality. I direct that a worker should be confirmed, if found honest and satisfactory after a probationary period of six months."

It will be thus clear from the above observation that the Tribunal held that the workmen, who will be confirmed and made permanent after a probationary period of six months, will get all the benefits, to which a permanent worker is entitled. This question is answered accordingly.

Question No. 2.—In deciding the said issue No. (4) the Tribunal overruled the contention of the Municipality to the contrary, and was of the view that methors or sweepers, who were conservancy menials, fell also within the category of workmen concerned in the issue. So, according to the award, the conservancy menials would be entitled to be similarly confirmed. The first portion of this question is answered thus.

Regarding the last portion of question No. 2, I think that it does not call for any decision from this Tribunal. It is up to the Municipal authorities to decide whether they would confirm or discharge such conservancy menials after a probationary period of six months. It will be quite open to the Municipality to discharge such of them, who are not found honest and satisfactory after this probationary period. Grant or refusal of leave to the conservancy menials during the probationary period will, however, be at the discretion of the Municipal authorities. It will be for the said authorities to decide also whether the period of leave taken by such conservancy menials beyond they were entitled to, should be treated continuity or break of service for calculating their probationary period as fixed under the award.

Dictated and corrected by me.

DECISION

By Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1989-Dis./D/10L-10/54, dated 7th April 1954, five items of industrial dispute between Messrs. Bhartia Iron and Steel, Ltd., and their workmen, represented by Bhartia Iron and Steel, Ltd. Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, were referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal.

The Tribunal gave its award which was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 17th March 1955. The items of industrial dispute for adjudication were—

(1) Increment.

(2) Bonus for 1953.

(3) Whether Shri Ram and Shri Bishwanath are surplus to the Company's requirements for crane drivers.

(4) Night shift allowance.

(5) Duty hours of lorry drivers.

The Tribunal decided issues 1, 3 and 4 against the workmen and awarded 1/8th of the total basic wages of the year 1953 as bonus and fixed the duty hours of the lorry drivers according to the provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act. The Company which appears to have denied its liability for bonus for 1953, has appealed against the decision on the issue of bonus. This is appeal No. Cal.-107 of 1955. The workmen's appeal (appeal No. Cal.-111 of 1955) is directed against the award on all the issues. These two appeals arising out of one and the same award have been heard together. We shall consider the appeals of both the parties on bonus last.

The first point, we proposed to take up, relates to increment. The workmen demand ad hoc increment of Rs. 10 per month of the basic wages of all categories of workers and employees with effect from 2nd June 1953, i.e., the date of the submission of the charter of demand, in consideration of their low wages. The workmen also urge in support of their demand that no increment has been given for years together. The Company opposes the demand and pleads that the wages paid to the workmen of the concern are not low as compared to that paid in comparable industries in the region. The Company grants increments to deserving workers in recognition of their efficiency. Although this Tribunal has all along appreciated the importance of periodical increments as an incentive for better and efficient work, it has consistently discouraged ad hoc increments where there are no fixed grades and scales of pay for the workmen. The Union complains that increments at the discretion of the employers for efficiency encourages discrimination. In the absence of specific cases of discrimination, we shall not be justified to speculate and in the case of Messrs. Simbhauli Industries, Ltd., where some workers were rewarded by increments, this Tribunal held that there was no justification to increase the wages of all workmen. Management's right to reward increments of efficiency cannot be interfered with. The remedy against such apprehended discrimination does not lie in ad hoc increments to all workmen. The lower Tribunal was perfectly justified in rejecting the demand of the workmen on this point.

The third issue is, whether Shri Ram and Shri Bishwanath are surplus to the Company's requirements as crane drivers. For a correct appreciation of the issue and the findings thereon with a view to ascertain whether the decision admits of any appeal, a short résumé of the facts which relate to the dispute may be relevant. The undisputed facts are that these two crane drivers were found surplus to requirements and were served with a notice terminating their services on the 10th August 1953, but immediately after the service of the notice and before the actual termination of their services, when it was realised that conciliation proceedings were pending and the necessary permission had not been obtained from the Conciliation Officer, the notice was not enforced, and two workers were allowed to continue in their work as spare crane drivers till December 1953, when they were transferred to the electric furnace department. They refused to work in the electric furnace department and were charge-sheeted and suspended for four days, for wilful and persistently refusing the work. On expiry of the period of suspension they were permitted to resume their duties in the electric furnace department. The Company thereupon applied to the Conciliation Officer for permission to retrench these two workmen, but this application has not been disposed of. Shri Ram applied for sick leave on the 17th December 1953, but the Company doubting the bona fides of this application, asked him to appear before the Works Medical Officer for examination, by a letter, dated 18th December 1953. He did not respond to the said letter. Both these two workmen continued absenting themselves, and the Company's case is that by absenting themselves without notice, they must be presumed to have abandoned the services of the Company. The workmen on the other hand plead that the transfer to impossible duties was intended to force them to go out of work and was an act of unfair labour practice. Be whatever that might have been, the fact remains that the order of the reference called upon the Adjudicator to decide whether these two workmen were surplus to requirements as crane drivers. They were not discharged as surplus to requirements. They were transferred. This does not amount to retrenchment. Without termination of the services of the employee by the employer there cannot be retrenchment. Retrenchment is one of the specific appealable items listed under section 7(1)(b) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950. The order of reference calls upon the adjudicator to decide whether these two workmen were surplus to requirements as crane drivers. Although surplusage is one of the direct causes of retrenchment, the question about surplusage of workers in the abstract is not appealable, unless there is either actual retrenchment. In the instant case, the notice of retrenchment was not acted upon. The decision of the management that these two workers were surplus to requirements as crane drivers, was followed by a transfer of these workers to other departments. The events which followed the transfer of these workers from the department of crane drivers to the electric furnace department raise the question whether they were dismissed by the management, rightly or wrongly, or they themselves abandoned their services with the Company. These questions are not covered by the order of reference, and the learned Tribunal did not consider this point. In the circumstances of the present case, the findings of the learned Adjudicator that these two workers were surplus to requirements as crane drivers, does not admit of any appeal. The workmen's appeal on this point is accordingly rejected as incompetent.

Next we come to the question of night shift allowance. The Union's case is that extra night shift allowance was in existence before 1948, and that this allowance was withdrawn and discontinued, although the Major Engineering Tribunal did not purport by its award to curtail the existing benefits. This is denied by the Company. The claim for night shift allowance came before the First Major Engineering Tribunal. The learned Tribunal while rejecting the workmen's claim for night shift allowance, appears to have considered the facts that some firms were paying a small allowance for night shift works. The Tribunal's finding was that such payments were only war-time measures. The present firm and these workmen were parties to the Adjudication proceedings, but there is nothing in the award that they claimed the benefits otherwise than as a war-time measure. The direction of the Engineering Tribunal under issue No. 12, clearly shows that payment of night shift allowance as a war-time measure was ignored and the claim of the workers was rejected without reservation. The observation of the Engineering Tribunal under the head that the "application of the award", did not safeguard the night shift allowance as a war-time measure. The relevant observation of the Engineering Tribunal on which Shri Ram Sen, relies, reads as follows:—

> "This award will not affect adversely any other kind of existing advantage which the employees of a firm may be enjoying in excess of the benefits given by this award, unless an express provision has been made in this award concerning such advantage."

The Engineering Tribunal gave a definite direction on the demand about night shift allowance. This Tribunal has consistently discouraged special allowance for night shift work, where workers are employed, as in the present concern, in day and night by rotation. The workmen's appeal on this point is also rejected.

Now we come to the issue of the duty hours of the lorry drivers. It is not a specific appealable item under section 7(1)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. No appeal is competent on this point unless it is shown that a substantial question of law is involved, but Shri Ram Sen could not make out any such substantial question law. The appeal is on this point accordingly rejected as incompetent.

Lastly we come to the question of bonus. This is a public limited Company. The workmen claimed bonus both as a condition of service and a legitimate share in the profits. The claim has been laid at 2½ months' wages for monthly paid workers, 65 days' wages for daily-rated workers less what has been received by the workers as advance during Pujas.

The Company denies that bonus had ever been a condition of service and trading result does not warrant any bonus. The Company, however, pleads that the workers had been offered bonus during conciliation proceedings, in spite of unsatisfactory trading results, 35 days' basic wages as bonus have been paid to the workers, as a gesture of goodwill. The Company now withdraws this offer on the ground that it was not accepted by the workmen and the industrial dispute between the parties was not settled during conciliation proceedings.

The learned Adjudicator has awarded bonus to the workmen equivalent to one-eighth of their respective total wage of the year. Both the workmen and the Company have appealed against the award of the Adjudicator. The workmen fall back upon their original demand, while the Company pleads financial inability to pay bonus. We do not propose to enter into the question whether bonus can be claimed as a condition of service, for even assuming that it can be so claimed, there is not material on the record to warrant a decision either way. Although the ex gratia theory of bonus has long been exploded, it has been established that on principles of social justice the claim of the workmen would arise only if there is a surplus, after making provision for prior charges, for distribution among the workmen as bonus. The Hon'ble Supreme Court observed in the case of the Muir Mill, Ltd., 1955, I. LLJ. page 1, that "it is, therefore, clear that the claim for bonus can be made by the employees only if as a result of the joint contribution of capital and labour the industrial concern has earned profits".

The learned Adjudicator has relied on the published balance sheet of the Company, and we have no reason to differ from him on this point. The surplus profits available for distribution for bonus to the workmen have got to be determined with reference to this balance sheet. Both parties appeared to have submitted before the Tribunal their estimates of the available surplus and we need hardly say that these estimates differ widely. Exhibits 1 to 1(b) are the estimates of the workmen about capital invested in the business, income-tax payable for the year and depreciation permissible under the Income-tax Act. Exhibit 4 is the estimate about the surplus of profits available for distribution to the workmen as bonus. Exhibits A(5) to A(7) are the estimates of the Company. According to Shri Khaitan who represents the Company, after providing of all the prior charges according to the accepted Full Bench Formula, there would be a deficit of about Rs. 3,60,000 in the year 1953, while the workmen contend that there would be a surplus of nearly Rs. 3,87,000 out of the trading profits of the year, leaving out about Rs. 53,000 brought forward from the previous year. We are not very much concerned with the outstanding balance of the profits of the previous year.

In 1952, the Company voluntarily paid bonus to the workmen equivalent to 2 months' basic wages, but in 1953 only Rs. 76,000 was paid as bonus. In 1953, the gross profit after appropriation of Rs. 6,30,000 as depreciation was Rs. 9,32,815 as against Rs. 11,23,581 in 1952 after appropriation of Rs. 5,00,000 as depreciation. In both these years the gross profit was arrived at before making any provision for income-tax.

The learned Adjudicator has allowed the workmen bonus equivalent to one-eighth of the anuual basic wage less what had been voluntarily paid. We are called upon to decide if the trading result of the Company for 1953 can bear the additional burden and also if further increase is warranted.

We have already pointed out that both the Company and the workmen appear to have submitted before the Adjudicator statements indicating, in their own way, the permissible deductions from the gross profits for the purposes of ascertaining the surplus available for distribution of bonus. The Company has claimed as a prior charge arrear depreciation of the previous years, the statutory depreciation permissible under the Income-tax Act, income-tax payable on the balance of the gross profit after deducting the depreciation, return on the share capital at 6 per cent. and return at 4 per cent. on the reserve which is said to have been utilised as working capital during the accounting year.

The Union's contention is that for the purpose of the Full Bench Formula, initial and additional depreciations, although a permissible deduction under the Income-tax Act, cannot rank as a prior charge. The Union also disputes the Company's claim for arrear depreciation and for return of the share capital and the working capital at the rates claimed.

The Company with a view to modernise the rolling mill department has spent Rs. 23,29,977 in block and Rs. 1,16,082 in stores at Khardah and the evidence shows that the Khardah block did not operate in 1953. The Directors' report, dated 2nd July 1954, shows that the Khardah block was expected to start after three or four months.

The Company did not provide for any depreciation of the Khardah block up to 1952, nor did it provide full depreciation from 1948 to 1952 even on the block that was in operation during the period. The Company has claimed the arrear depreciation for the years 1948 to 1952 amounting to Rs. 12,85,743 and Rs. 2,43,291 for 1953 in four equal instalments. Deduction of arrear depreciation from the account of a subsequent year is allowed by the Income-tax Act and the rules framed thereunder only under circumstances indicated in proviso (b) under section 2(b)(vi) of the Act. In the years 1948 to 1952 the Company earned considerable profits and large reserves were accumulated and these accumulations were utilised in bonus shares. If the arrears of depreciation in such circumstances are allowed as a prior charge out of the profits for the subsequent years the workers will be deprived of their due shares in the prosperity of concern which they have earned. We reject the Company's claim for arrear depreciation as a prior charge on the trading profits of 1953. A similar view was taken in Lakshmi Ratan Cotton Mills, Ltd., reported in 1954, LAC, p. 716. Shri Khaitan referred to the decision in the Eastern Chemicals Co., Ltd. (1954, I. LLJ, p. 818). In this case the Company could not on account of unsatisfactory trading result, provide for depreciation in past years and sought to recoup the arrear depreciation from the trading profits of 1950, 1951. It was decided that provision for arrear depreciation should be gradually made. The facts of the case are different from the facts of the case under consideration. The Income-tax Act prescribes depreciation under three heads:

(i) Normal depreciation.

(ii) Initial depreciation.

(iii) Additional depreciation.

Rule 8 of the rules framed under the Income-tax Act as amended by notification No. 31-I.T. of 15th May 1948 limits the annual depreciation for buildings, plants and machineries, etc., only to the period of their user. As the Khardah block did not operate in 1952 and 1953 the Company is not entitled to any annual depreciation for this block for 1953. But it appears from the departmental notes incorporated in the Income-tax Manual (10th edition, p. 450), that the change in the rule which was necessitated by some decisions of the High Courts allowing full depreciation for buildings, plants and machineries without any regard whether they had been used in the previous year or not, does not affect the initial depreciation which should be allowed in full for the whole year in all cases. Thus under the Income-tax Act, the Company is not entitled, as an item of permissible deduction, to normal depreciation for the Khardah block, but the Company may fairly claim for the purpose of income-tax initial depreciation for the new construction of buildings and new installation of plants and machineries for the Khardah block in 1953 under section 10(2)(vi) clauses (a) to (c). The question is whether this initial depreciation is a permissible deduction as a prior charge under the Full Bench Bonus Formula.

The Union relying on the Full Bench decision in the Electricity Supply Industry, reported in 1955, LAC, p. 665, urges that the Company is not entitled to initial an additional depreciation under the Full Bench Bonus Formula. This contention of the Union deserves careful consideration. In the Full Bench case of the Millowners' Association, Bombay, this Tribunal was not called upon to decide whether for the purpose of bonus formula, depreciation is permissible under all the three heads, initial, normal and additional, as indicated under the Income-tax Act. What was required for the bonus formula was the annual requirement for rehabilitation, replacements and modernisation of buildings and machineries. In fact the quantum of bonus appropriated in the past and accumulated has no direct bearing on the bonus formula, except for the purpose of ascertaining what sum of money was available for rehabilitation and modernisation. The quantum of permissible depreciation for the accounting year is relevant only for the purpose of income-tax to be provided out of the trading profits of the year, and for ascertaining what additional sum of money is to be provided for rehabilitation, etc. It may be noted that where the trading profit of a year does not permit any additional provision beyond the permissible depreciation for the year, the depreciation has got to be ascertained and allowed as a prior charge. Absence of any specific indication in this direction in the Full Bench decision in the Bombay Millowners' case created some confusion and different benches held different views. The second Full Bench was constituted to decide the issue of bonus in some units of the Electricity Supply Industry and this point was clarified in 1955, LAC, p. 659, at pp. 678-79, as indicated below:

> "Under the Income-tax Act, the initial depreciation and additional depreciation in the early years raise the quantum of depreciation very considerably, to the detriment of the available surplus. Considering that the initial depreciation and additional depreciation are allowed in the main so that on monies utilised for purchases in augmentation of the block a relief in income-tax results, it is evident that considerations which apply to the grant of initial and additional depreciation are different to the considerations of social justice and fair appointment which formed the basis of the Full Bench Formula. Benches of this Tribunal held different views on the subject of initial and additional depreciation. But considering that the initial and additional depreciation are an abnormal addition to the income-tax depreciation designed to meet particular contingencies and for a limited period, it would not be fair to the workmen that these two depreciations should be rated as prior charges before the available surplus is ascertained, for in many cases, if allowed, there would be no available surplus left, even though the workmen may have laboured during the year to the best of their ability and the concern was for all purposes prosperous. Upon a careful consideration of the matter we are of the view that only normal depreciation, including multiple shift depreciation, but not initial or additional depreciation, should rank as a prior charge in applying our Full Bench Formula."

We accordingly hold that the initial and additional depreciation cannot rank as a prior charge for the purpose of ascertaining the surplus available out of the trading profit of a year for distribution as bonus to the workmen.

For the purposes of calculation of the annual allowance for rehabilitation, etc., the main block, namely, the buildings, plants and machineries (excluding the new block at Khardah) may be classified as under:—

I. (a) Buildings at the end of 1947—

		Rs.

Shri Khaitan prayed that the rehabilitation charges might be calculated on the principle adopted in the case of Messrs. Saxby & Farmer (India), Ltd., reported in 1955, LAC, p. 707, and filed before us a chart indicating the particulars required for the scheme. We are not inclined to accept the chart at this stage. In the case of Messrs. Saxby & Farmer (India), Ltd., there was specific evidence when different plants and machineries actually came into existence and also about their initial cost, their age and the fluctuation in the price since they were installed. There is no such evidence on any of the points in the present case. Shri Khaitan prayed that an opportunity might be given to him to place positive evidence on the relevant points and that the case might be remanded to the Primary Tribunal, if that was deemed necessary for the purpose. We do not accede to the prayer. The claim is for bonus for 1953, and now we are in 1956. No new principle was laid down in the case of Saxby & Farmer (India), Ltd. The Full Bench Formula laid down in the case of Millowners' Association, Bombay, was followed. In all, bonus cases the cost of rehabilitation of buildings, plants and machineries which ranks first as a prior charge on the gross profit of the industry should be ascertained and it is the duty of the parties concerned to place before a Tribunal all the relevant materials for calculation of the rehabilitation cost as accurately as possible. This was possible in the case of Messrs. Saxby & Farmer (India), Ltd., because all the relevant materials were placed on the record and there was sufficient evidence for definite findings on all the relevant points that were necessary to calculate the annual requirements which were to be deducted from the trading profit of the Company per year for the purpose of rehabilitation. The Company could not make out before us a sufficient case for a remand. The Company could place necessary evidence before the Adjudicator, but this was not done. We are not inclined either to call for further evidence before us or to remand the case to the Primary Tribunal for further evidence. Although we feel the importance of rehabilitation allowance as a prior charge on the gross profit of a year for the purpose of the bonus formula, we are afraid that we are not in a position to work out correctly the exact requirements. The importance of setting apart some portion of the profit out of the revenue of the business of every year for replacement and rehabilitation of plants, machinery and buildings cannot be exaggerated. It has been rightly observed in the Full Bench case (1952, LAC, p. 433). "It is essential that the plant and machinery should be kept continuously in good working order for the purpose of ensuring that return, and such maintenance of plant and machinery would also be to the advantage of labour, for the better the machinery, the larger the earnings, and the better the chance of securing a good bonus. The first charge on the gross profits should, therefore, be the amount of money that would be necessary for rehabilitation, replacement and modernisation of machinery. As depreciation allowed by the Income-tax authorities is only a percentage of the written down value, the fund set apart yearly for depreciation and designated under that head would not be sufficient for these purposes. An extra amount would have to be annually set apart to make up that deficit." The primary duty of the Industrial Tribunal is to establish peace in the industry between the employers and the workmen, but for settlement of an industrial dispute with a view to establish industrial peace, it should not lose sight of the interest of the industry. Any settlement of dispute ignoring the interest of the industry is likely to have a far reaching detrimental reaction on the workmen themselves. To deny rehabilitation and replacement cost would be to cut short the life of an industry with the result that the workmen employed in the industry would be thrown out of employment and add complications to the question of unemployment which is gradually increasing in volume.

We may in this connection quote the observation of the Full Bench of this Tribunal in the case of the Millowners' Association, Bombay, "having regard to the uncertain tendency of the price level of machinery, we think that a liberal estimate should be adopted." In the absence of any positive evidence about the relation between the present value and the initial cost in different years prior of 1948 of buildings, plants and machineries, we cannot but act upon what has hitherto been generally followed for calculating rehabilitation charges. It cannot be denied that the present value of the buildings, plants and machineries has considerably increased since the pre-war period and the period immediately following the cessation of the second war. The requirement for rehabilitation is calculated on the present day price level which is obtained by multiplying the cost price by a co-efficient which indicates the ratio of the rise. It has become a convention with this Tribunal to multiply the cost of buildings constructed prior to 1948 by 2.25 and the cost of plants and machineries installed prior to 1948 by 2.7 for the purpose of equating the requirement to the present market value. It has also been a convention with the Industrial Tribunals to assess the total life at 27 to 30 years in case of buildings and 15 years in the case of plants and machineries. We do feel that these conventions are not always favourable to the industries. But there is no help.

We may safely infer from the Directors' report on the trading result of 1948 that this industry has completed 20 years of its age at the end of 1948. We may accordingly presume, in the absence of any evidence, that the construction of buildings and installation of plants and machineries in use on 1st January 1948 leaving out what have since been sold away and replaced since then were spread over during these 20 years and we may safely say that these buildings, plants and machineries had spent on 31st December 1953, at least 10 years of their life on an average. Thus for the buildings and plants and machineries that were in existence and were in use on 1st January 1948, we may fix the residuary life at 20 years and 5 years, respectively. In calculating the total rehabilitation requirements, 5 per cent. of the cost price as breakdown value must be deducted. The annual requirements for rehabilitation and replacement of buildings and plants and machineries brought in use in different periods may be indicated in a tabular form.

I. Buildings

The liquid money of the Company which can be utilised for rehabilitation consists of Rs. 10 lakhs as general reserve and depreciation appropriated and accumulated up to 31st December 1952 on account of buildings, plants and machineries Rs. 30 lakhs. Deducting from the total requirement in column 3 of the foregoing table the sum of Rs. 40,00,000 available for the purpose of rehabilitation, the balance required is Rs. 50.23 lakhs. We have found that when the actual total requirement for rehabilitation is Rs. 90.23 lakhs, the annual charge works out to Rs. 12.23 lakhs. Now that the requirement reduced by the available liquid money is only Rs. 50.23 lakhs, the annual charge will be reduced to Rs. 6.66 lakhs (approximately).

The annual depreciation including the multiple shift depreciation on the written down value of the blocks (buildings, plants and machineries) in operation in 1952 leaving out the Khardah block which was not in use works out to Rs. 40,950 for buildings and Rs. 2,90,392 for plants and machineries. There were some additions in 1953, but that is no evidence when these additions came into existence and for what period they were used. We have not accordingly allowed any depreciation for these additions. We need hardly repeat that depreciation for the accounting year has no material bearing except for the purpose of working out the income-tax. The total depreciation for the year 1953 permissible under the Full Bench Formula for buildings, plants and machineries works out to Rs. 3.31 lakhs. It appears that the Tariff Board requires the concern to set apart every year an additional sum of Rs. 30,000 on account of partial rehabilitation of the electric furnaces. The total depreciation works to Rs. 3.61 lakhs.

Gross profit as per balance sheet in 1953 is Rs. 9.33 lakhs. This was arrived at after deducting Rs. 6.30 lakhs as depreciation. If we add back this amount, the gross profit would be Rs. 15.63 lakhs. Deducting Rs. 3.31 lakhs as depreciation permissible under the Full Bench Formula, the taxable amount is Rs. 12.31 lakhs. An additional sum of Rs. .30 lakh has to be provided per annum under the directions of the Tariff Board on account of partial rehabilitation of the electric furnaces. This will leave Rs. 12.01 lakhs. Income-tax on this amount at 6.95 as in the rupee works out to Rs. 5.25 lakhs approximately. After making provision for income-tax, there will be left Rs. 6.77 lakhs. Out of this amount, the annual charge of rehabilitation should be provided. The annual rehabilitation requirement, after deducting the total depreciation provided for the year is Rs. 3.05 lakhs (Rs. 6.66 lakhs minus Rs. 3.61 lakhs). The depreciation provided for the year represents partial rehabilitation requirement for the year.

The share capital is Rs. 50,00,000 and a major portion of this is made up of bonus share. The recent trend is to treat bonus and cash shares at par and to allow return on both cash shares and bonus shares at 6 per cent. per annum except where such shares came into existence in the accounting year in which case a lower rate of dividend is allowed without any distinction between bonus and cash shares. In the present case, the bonus shares came into existence prior to 1953, but out of the bonus shares Rs. 24.46 lakhs appears to have been employed for the Khardah block which was unproductive at least till the end of 1953. We are definitely of the opinion that dividend should be allowed at 6 per cent. on the balance of Rs. 25.54 lakhs (Rs. 50 lakhs minus Rs. 24.46 lakhs). This works out to Rs. 1.53 lakhs. Rupees 10 lakhs in the general reserve and Rs. 6.88 lakhs being the balance of the Taxation reserve (after deducting advance payments of Rs. 14.67 lakhs) came up to a total of Rs. 16.88 lakhs. This amount appears to have been employed during the accounting year as working capital. The Company is entitled to return on this amount at 4 per cent. This works out to Rs. 76 lakhs. After providing these amounts out of the gross profit of the year 1953 there will be left only Rs. 1.45 lakhs. This will be clear from the following table:—

	Rs. Lakhs.
Gross profits	9.33
Add—Back depreciation	6.30
	15.63
Deduct—Depreciation	3.31
	12.32
Deduct—Annual requirement for partial rehabilitation of electric furnaces as required by Tariff Board	.30
	12.02
Deduct—Income-tax	5.25
	6.77
Deduct—Rehabilitation (Rs. 6.66—3.61 lakhs) ...	3.05
	3.72
Deduct—Dividend on Rs. 25.54 lakhs (Rs. 50 lakhs —Rs. 24.46 lakhs) at 6 per cent.	1.53
	2.19
Deduct—Return on Rs. 16.88 lakhs (reserves utilised as working capital) at 6 per cent.	.67
	1.52

As we could understand in the course of the arguments that the total basic wage bill of the workmen amounts to approximately Rs. 1.20 lakhs per month. If the workmen are paid 1½ months' basic wage as bonus the total amount of bonus will be Rs. 1.80 lakhs. Rupees .76 lakh has already been paid to the workmen as bonus. Thus if 1½ months' basic wage is paid as bonus an additional amount of Rs. 1.04 lakhs will be required. The Company will be entitled to refund of income-tax on this additional payment. Thus it is clear that the Company can bear the additional burden imposed by the award on account of bonus.

We shall not be justified to increase the bonus as demanded by the Union. We may in this connection repeat the observations in the Full Bench case, "After the aforesaid deductions there remains a surplus and the issue is whether the employees are entitled to any, and if so, to what bonus. The answer to this issue is not easy, for we have to consider in this context, the needs of the employees, the claims of the share-holders and the requirements of the industry".

The Adjudicator's decision on the issue of bonus is affirmed.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

Advertisement No. 45(a)

APPLICATIONS are invited for a temporary post of Junior Assistant Architect under the Directorate of Works and Buildings in the West Bengal General Service.

(1) Qualifications.—

(i) Citizenship of India as defined in Part II of the Constitution of India.

(ii) A degree in Architecture of a recognised University or Associateship of the Royal Institute of British Architects or recognised equivalent qualification.

(iii) One year's experience in an Architect's office or with the Architectural Section of some public body or of a Government department.

Age should not be more than 35 years on 1st September 1956, relaxable in exceptional cases. The upper age-limit is relaxable by five years for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and up to 45 years for displaced persons from Pakistan.

The upper age-limit is relaxable for a non-Muslim Government servant in undivided Bengal, who had originally opted to serve in East Bengal and was working under the Government of East Bengal after partition, but has since formally resigned his service under that Government, and has come over to India as refugee.

A candidate who before the 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age-limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(2) Pay.- The scale of pay is Rs. 500—30—680—40—800 per month plus the usual allowances. Higher initial pay may be granted to an exceptionally qualified candidate.

(3) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

The application must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 22nd September 1956.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation) in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

(2) Pay.—The scale of pay is Rs. 250—20—650—25—750 (E.B. after 10th and 18th stages) plus usual allowances.

(3) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

The application must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 22nd September 1956.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation) in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

OFFICE OF THE ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL, WEST BENGAL

A COMPETITIVE examination will be held early in October 1956, to recruit about 60 Senior Accounts Clerks for employment in the various offices of the Executive Engineers under the Government of West Bengal. The subjects in which the candidates will be examined are (i) Essay or Precis and Draft, (ii) Elementary Book-Keeping, and (iii) Arithmetic and Mensuration. The precise dates of the examination will be intimated individually only to those whose candidatures are accepted.

The scale of pay is Rs. 80—4—160—5—180 (Efficiency Bar after the 12th stage) plus the usual dearness and other allowances as admissible from time to time under the rules of the Government of West Bengal. Appointments will be temporary for the present but may become permanent in due course. Successful candidates have also the prospect of becoming Divisional Accountants on passing the prescribed departmental examination. All appointments carry liability to serve anywhere under the Government of West Bengal.

Candidates should be Graduates of a recognised University. They should either be domiciled in West Bengal or have domiciliary qualifications for service under the Government of West Bengal. Age should not exceed 24 years on the 1st October 1956. Relaxation may be permitted up to 30 years ordinarily and up to 33 years in very special cases in favour of clerks with experience of two years in the Accounts Branch of a P.W. Division or in the Works Audit Department of the Accountant-General's Office. The age-limit in respect of bona fide displaced persons may be relaxed by three years, if approved by the State Government. Any candidate, who is already in service, should apply through the Head of his office.

Application forms and further particulars may be obtained from the Superintendent, W.M. Section of this office, between 2 p.m and 3 p.m. on any working day except Saturdays, or by sending him a self-addressed large-sized stamped envelope.

Application forms, duly filled in, should be either handed in personally in return for an acknowledgement or sent by registered post. In either case, they should be accompanied by—

(i) a Treasury Chalan (in original) for Rs. 7-8 (Rs. 1-14 for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes candidates) creditable to the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous Departments—Central—Miscellaneous—Examination Fees";

(ii) Original Matriculation certificate;

(iii) Original University degree or a provisional certificate issued by the Principal of a college in anticipation of the award of a degree at a Convocation; and

(iv) Copies (attested by a Gazetted Officer) of two certificates of good character issued during the last two years.

The applications should reach this office on or before the 8th September 1956.

PART V—Acts of the Parliament of India assented to by the President and Ordinances promulgated by the President

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Ministry of Law

The following Act of Parliament received the assent of the President on the 13th June, 1956 and is hereby published for general information:—

ACT NO. XXIX OF 1956

THE TRAVANCORE-COCHIN STATE LEGISLATURE (DELEGATION OF POWERS) ACT, 1956

[13*th June*, 1956.]

An Act to confer on the President the power of the Legislature of the State of Travancore-Cochin to make laws.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Seventh Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Travancore-Cochin State Legislature (Delegation of Powers) Act, 1956.

Definition.

2. In this Act, "Proclamation" means the Proclamation issued on the 23rd day of March, 1956, by the President under clause (1) of Article 356 of the Constitution.

Conferment on the President of the power of the State Legislature.

3. (1) The power of the Legislature of the State of Travancore-Cochin to make laws, which has been declared by the Proclamation to be exercisable by or under the authority of Parliament, is hereby conferred on the President.

(2) In the exercise of the said power, the President may, from time to time, whether Parliament is or is not in session, enact as a President's Act a Bill containing such provisions as he considers necessary:

Provided that before enacting any such Act, the President shall, whenever he considers it practicable to do so, consult a committee constituted for the purpose consisting of fourteen members of the House of the People nominated by the Speaker and seven members of the Council of States nominated by the Chairman.

(3) Every Act enacted by the President under sub-section (2) shall, as soon as may be after enactment, be laid before each House of Parliament.

(4) Either House of Parliament may, by resolution passed within seven days from the date on which the Act has been laid before it under sub-section (3), direct any modifications to be made in the Act and if the modifications are agreed to by the other House of Parliament during the session in which the Act has been so liad before it or the session succeeding, such modifications shall be given effect to by the President by enacting an amending Act under sub-section (2):

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall affect the validity of the Act or of any action taken thereunder before it is so amended.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. North Brook Jute Mills Co., Ltd., Champdany, Hooghly, and a section of their weavers represented by National Union of Jute Workers (North Brook and Dalhousie Jute Mill Branch), Champdany, Bansbagan, post office Baidyabati, Hooghly. (Case No. VIII-267 of 1955.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retired), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 4343Dis./D/7L-46/55, dated 12th September 1955, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. North Brook Jute Mills Co., Ltd., Champdany, Hooghly, and a section of their weavers represented by National Union of Jute Workers (North Brook and Dalhousie Jute Mill Branch), Champdany, Bansbagan, post office Baidyabati, Hooghly, regarding the matters specified in the following schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication:

Schedule

(1) The rates of wages on Broad Looms of 210″ R.S. and 168″ R.S. for the weavers.

(2) Are the weavers concerned entitled to wages for the period from 27th August 1955 till 2nd September 1955, both days inclusive, on account of stoppage of work?

(3) Are the weavers concerned entitled to wages for the paid holiday on 29th August 1955 on account of Muharram?

Notices were issued on both parties, who filed written statements setting forth their respective cases.

The history of the dispute as well as the cases of the parties will be set out when dealing with the issues.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:

For the Union: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, assisted by Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate, and Shri Bomkesh Majumdar, M.L.A.

For the Company: Shri R. L. Moitra, Deputy Labour Adviser, I.J.M.A., assisted by Mr. L. A. Craven, Chief Labour Officer, Bird & Co. and Mr. J. M. Duncan, Mr. D. Ritchi, Officers of the Company.

The issues framed for the decision of this case are the same as those mentioned in the order of reference, and are as follows:

Issues

(1) The rates of wages on Broad Looms of 210″ R.S. and 168″ R.S. for the weavers.

(2) Are the weavers concerned entitled to wages for the period from 27th August 1955 till 2nd September 1955, both days inclusive, on account of stoppage of work?

(3) Are the weavers concerned entitled to wages for the paid holiday on 29th August 1955 on account of Muharram?

AWARD

DECISIONS

Issue No. 1.—The rates of wages on Broad Looms of 210″ R.S. and 168″ R.S. for the weavers.

The ordinary hessian weaving loom in a jute mill has a reed space ranging from 40 inches to 90 inches. There are a very few looms in one or two mills with reed space of 94 inches and 102 inches. In the North Brook Jute Mills, which will be mentioned hereafter as the Company, the hessian looms have reed space from 46 inches to 90 inches. The Company installed some additional looms of broader reed space. They are of two classes, having reed space of 210 inches and 168 inches respectively. Fifteen looms of 210 inches reed space were installed between the dates of 18th March 1955 and 2nd November 1955 and 15 looms of 168 inches reed space were installed between the dates of 15th July 1955 and 13th October 1955. These dates are detailed in Annexure A to the Company's written statement. The Union states that the task of operating these broad looms entails great strain and hardship on the weaver concerned, and that the work is also attended with great personal hazard and risk. The Company, however, states that due to automatic devices fitted for the operation of these looms, the work involved there is even less strenuous than the ordinary lino looms. It is also recounted that during the two months of treble shift working of the broad looms prior to the filing of the Company's written statement, which is virtually equal to six months of single shift working there was only one minor accident in the broad loom shed, due to a worker stepping on a nail on the floor, which was unconnected with the operation in the loom and that this fact would show that the Union's plea of special hazards attended with a broad loom was unworthy of support. I may mention here that I inspected the new broad looms and watched while they were being worked. The automatic device was a great help to the operator. The loom automatically stopped when a piece of yarn snapped. It does not appear to me that the work in these broad looms was specially strenuous to a worker, or that there was any special hazard attended with the operation in these looms. Owing to the very nature of the work the production was bound to be slower than that in a narrower loom. The weavers were initially put on time-rates, being at Rs. 20-4 per week over and above the fixed dearness allowance of Rs. 8-10 per week. On 27th June 1955 these weavers were put on piece-rates. It may be mentioned that all other weavers in the Jute Textile Industry are on piece-rates. The wages of the workmen in the Jute Textile Industry were revised by the award of the Third Major Jute Textile Tribunal and the revised piece-rates of the weavers appear in Appendix IX of the award. These piece-rates were upheld by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India. While the basic wages in time-rates and piece-rates of the workers including the weavers in the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal were revised to their advantage, their dearness allowance was reduced from Rs. 37-6 in the month or Rs. 8-10 in the week to Rs. 32-8 in the month or Rs. 7-8 in the week. This award was in operation from 6th November 1955.

The weavers of the broad looms of the North Brook Jute Mills resented the change-over from time to piece-rates on 27th June 1955. After this date, the wages earned by the weavers fell. The Union accounts for this fall in wages to the introduction of the piece-rates in place of time-rates and the Company complains that this fall in earnings of the weavers was caused by the fall in production consequent on deliberate "go-slow tactics" employed by these weavers. A conciliation proceeding followed and there was a settlement on 27th June 1955, which appears in Annexure A to the Union's written statement and Annexure D to the Company's written statement. The rates fixed by this settlement are of a composite character, being in a time-rate of Rs. 16-6 per week of 48 hours, supplemented by additional earnings in the form of an incentive bonus contingent on reaching certain targets of production rates. The agreement was to remain in force for a period of three months. This would indicate that these rates were fixed for a period of transition till the weavers could finally be put on piece-rates. Corresponding wage rate scales were also adopted for the 168-inch looms, which appear in Appendix D(1) to the Company's written statement. Till 15th August 1955 the broad looms were being operated in double shifts, named A and B shifts. A third shift, the C shift, was started from 16th August 1955. The Union made some demands for the broad looms weavers including those to be employed in the C shift, which was to be all-night shift, and an agreement was arrived at on 12th August 1955 between the parties. This agreement appears as Annexure B to the Union's written statement and Annexure E to the Company's written statement. There were special concessions agreed to be given to the C shift men and also other broad loom weavers. Some of the terms will appear below:

(a) The C shift will work from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. and 2-30 a.m. to 6 a.m.

(b) Housing accommodation for workers engaged on broad looms shall be provided by the Company as soon as possible.

(c) The workmen on C shift broad looms will be paid 48 hours' wages for 45 hours' work per week.

(d) Weavers transferred from narrow to broad looms will be given three weeks' time in which to learn, and if they are found incapable of working on broad looms, they will be sent back to their original narrow looms.

(e) Workers of the C shift will be given two cups of tea and one piece of snack per head for each half of the night shift.

Now comes the stage in the dispute that culminated in the present reference. The Union complains that it appeared on 27th August 1955 that in paying wages to the weavers of the C shift, the Company did not implement the terms of the aforesaid agreements and in paying wages to three of the weavers each of A and B shifts, the terms of settlement on 26th July 1955 were violated. The weavers of the broad looms thereupon went on strike on 27th August 1955. There was a conciliation proceeding and a settlement was arrived at between the parties on 2nd September 1955. This settlement appears in Annexure C to the Union's written statement and Annexure F to the Company's written statement. In accordance with the terms of this settlement, dated 2nd September 1955, work was to be resumed on 3rd September 1955, and the three issues of the present proceeding were to be referred to the Tribunal for adjudication. The reference was, therefore, made by the Government in view of the terms of the settlement.

We are concerned in this issue with the rates of wages to be paid to the weavers for working on the broad looms of 210 inches and 168 inches reed space. P.W. 1 Juman Miah, a broad loom weaver, deposed for the Union, and document, Ext. 1, was marked for the Union. The Company did not examine any witness. Documents, Exts. A to D, were marked for the Company. P.W. 1 Juman Miah states that he works in a 210 inches loom. There was again a dispute between the Company and the broad loom weavers regarding the wages to be paid to them in December 1955. The witness states that there was an agreement between the Union and the Company as to the rates to be payable for work on these broad looms and they are as shown in Ext. 1. Document, Ext. 1, shows that it was agreed that the settlement arrived at in the conciliation meeting, dated 26th July 1955, for a period of three months, shall be extended up to the week ending 3rd December 1955, and that thereafter from week ending 10th December 1955, without prejudice to the case regarding the wage rates for the weavers on broad looms which is under adjudication, weavers would be put on piece rates as per the schedule attached to the terms of the settlement.

This shows that the broad loom weavers were paid up to 3rd December 1955 basic time-rate at Rs. 16-6 per week of 48 hours plus the dearness allowance of Rs. 8-10 per week of 48 hours, plus the incentive bonus contingent on reaching certain production targets as mentioned in the Union's written statement. Thereafter from week ending 10th December 1955, the weavers of the broad looms were paid the basic rates as mentioned in Ext. 1, without prejudice to their claim in the present proceedings. In cross-examination, P.W. 1 Juman Miah states that the broad loom weavers were now getting the proper wage and they pray for a continuation of the present wage rate. The witness, therefore, states that the piece-rates of wages, as mentioned in Ext. 1, are satisfactory to them and may be continued.

Exhibit D filed by the Company shows the weaving rates for the hessian fabric woven on 210 inches reed space and 168 inches reed space looms. Exhibit D shows the same rates as appearing in Ext. 1. Exhibit D, however, shows rates for a greater number of variety of fabrics than appearing in Ext. 1. These hessian fabrics are called carpet backing fabrics, because these hessian clothes are used as a background of carpets. Exhibit D shows the various kinds of hessian fabrics that are made on these broad looms and the rates of wages that follow from the weaving piece-rates formulated in the First Award and the Third Award of the Major Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. This wage chart also shows that the weaving rates as given by the North Brook Jute Mills in Ext. 1 are much higher than the weaving rates formulated by the First and the Third Awards. The North Brook rates are with dearness allowance of Rs. 8-10 per week. The Kinnison Jute Mills, under the same Managing Agents as the present Company is, also works the same broad looms. They also pay similar wage rates and their wage rates have been calculated with the weekly dearness allowance of Rs. 7-8, the balance of Re. 1-2 per week having been included in the weaving rate. For that reason, corresponding to the present North Brook rate of 170 annas per 100 yards of 196 inches hessian plain of 16 porter 15 shots with a weight per yard of 68.60 ozs. woven on a loom of 210 reed space, the Kinnison weaving rate is 189 annas per 100 yards.

It is clear that the weaving rates as given by the Mill accounts for higher emoluments to the broad loom weavers than what is justified by the wage rates formulated in the Major Tribunal Awards principally for narrower looms. There can be no doubt that this advance in wage rate fully compensates for any additional strain that may be involved in working on the broad looms. Exhibit 1 also shows that in calculating the weekly wages, due allowance will be made for time lost through changing beams. They are as follows:

On 210" R.S. Looms: Five hours' allowance on all fabrics except 12×12 plain where four hours will be allowed.

On 168" R.S. Looms: Four hours' allowance on all fabrics except 12×12 plain where three hours will be allowed.

Weavers will also receive wages in proportion when loom is standing for major repairs. Exhibits A and A(1) are the actual production and the wages of the carpet backing weavers in ten weeks ending 2nd June 1955 for all weavers working in the three shifts. They show quite satisfactory wages. Exhibit B(1) is a statement filed by the Company showing the average earnings excluding dearness allowance for 48 hours from week ending 3rd March 1956 to week ending 5th May 1956 on all the broad looms as well as earnings of weavers in 48 narrow lino looms during the same period. The average per worker in the 30 broad looms during this period is Rs. 20.98, whereas the average per worker in the 48 lino looms during the period is Rs. 16.74. Exhibit B is a statement showing these earnings in the broad loom and the lino loom during the period mentioned above. This statement shows the average total earnings of the broad loom weaver per week to be Rs. 29.605 and the average total earnings for the lino loom weaver to be only Rs. 24.24 per week. This statement clearly shows that the broad loom weavers are getting a much higher wage than the lino loom weavers on the rates as shown in Ext. D or Ext. 1. In these circumstances, it is clear that the weavers of the broad looms are getting more than Rs. 20-4 per week was fixed for them by way of basic wages when these looms were first installed, and which the Union wanted to be assured to the weavers even when piece-rates were introduced. P.W. 1 Juman Miah states that the weavers wanted a basic wage of Rs. 20-4 per week exclusive of the dearness allowance of Rs. 37-6 per month. In the result, it is awarded that the weavers on the broad looms of 210 inches reed space and 168 inches reed space shall get the same wages as were given to them under Ext. 1, or in other words, the same wage as is mentioned as the North Brook wage in Ext. D with a dearness allowance of Rs. 8-10 per week. These rates are the same as the Kinnison rates, mentioned in Ext. D, with dearness allowance of Rs. 7-8 per week. In view of the fact that the whole industry is now earning Rs. 7-8 per week as the dearness allowance, the broad loom weavers also shall get the same amount of dearness allowance, that is, at Rs. 7-8 per week, and they shall get their wage rates revised to include the balance of the dearness allowance and therefore shall get the same rates as mentioned for the Kinnison Mills in Ext. D. These wage rates are mentioned in Appendix A to this award. The concessions for time lost, as mentioned in Ext. 1, shall also continue and are mentioned in Appendix A. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2.—Are the weavers concerned entitled to wages for the period from 27th August 1955 till 2nd September 1955, both days inclusive, on account of stoppage of work?

The broad loom weavers were on strike for the period from 27th August 1955 till 2nd September 1955. The proceedings of the Third Major Jute Textile Industry Tribunal were pending from 7th April 1954 to 5th November 1955. The North Brook Jute Mills and their workers were parties to that proceeding. The strike resorted to by the broad loom weavers during the period from 27th August 1955 to 2nd September 1955 was, therefore, illegal, in view of section 23, clause (b), of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is an established principle that an illegal strike absolves the liability of the employer to pay wages during the period of absence of the striking workmen [vide Mahaluxmi Cotton Mills case, 1952 L.A.C. 370, Punjab National Bank's case, 1953 L.A.C. (1)]. It is, therefore, awarded that the broad loom weavers who were on strike during the period from 27th August 1955 to 2nd September 1955 shall not get any wages for this period from the employer. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 3.—Are the weavers concerned entitled to wages for the paid holiday on 29th August 1955 on account of Muharram?

During the period of strike from 27th August 1955 to 2nd September 1955 there was a paid holiday on 29th August 1955 on account of Muharram. The Union prayed for payment of wage to the broad loom weavers for this date only on the ground that it was a paid holiday. P.W. 1 Juman Miah states in his evidence that the holiday for Muharrum on 29th August 1955 was notified in the beginning of the year. The broad loom weavers should get the pay for the holiday (Muharrum) on 29th August 1955. This issue is accordingly answered.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

HOME DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION

No. 2398H.J.—28th August 1956.—The following draft of rules which in exercise of the powers conferred by section 12 of the West Bengal Offenders (Release on Admonition and Probation) Act, 1954 (West Bengal Act XXXVIII of 1954), read with section 23 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899 (Bengal Act I of 1899), the Governor proposes to make is hereby published as required by sub-section (3) of that section for the information of persons affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 7th September 1956 and any objection or suggestion with respect thereto which may be received by the undersigned before that date will be considered.

DRAFT RULES

I.—General

1. (1) These rules may be called the West Bengal Offenders (Release on Probation) Rules, 1956.

(2) They shall come into force in the following areas immediately on the commencement of the West Bengal Probation of Offenders (Release on Admonition and Probation) Act, 1954 (West Bengal Act XXXVIII of 1954), in those areas, that is to say,—

The town of Calcutta, as defined in section 3 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act IV of 1866), the suburbs of the town of Calcutta as defined by notification under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act II of 1866) and in the districts of Howrah and Hooghly.

(3) In these rules unless the context otherwise requires—

(a) "district" includes the Presidency town of Calcutta and "District Magistrate" includes the Chief Presidency Magistrate in the Presidency town of Calcutta;

(b) "form" means a form appended to these rules;

(c) "Inspetcor-General" means the Inspector-General of Prisons, West Bengal;

(d) "probation" means supervision of an offender in pursuance of an order passed under sub-section (4) of section 4;

(e) "Probation Officer" means a Probation Officer referred to in section 9;

(f) "probationer" means any offender in respect of whom a supervision order is passed under sub-section (4) of section 4;

(g) "section" means a section of the Act;

(h) "the Act" means the West Bengal Offenders (Release on Admonition and Probation) Act, 1954 (West Bengal Act XXXVIII of 1954).

II.—Inspector-General—Powers and Duties

2. The Inspector-General shall exercise throughout the State general supervision over the administration of probation. The Chief Probation Officer and other Probation Officers shall be under his administrative control.

3. The Inspector-General shall prepare and submit an annual report to the State Government on the working of the system of probation.

4. The report referred to in rule 3 shall be incorporated in the Inspector-General's annual administration report for the year ending on the 31st December immediately preceding the date of the report and shall contain, inter-alia, the following particulars, namely:

(a) Number of Probation Officers employed in each district.

(b) Salary and other expenses paid to Probation Officers and subsidy to the societies or organisations providing Probation Officers recognised by the State Government.

(c) Number of probationers placed under supervision of Probation Officers.

(d) Number of cases in which conditions of probation have been varied under section 6, and the number of cases in which the probation order has been revoked under section 7.

(e) Duties other than the work of probation performed by the Probation Officers.

(f) Account of expenses incurred in connection with the working of the system of probation.

(g) Such other particulars as may be directed by the State Government from time to time by order made in this behalf.

III.—Chief Probation Officer—Duties and Functions

5. An officer shall be appointed for the State of West Bengal by the State Government designated as the Chief Probation Officer. Subject to the control and supervision of the Inspector-General, the Chief Probation Officer stall administer the work of probation throughout the State, and shall direct, supervise and be responsible for the proper performance of the work of Probation Officers.

6. The Chief Probation Officer shall submit to the Inspector-General half-yearly, in July and January, reports on the work and conduct of Probation Officers during the half-year immediately preceding the date of the report and such other reports and particulars as may be called for by the Inspector-General from time to time.

7. The Chief Probation Officer shall meet every Probation Officer periodically and shall examine the case records of all important cases. In particular, he shall pay attention to the manner in which the probationer in such cases has been looked after generally, the number of times he has been met and visited at home, in office or in his place of employment, the nature of the vocation selected for the probationer, the job fixed for him, the manner in which his family and other difficulties have been handled, how he spends his leisure, who his associates and what his earnings and savings are.

8. In carrying out his duties, the Chief Probation Officer shall have regard to the following matters, namely:—

He shall see that the Probation Officers work properly and exercise their influence for the rehabilitation of probationers. He shall also issue necessary orders to this end and ensure that his orders are carried out. He shall endeavour to make his inspection helpful and shall not merely look for faults and defects but shall try to help the Probation Officers by giving them the benefit of his greater experience and wider view of life.

IV.—Probation Officers

9. The headquarters of a Probation Officer shall ordinarily be the headquarters of the district but the Inspector-General may, in consultation with the District Magistrate, fix a sub-divisional headquarters as the headquarters of a Probation Officer. The jurisdiction of a Probation Officer shall cover the whole of the district in which he is posted, or any other area, specified for the purpose by the State Government. The headquarters of a female Probation Officer shall be fixed by the Inspector-General and her jurisdiction shall cover such area as the Inspector-General may determine with the approval of the State Government. The posting and transfer of Probation Officers shall be made by the Inspector-General.

10. Every Probation Officer shall, on appointment or recognition by the State Government, be furnished with an Identity Card as nearly as possible in Form I, which shall be returned to the Inspector-General when the Probation Officer is placed under suspension or ceases to hold office.

11. The Inspector-General shall, as soon as possible, give notice to all Courts, concerned if any person ceases or is about to cease to be a Probation Officer.

V.—Absence of Probation Officers on leave

12. The Inspector-General may grant casual leave to the Chief Probation Officer and the Chief Probation Officer may grant casual leave to other Probation Officers. The granting of all other kinds of leave to the Chief Probation Officer or any other Probation Officer shall be subject to the orders of the Inspector-General on application made to him in this behalf by or through the Chief Probation Officer, as the case may be.

VI.—Duties of Probation Officers

13. When directed by a Court, a Probation Officer shall make preliminary enquiries into the circumstances and home surroundings of an offender in respect of whom the question of making an order under the Act may arise.

14. The report on enquiries made under rule 13, shall be made as nearly as possible in Form II, and shall contain, inter-alia, the information indicated in rule 15 and such other information as may from time to time be laid down by the Inspector-General or as may be required by the Court concerned.

15. In making enquiries under rule 13, the Probation Officer shall have regard to the following:—

(1) Circumstances connected with the offence.

(2) Antecedents.

(3) Personal factors—

(a) Age, place of residence, etc.

(b) Physical characteristics, if any.

(c) Psychological traits—personality, character, and emotional stability.

(d) Education.

(e) Work and record of work, income.

(f) Leisure time activities.

(4) Family history, relations with members of family, economic condition of the family.

(5) Associations.

16. All information collected on enquiry referred to in rule 13 shall be concisely stated, evaluated and presented in the report submitted to the Court under rule 14 not later than the day on which it is due.

17. Probation Officers shall not divulge any information concerning their enquiries or work of probation to any person other than the authorities to whom they are required to report, except in so far as it is necessary to do so in the interest of the probationer.

18. Female probationers shall be placed under the supervision of female Probation Officers where the services of such officers are available.

All cases where a female probationer is placed under the supervision of a male Probation Officer, shall be reported immediately to the District Magistrate and the Chief Probation Officer.

19. A Probation Officer shall explain to the probationer the conditions of the supervision order, and shall by warning and persuasion and by the exercise of personal influence, endeavour to ensure the observance thereof by the probationer. If the probationer disregards any of the conditions, the Probation Officer shall make a report as hereinafter provided.

20. The Probation Officer shall maintain a case record in respect of every probationer in which shall be recorded every important event and significant change in the behaviour, activities, attitude and associations of the probationer during the period of probation.

21. In recording cases the Probation Officer shall be objective and factual. The records kept by him shall, as far as practicable, indicate all situation and developments affecting the probationer. The sources of information shall be clearly stated.

22. All Probation Officers shall, subject to any directions given by the Court (whether in the probation order or otherwise) or by the Chief Probation Officer, visit the houses of the probationers. The Probation Officer shall supplement such visits by making enquiries in the neighbourhood.

23. The Probation Officer shall keep in close touch with the probationer and shall during the first month of probation meet him as frequently as is necessary. Later the number of visits or meetings shall depend on the conduct and mode of life of the probationer, but shall not normally be less than once a month. A Probation Officer shall advise and befriend a probationer and, where necessary, endeavour to secure suitable employment for him. He shall also assist him in averting evil influence and victimisation, and to this end secure the assistance of public authorities, if necessary.

24. In planning out the course of reformation the Probation Officer shall have regard to the matters mentioned in rule 15. In the case of young probationers particular attention shall be paid to the family conditions and associations of the probationers.

25. The probationer shall be required by the Probation Officer occasionally to report himself at the Probation Officer's office. The Probation Officer shall also occasionally visit the probationer at his residence. The time and place of reporting shall be so arranged as not to cause unnecessary hardship to the probationer and to secure proper privacy and to avoid probationers associating with each other.

26. In the case of school-going boys or girls, the Probation Officer shall make enquiries regarding the boy or girl from his or her teacher as to his or her attendance and progress, but the boy or girl shall not be visited in the school premises.

27. In the case of young probationers under 16 years of age, the Probation Officer shall endeavour to secure the probationer's membership of some recognised organisation for the care and protection of the young such as the Sunday School, club, the Association of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of other similar associations.

28. A Probation Officer shall not unnecessarily disclose his identity or functions to those with whom he may come in contact in the course of his duties.

29. A Probation Officer shall not wear any badge distinctive of his office.

VII.—Report By Probation Officers

30. When an offender is released on probation and placed under the supervision of a Probation Officer by a Court, the Probation Officer shall, without delay, send to the Chief Probation Officer a statement as nearly as possible in Form III containing the particulars of the offender entrusted to him.

31. A Probation Officer shall report on the conduct and mode of life of a probationer and generally on his progress to the Court before which the probationer is bound by his bond, in accordance with any direction given by the Court. Copies of the report shall also be sent at the same time to the Chief Probation Officer by the Probation Officer. Reports shall be made, unless otherwise directed by the Court, once every month; they shall be marked secret and addressed to the Presiding Officer of the Court by name. They shall not be published.

32. If a probationer fails to observe any of the conditions of the bond and supervision order, and if the failure is not such as can be ignored or if the matter cannot be set right by the personal influence of the Probation Officer without the intervention of the Court, the Probation Officer shall report the matter to the Court before which the probationer is bound by his bond and pray for the Court's order. A copy of the report shall also be sent at the same time to the Chief Probation Officer by the Probation Officer. A copy of the Court's order when passed shall also be sent by the Probation Officer to the Chief Probation Officer.

33. A Probation Officer shall send to the Court and the Chief Probation Officer a final report on the conduct and progress of each probationer on the termination of the period for which he is placed under supervision.

34. Every Probation Officer shall submit to the Chief Probation Officer,—

(1) a half-yearly report in January and July on the conduct and progress of all probationers in his district during the half-year immediately preceding the date of the report containing, inter alia, the following particulars, namely:—

(a) number of probationers at the beginning of the half-year;

(b) number of offenders placed on probation during the half-year;

(c) number of probationers whose probation terminated during the half-year;

(d) number of probationers who reverted to crime during the half-year;

(e) general remarks on the psychological changes of the probationers, employment secured, educational and other activities towards reclamation during the half-year; and

(f) number of probationers at the end of the half-year.

(2) such other reports as may be required by the Inspector-General or the Chief Probation Officer under rule 35 or as may be directed by the State Government.

35. The Inspector-General or the Chief Probation Officer may, at any time, call for a special report on any probationer from the Probation Officer concerned.

VIII.—Records

36. Every Probation Officer shall maintain the following records:—

(1) A diary showing his day-to-day work including preliminary enquiries, attendance at Courts, visits to probationers, contact made in the advancement of probation work and other duties. A copy of the diary shall be submitted to the Chief Probation Officer every week. The diary shall be closed on the 31st December each year and deposited as a confidential record in the Office of the Chief Probation Officer.

(2) Separate files in respect of each probationer containing a history-sheet for each recording all important events during the period of his probation and reports including copies of preliminary reports submitted by him and orders passed by the Court during the preiod of probation. In case a probationer is permitted by the Court to live in another district, the file relating to him shall be transferred to the Probation Officer concerned of the other district and a report sent to the Chief Probation Officer.

(3) An index card and chronological record as nearly as possible in Form IV.

(4) Such other records as may be directed by the Inspector-General from time to time.

37. The District Magistrate or any other officer, not below the rank of a Deputy Magistrate, duly authorised by him, may inspect the work of any Probation Officer and any record in the Office of the Probation Officer working within his jurisdiction.

38. After the expiry of the period of probation, the history-sheets shall be maintained in the Office of the District Magistrate in the district and in the Office of the Inspector-General in Calcutta. The history-sheets, index cards and chronological record shall be maintained as "B" Class records and preserved for 12 years. Other papers mentioned in rule 36 shall be preserved for 3 years.

39. A Probation Officer may, for due discharge of his duties, apply to the appropriate Court for having access to the records of his cases. He may also ask for permission to take notes or copies of the recorded particulars and reports relating to his case for use in the performance of his duties. Where such permission is granted, he shall, in no circumstances, communicate the contents of the records to any other person without the specific sanction of the Court.

IX.—Miscellaneous

40. The bond referred to in sub-section (1) of section 4 to be entered into by an offender ordered to be released on probation shall be as nearly as possible in Form V.

NOTIFICATION

No. 6697P.—27th August 1956.—Whereas for the prevention of disturbances of the public tranquillity and of riots and affrays within the area described in the schedule below, the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, issued an order, dated the 1st July 1956, under section 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), prohibiting, with effect from the 1st July 1956, until further orders, any assembly of five or more persons within the said area or the carrying of any lathis or other dangerous weapons or the doing of any act which is likely to cause a disturbance of the public tranquillity or a riot or an affray, within the said area;

And whereas it appears to the State Government that there is still a likelihood of riots and affrays within the said area and that it is necessary to continue in force the said order of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (6) of section 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), the Governor is pleased to direct that the said order of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, dated the 1st July 1956, under the said section shall remain in force, until the 15th September 1956.

The Schedule

The area within the jurisdiction of Hare Street police-station in the Town of Calcutta bounded—

On the North by Hastings Street (the street being excluded);

On the South by Auckland Road and Lawrence Road up to the South Gate of Raj Bhawan (the roads being included);

On the East by Government Place West (the road being included); and

On the West by Strand Road (the road being excluded).

Explanation.—In this schedule "Town of Calcutta" means the town of Calcutta as defined in section 3 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act IV of 1866).

By order of the Governor,

M. M. BASU,

Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

and Reforms

NOTIFICATION

No. 14780L.Ref.—27th August 1956.—The following draft of amendments which, in exercise of the power conferred by section 59 of the West Bengal Estates Acquisition Act, 1953 (West Bengal Act I of 1954), the Governor proposes to make in the West Bengal Estates Acquisition Rules, 1954, as subsequently amended (hereinafter referred to as the said rules), is hereby published, as required by sub-section (1) of the said section, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 10th September 1956, and any objection or suggestion with respect thereto, which may be received by the undersigned before that date, shall be considered:

Draft Amendments

1. For sub-rule (3) of rule 10 of the said rules, substitute the following sub-rule, namely—

"(3) Applications for ad-interim payment under section 12 shall be presented to the Collector or any other officer authorised by the Collector in this behalf. The application shall contain all particulars of the estates and interests of the intermediary situated in the district. Where the applicant held estates situate in more than one district, such application may be filed before the Collector of the district on the Tauzi Roll of which such estates are borne. Every such application shall be in Form 3A appended to these rules or in a form substantially similar thereto. Where the application is for ad-interim payment under sub-section (2) of section 12, true copies of the Deed of Trust or Dedication or Arpannama or any other document in support of such claim shall also be furnished along with the application."

2. For sub-rule (2) of rule 11 of the said rules, substitute the following sub-rule, namely—

"(2) For the purpose of sub-rule (1), the Collector may take into consideration any return furnished by an intermediary in pursuance of the proclamation issued under rule 6, or the attested record of the revisional settlement operation, where available, or the record-of-rights prepared according to the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 and kept in the District Record Room. He may, if necessary, require an intermediary to produce Jamabandi, Thoka, Karcha or similar papers on such date as may be specified by him. Such papers shall not be retained by the Collector unless voluntarily made over by the intermediary."

By order of the Governor,

S. BANERJEE, Secy.

Forests

NOTIFICATIONS

Burdwan.—No. 7092For.—26th June 1956.—Whereas the Governor thinks that in the case of the forest lands situate within the district of Burdwan and described in the schedule below, the enquiry and record referred to in the first paragraph of sub-section (3) of section 29 of the Indian Forests Act, 1927 (XVI of 1927), will occupy such length of time as in the meantime to endanger the rights of Government;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by the proviso to sub-section (3) of section 29 of the Indian Forest Act, 1927 (XVI of 1927), the Governor is pleased, pending such enquiry and record, to declare, with effect from the date of the publication of this notification in the Official Gazette, such forest lands to be protected forests.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT.

ORDER

No. 3543Dis./D/10L-113/55.—13th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4697Dis./D/10L-113/55, dated the 27th September 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Victory Iron Works, Benares Road, Salkia, Howrah and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Benares Road, Salkia, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Victory Iron Works, Benares Road, Salkia, Howrah and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Benares Road, Salkia, Howrah.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI J. N. MAITRA, Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: SHRI KALI CHAKRAVARTI, Vice-President.

For the Company: SHRI P. R. MUKHERJI, Pleader.

AWARD

1. By order No. 4697Dis./D/10L-113/55, dated the 27th September 1955, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Victory Iron Works, Benares Road, Salkia, Howrah and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Benares Road, Salkia, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1953, for adjudication.

2. After usual summons the parties entered appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 19th December 1955. The parties were thereafter directed to file their lists of documents. Then after adjournments the case was taken up for hearing.

3. The matters of dispute as stated in the schedule to the Order of Reference are as follows:—

(1) Pay and Dearness Allowance.

(2) Leave.

(3) If Joykissen, Bhaglu and Chhotolal should be made permanent?

DECISION

Issues Nos. 1 to 3.—The parties filed a joint petition of compromise relating to the issues and prayed for an award in terms thereof. Heard the representatives of both sides. The terms are fair. I, therefore, give

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Snow White Food Products Co., Ltd., Foreshore Road, Howrah (Head Office: 18 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta) and their workers represented by Snow White Food Products Employees' Union, 3/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah (case No. VIII-48 of 1955).

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 628Dis./D/11L-42/55, dated 16th February 1955, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Indutsrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Snow White Food Products Co., Ltd., Foreshore Road, Howrah (Head Office: 18 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta) and their workers represented by Snow White Food Products Employees' Union, 3/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah, regarding the matter specified in the following schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication:

Schedule.

(1) Production bonus.

Notices were issued on both parties, who filed written statements setting forth their respective cases.

The pleadings of the parties will be discussed at the decision of the issue.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:

For the Union: Shri Shib Nath Banerji, President, and Shri H. L. Roy, Pleader.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

The issue that falls for decision is as mentioned in the order of reference and is as follows:

Issue

(1) Production bonus.

AWARD

DECISIONS

The Company is the manufacturer of hydrogenated vegetable product, commonly known as "Vanaspati". It started production in 1940. The processes in the manufacture are as follows: (1) Vegetable oil is refined; (2) thereupon it is hydrogenated; (3) then it is again refined; (4) then deodorised; and (5) thereafter the same is filled in tins. In 1943, the Company introduced a production bonus for payment exclusively to some of the mistries, who took part in the actual manufacture of the product. It will appear from Ext. D, being a list of the categories of workmen employed in the industry, that there are in all 130 workmen inasmany as 19 categories. In all these, the men in categories 1 to 12 numbering 26 are skilled workers and mistries, those in categories 13 to 16 numbering 30 are semi-skilled workers and those in categories 17 to 19 numbering 74 are unskilled workers. It is the admitted case of both parties that production bonus when introduced was paid to only 14 men covered by the categories 1 to 5 in Ext. D. The hydrogenation of the oil is done in the machine at the rate of 5 tons of the product per charge. The production departments work for full 24 hours in three shifts. The normal output in 24 hours has been fixed at 5 charges giving out 25 tons and for each extra charge of 5 tons in the course of the same 24 hours a bonus of Rs. 10 was agreed to be paid to the 14 men in the category Nos. 1 to 5 in Ext. D. The production bonus of Rs. 10 per day for an extra charge of 5 tons was earned since 1943. This rate was increased to Rs. 15 in September 1948, and was further increased to Rs. 17 in April 1950. In June 1953, the production bonus was increased from Rs. 17 to Rs. 20 per batch of 5 tons after the production of 25 tons per day. It was further agreed that Rs. 10 out of the sum was to be distributed to those workers who were getting the production bonus so far, or in other words, the 14 men comprising the category 5 in Ext. D and the balance of Rs. 10 was to be distributed to the other permanent workers who were not getting any bonus so far. This arrangement of the production bonus is continuing till today.

The Union, in its written statement, complains that the present system for the payment of production bonus in which the total production is divided into two equal halves, then one half is paid to 10 per cent. of the favoured workers and the other half to 90 per cent. of the workers is unjust and unequitable and is followed with the ulterior purpose of wrecking the unity of the workers. The Union has been repeatedly requesting the Company to change the present system of production bonus for a just and equitable system but without any result. After an unsuccessful conciliation proceeding over this matter, the dispute has been referred to the Tribunal. The Union claims that the production bonus should be raised to Rs. 40 per batch instead of Rs. 20 and that the production bonus should be paid to each worker in proportion to his wage.

The Company opposed this claim on the ground that on the present cost of production and selling price of the product, the target which has been fixed as normal production over and above which production bonus is to be given is very low and the workmen can easily produce and they actually produce 30 tons per day. It is, therefore, stated that it is not only impossible to lower down the target for the purpose of payment of production bonus, but it is necessary to raise it to a higher level. The present ratio of distribution of Rs. 10 to the Refinery Hardening Mistries, and Rs. 10 to the other workers was fixed by a settlement by the workers themselves, and any alteration of the same will create difficulties and unrest amongst the workers concerned. The demand for the revision of the production bonus scheme now in existence should be rejected.

P. W. 1 Shri Bimal Chandra Basu, a semi-skilled workman working in the Pump House, was examined for the Union and O.P.W. 1 Shri P. N. Mathur, the Manager of the Factory, was examined for the Company. Documents, Ext. A to Ext. F(3), were marked for the Company. Exhibit A is a proceedings of the Works Committee held at the Mill premises on 26th June 1953, in which the production bonus of Rs. 17 was increased to Rs. 20 per batch of 5 tons after the production of 25 tons per day and the scheme of distribution of production bonus was changed. Exhibit B is a letter, dated 4th March 1954, by which the President of the Union, Shri Shib Nath Banerji, called upon the Company to alter the scheme of distribution of production bonus on the ground that the existing scheme was unjust and inequitable. Exhibit C is a statement of working analysis showing the expenses of the "Vanaspati" product per maund and the sale realisation per maund, showing the profit or loss per maund in the years 1951-52, 1952-53, 1953-54 and 1954-55. This document shows that there was a loss per maund of the manufactured product in 1951-52 and in 1954-55, and there was profit per maund of the manufactured product in 1952-53 and 1953-54. Exhibit D is a list of the categories of workmen with their rates of wages per day and the number of workmen working in the different categories. Exhibit E is a statement showing the details of wages given to unskilled workmen in the Company, as well as in three local "Vanaspati" factories, indicating that the Company was paying the highest wages to the unskilled workers. Exhibits F to F(3) are the Report and Statement of Accounts of the Company for the years ending 30th April 1952, 30th April 1953, 30th April 1954, and 30th April 1955.

The evidence of P. W. 1 Shri Bimal Chandra Basu shows that the present system of payment of production bonus is that half of the amount is paid to only 14 men and the other half is paid to the other workers, that there are 130 permanent workers besides 40 temporary workers in the Company, and that the temporary workers do not get any production bonus. P.W. 1 states that the grievance of the workers is that the production bonus should be distributed equitably amongst the workers and that an equitable distribution may be attained by distributing the bonus proportionately to the pay received by the employees. O.P.W. 1 Shri P.N. Mathur states that it is not possible for the Company to increase the bonus to more than Rs. 20, as it will be uneconomical. He states that it is not possible to distribute the bonus equally to all workmen, because there will be discontent amongst the mistries who are the real producers. He states that these 14 mistries who received the production bonus are the persons who can increase the production and therefore they are given this incentive bonus. He further states that on an enquiry he found that the skilled workers in the categories of 1 to 5 in Exhibit D were getting less pay than similar workers in other factories in Calcutta, and that the unskilled workers in other factories were getting more wages than similar workers in this factory. He, therefore, justified the present scheme of paying half of the production bonus, being Rs. 10 per day to 14 mistries and the other half of Rs. 10 to the rest of 116 workers. It appears that in June 1953, when the production bonus payable to the 14 mistries was reduced from Rs. 17 to Rs. 10, their daily wage was increased from annas four to annas seven. The other mistries also got increase in their daily wage from annas four to annas seven per day and the other workers were given an increase of 6 pies per day. It appears in the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that the Foreman No. 1 in Exhibit D got more than annas seven increase in the daily wage, No. 2 got slightly less than annas seven, and the mistries in item Nos. 3, 4 and 5 got a little less than annas six increase per day. It is stated that the 14 mistries are the key-men for increasing production, although they cannot do so without the others. The balance-sheets, Exhibit F series show loss in the year 1951-52, profit in the years 1952-53 and 1953-54. There was also a working loss in the year 1954-55. It appears that no provision for depreciation was made in any of these years, and no dividend was paid to the share-holders and no Managing Agents commission was paid. It is, therefore, argued by the learned advocate for the Company that the production bonus should not be increased in any way. It also appears from the document, Exhibit B, which is the first letter of the President of the Union formulating the demand of the production bonus, that no increase of the production bonus was demanded at that date. The learned President for the Union, who addressed the court at the hearing of the case, admitted that no claim for increase of the quantum of the production bonus was made prior to the reference of the dispute to the Tribunal, although the Union has been demanding for better and more equitable distribution of the production bonus since 1954. Considering all these circumstances and the fact that the financial condition of the Company is not strong, it is decided that there should be no increase of the quantum of the production bonus, and that the production bonus shall continue to be Rs. 20 per extra charge of 5 tons after the production of 25 tons per day, as it is in existence at the present time. There can be no doubt that the scheme of distribution of the bonus is inequitable inasmuch as half the amount goes to only 14 men and the other half goes to the rest of 116 permanent workers. This scheme of distribution cannot be defended by the statement of the Manager, O.P.W. 1, that the mistry Nos. 1 to 14 were getting less basic wage than the mistries in other "Vanaspati" factories in Calcutta. On this point, the only evidence was the statement of the Manager, O.P.W. 1. In any case, the scheme of distribution of the production bonus as it is availing at the present time is inequitable and is a potent cause of industrial dispute. It is awarded that the production bonus shall be distributed to the permanent workmen in proportion to the basic wage earned by the individual permanent workmen. The mistry Nos. 1 to 14 have already got an increase in the daily basic wage in 1953. Should the Company find it necessary, a further increase in the basic wage may be given to them, but the deficiency in their basic wage should not be sought to be made up by an unjustly large share in the production bonus, as was being done so long. This issue is accordingly answered.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. United Rubber Works, Ltd., 51 Tangra Road, Calcutta-15 and their workmen represented by United Rubber Mazdoor Panchayet, 76 Surendra Nath Banerjee Road, Calcutta-14.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the employees: Shri Hiralal Roy, Pleader, Shri Ram Babu Saha, General Secretary, United Rubber Mazdoor Panchayet.

For the Company: Shri Sailesh Chandra Sen, Advocate.

The aforesaid dispute has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under Government order No. 1656Dis./D/11L-416/55, dated 24th April 1956.

The issues as per schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:

(1) Whether the action of the Management in reducing the supply of raw materials and curtailing the work of the workers was justified?

(2) To what relief are the workers entitled?

AWARD

The Union in its written statement has stated that the Company is an old one, and is a prosperous concern with about 500 workmen in its employ. There was no rule of service, no rule of leave and holidays, and no provision for Provident Fund and gratuity, and the minimum basic wages were also less in many cases. So, the workmen in order to better their lot and remove legitimate grievances formed a Union in 1950, which, however, was not accepted in good grace by the Company. Two disputes between the parties were referred to two Tribunals. The Tribunal presided over by Shri G. Palit passed an award on 14th June 1952 (which was published on 26th June 1952 in the Calcutta Gazette) on several issues including minimum basic wages, bonus and involuntary unemployment for some time in a year. The Tribunal presided over by Shri M. N. Gan fixed dearness allowance for the workers. This award was made on 29th December 1953 and was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 28th January 1954. But these awards have not been implemented by the Company. On the contrary, the Company in order to victimise the workers, who were members of the Union, pursued a policy of discrimination, and made two groups—one with the Union workers known as Russian Fauz, and the other with the workers who were loyal to the Company known as American Fauz. The Russian Fauz were given very meagre supply of materials, while the American Fauz as much materials as they liked and were capable of working with. In consequence of this reduction of the supply of raw materials there was curtailment of wages of workers during the period from 6th June 1954 to 6th November 1954 and again from 4th July 1955 to 10th October 1955 in this Company to the great sufferings of the workers and consequent loss of their income. The Union wanted to say that the action of the Management was unjustified, and accordingly it claimed that the workers should be paid normal wages, which they were entitled to get during the period when there was curtailment of work.

The Company contested the claim on merits, and in its written statement has stated, among others, that it manufactures rubber shoes, and that these articles are sold mostly during the winter and rainy seasons, as in other seasons there is practically no market for the same. Its products are restricted between June and November. The Company has denied the allegation of the Union that it made discrimination in the matter of distribution of raw materials and curtailment of work among the workers. It has also denied the allegation of the Union that it termed one group of the workers as American Fauz and the other group as Russian Fauz. It further denied having recruited new hands during the dull season.

Issue No. 1—Whether the action of the Management in reducing the supply of raw materials and curtailing the work of the workers was justified?

At the very outset, I may say that the scope of adjudication is limited by the issue No. 1, which is based on the assumption that there was reduction in the supply of raw materials and curtailment of work of the workers. So, the question of reduction in the supply of raw materials and curtailment of work of the workers is not open to doubt. In view of the issue as framed by the Government in the schedule to the order of reference it is admitted on behalf of the Company in its written statement that the rubber shoes and canvas shoes, which this Company manufactures, are sold mostly during the winter and rainy seasons, and its productions are being restricted between June and November every year, when there is practically no market for such articles. O. P. W. 1 Shri M. S. Saigan, who is the General Manager and Director of the Company, has also deposed in this case that the rubber and canvas shoes, which the Company manufactures, are sold mostly during the months of November, December, January, February, March and April, and also in May and June, but in the months of July, August and September and also in the first part of October there is practically no sale of such shoes in the market. The Union has specifically mentioned two periods in its written statement, when there was reduction in the supply of raw materials and curtailing wages of workers in this Company. One period is from 6th June 1954 to 6th November 1954 and the other period is from 4th July 1955 to 10th October 1955. In the issue appearing in the schedule to the order of reference no mention is made of the period. In view of what has been stated in the written statement of the Union, there is no difficulty in accepting the said period as the period when there was curtailment of wages of workers in this Company. The moot question for consideration in this dispute is whether there was justification for such curtailment of wages of the workers in consequence of reduction in the supply of raw materials. Both parties have adduced evidence, and I have carefully considered the same. On a consideration of the matter it is extremely difficult to say that the Management pursued a policy of discrimination amongst the workers employed in the factory in the matter of distribution of work or supply of raw materials. The evidence of P. W. 1 Shri Ram Babu Saha, who is the General Secretary of the Union, is not at all helpful in this respect. He has frankly stated that he has no personal knowledge regarding the facts deposed to by him, but he heard the same from the workers who came and reported so to him. He has no doubt stated in his evidence that the Company adopted the policy of discrimination in order to victimise the workers, who were associated or connected with the Union. His version is that those who were loyal to the Management were called American Fauz and those who were connected with the Union were known as Russian Fauz, and that the Russian Fauz were given less work, while the American Fauz were given more work. But as his knowledge in this respect is based on hearsay, no importance or weight can be put to his version. P. W. 2 Shri Subai, who is a piece-rated worker of this Company, does not fully support the version of P. W. 1, the General Secretary of the Union. He has stated clearly that the workers of both the groups—American Fauz and Russian Fauz—used to get work from the Company, and so also the new recruits. All that he wanted to say is that those workers who were connected with the Union were given less work. As against this, there is the positive testimony of O. P. W. 1 Shri M. S. Saigan, General Manager and Director of the Company, to the effect that in this Company there is no group of workers known as American Fauz and Russian Fauz, and that the Management does not make any discrimination in the matter of distribution of work or supply of raw materials to the workers. He has also denied the fact that the Company recruited new hands during the dull season. That there was no recruitment of new hands during the last few years is also evident from the materials placed before the Tribunal. The Union in its written statement has stated that this Company employs about 500 workmen. In the written statement filed in connection with an industrial dispute before Shri

G. Palit, it appears that the Union claimed then also that the Company employed 500 workman or more. P. W. 1 General Secretary of the Union was constrained to admit this fact in his cross-examination. An industrial dispute between the parties was referred to Shri G. Palit in the year 1951, and it appears that the Union filed written statement in connection with that dispute on 5th November 1951. There is also the statement of the General Manager and Director of the Company that the strength of their workmen will be about 400, and such number fluctuates from time to time, and that they have been maintaining that strength since the inception of the Company. In view of what has been stated above, there cannot possibly remain any scope for argument that the Company recruited new hands in order to victimise the workers who were connected with the Union by curtailing their wages. After giving my careful and anxious consideration to the materials on record. I hold that the Union has not succeeded in establishing that the Company pursued a policy of discrimination amongst the workers in the matter of distribution of work or supply of raw materials.

That there was some curtailment in the wages of the workers during the periods as specifically mentioned in the written statement of the Union is an admitted fact. Presumably, this was due to the fact that there was practically no market for canvas and rubber shoes, which this Company manufactures. From the evidence it appears that such shoes are sold mostly during the months of November, December, January, February, March and April and also in May and June, but in the months of July, August and September and also in the first part of October there is practically no sale of such shoes in the market. The General Manager and Director of the Company has deposed that during the period when there is no sale of such shoes in the market, the Company closes its factory at 12 o'clock instead of 5 p.m. P. W. 1 Shri Ram Babu Saha, General Secretary of the Union, has also admitted in his cross-examination that during the periods as mentioned in the written statement of the Union the factory, which opened as usual at 8 a.m., used to be closed sometime at 12 o'clock, and in no case after 12 o'clock the work continued in the factory. P. W. 2 Shri Subai, who is one of the workers, has also deposed in the same line. Their evidence does not indicate or suggest for a moment that some workers were allowed to work in the factory even after 12 o'clock. This also negatives the contention of the Union that the Company pursued a policy of discrimination in the matter of distribution of work amongst the workers. It appears from the award given by Shri G. Palit that the question of such closure of the factory also cropped up before him. Shri Palit while dealing with the issue No. 4—involuntary unemployment observed that such involuntary unemployment of the workers was unavoidable, because there were seasons in which the rubber work was brisk and when it was dull and it all depended on the market. He further observed that in the winter and the rainy seasons the demand for rubber goods was more than the other times of the year. Thus, it is apparent that the question of curtailment of work of the workers and of their wages during the dull season did not arise for the first time during the periods as specifically mentioned in the written statement of the Union, but as a matter of fact, this practice has been going on in this factory all along since its very inception. Regard being had to the nature of the Company's business, and on a consideration of the fact that it manufactures canvas and rubber shoes only, which are sold mostly during the winter and the rainy seasons for which there is no market at other times of the year, it cannot be said that the action of the Management in closing the factory at 12 o'clock during the periods specifically mentioned in the written statement of the Union, which were admittedly dull season of the years in question, was mala fide and illegal. The Management best knows how to regulate its business. It could not be proved that the Management closed its factory at 12 o'clock during the said periods to put the workers to sufferings. It cannot be believed for a moment that the Management will arbitrarily and capriciously close its factory after 4 hours' work instead of 8 hours', and stop production when it fetches profits. Such closure of the factory at 12 o'clock during the dull season was inevitable and unavoidable. If by such closure of the factory there was any curtailment of work and wages of the workers, there was no help for it, and the Management cannot be blamed for that. So, the Tribunal comes to the conclusion that the action of the Management in reducing the supply of raw materials and curtailing the work of the workers during the periods in question was justified. The Tribunal is unable to hold that the Management in this respect acted with any mala fide motive. This issue is answered in the affirmative.

Issue No. 2—To what relief are the workers entitled?

In view of what has been stated above, the question of giving any relief to the workers does not and cannot arise. Hence, the workers are not entitled to any relief. This issue is answered accordingly.

This is my award.

AWARD

Babcock & Wilcox of India, Ltd. (hereinafter called the Company), is a private limited Company, which was registered in India on July 1, 1947. Prior to that, the business was carried on in India by a Branch office of Babcock & Wilcox, London, from 1906. It does no manufacturing. It imports water tubes, boilers, super-heaters, stokers, coal conveyors, steel chimneies, cranes, etc. and also spare parts of those articles. It also erects new boilers.

Babcock & Wilcox Workers' Union (hereinafter called the Union) wants to say that the dismissal of seven workmen as per attached List A regarding issue No. 1 was illegal and unfair, and against all principles of natural justice. So, their reinstatement with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment was claimed by the Union. The Union further submitted that the suspension of eight workmen as per attached List B regarding issue No. 2 was illegal and mala fide, and as such the Company might be directed to allow them to resume their work. The Union further demanded payment of bonus to each worker for the years 1953 and 1954 equivalent to three months' total wages in addition to one month's bonus that has been granted by the Company. It was also submitted by the Union that the workmen concerned have been deprived of increments since 1953, and as such an annual increment of Rs. 5 was claimed on their behalf.

The Company says that the dismissal of these seven workers as per attached List A was justified, as they were found guilty of gross misconduct. The Company stated that in dismissing those workmen, it followed scrupulously all principles of natural justice. Regarding the Union's claim for bonus, the Company wanted to say that such claim is not at all tenable, inasmuch as the trading results as disclosed in the balance sheets for the years 1953 and 1954 were not satisfactory, and there was no available surplus to be distributed amongst the workmen as bonus, after meeting all the prior charges. The Company paid one month's basic wage as bonus for some years to the workmen, because the trading results of the Company were favourable, and there were some profits to justify payment of annual bonus, but the Company had at no time made any payment in a year, in which the Company suffered trading losses. The Company had made ex gratia payments in 1953 and 1954, because it had some small profits for which such payment could be made, but this payment was not a condition of service of the workmen. Regarding annual increment for the Hide Road godown staff, the Company has contended that it engages about 45 workmen in the said establishment, most of whom are unskilled workers. The Company grants increment only in deserving cases, and there is no grade system with time-scale of increment. The total remunerations paid by the Company to its workmen employed in the aforesaid godown are fair, reasonable and adequate, and so there is no justification of any increase in their existing wages.

Issue No. 2—Whether the suspension of the eight workers as per attached List B was justified. What reliefs are they entitled to?

This issue is taken up first. It needs no more any adjudication by the Tribunal, inasmuch as both the parties have amicably settled this dispute, and filed a joint petition of compromise on 21st. June 1956 before the Tribunal. The said joint petition of compromise is on the record, and I have persued the same. The terms appear to be fair and reasonable, and as such they are accepted. It is, therefore, ordered that an award in terms of the settlement arrived at between the parties with reference to this issue be made. The joint petition of compromise together with Annexure A do form part of the award as Appendices. This issue No. 2 is thus disposed of.

Issue No. 1—Annual increments for the Hide Road godown workmen.

It appears from the evidence that about 48 workmen work in the Hide Road godown, and the majority of them are coolies. They come under the category of unskilled workers. It is admitted that there are no fixed grades or scales of pay for these workers in this Company. The Union has urged that annual increment should be awarded to all the workmen, as the Company grants increment to some of them. It is true no doubt that the Company granted increment to some of the workers, but such increment was granted to them in consideration of their merit and efficiency. It seems that granting of such increment lies absolutely at the discretion of the Management, but this fact by itself does not justify that annual increment should be awarded to all the workmen as a matter of right. In the absence of any fixed scales of pay or grades it is not possible to give any effective order calling upon the Company to give increments. The minimum basic wage of a worker in this godown, if taken alone, appears to be somewhat inadequate. But the fact remains that the workers in this godown are getting dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale, which is a generous and lavish one. So, the total emoluments paid to the workers of the godown are indeed decent and handsome, and compare favourably with similar concerns in the locality. In my view, the minimum total emoluments of a worker in this godown cannot, by any means, be said to be inadequate or low, so as to justify any increase regard being had to the length of service. Another thing is to be considered in this connection. Before incremental scales can be imposed by an adjudication, it is essential to see whether the employer would be able to bear its burden. The financial condition of the Company must be such as to lead to the condition that it would be able to pay increments year by year for an appreciably number of years, for wage scales when settled are intended to be long-term schemes. Thus, not only financial ability, but financial stability are also essential. In my view, as the evidence indicates, both the elements are wanting in the instant case. It has transpired from the evidence of O.P.W. 3 Mr. K. J. Holt, who is Assistant Secretary of the Company, that the profits of this Company from the year 1950 to 1955 are gradually declining. He has deposed no doubt that during the next few years it is hoped that the financial position of the Company might improve, but simply on the basis of such mere expectation incremental scales for the workers cannot be thrust upon the Company. There is nothing to indicate that such hope as expressed by Mr. Holt would spurt into sudden prosperity of the Company of a lasting nature. In my view, no ad hoc increments should be given, when there are no fixed grades and incremental scales already in existence. Incremental scales can be settled no doubt by the Tribunal, but the materials on the record are not adequate enough for laying down such incremental scales. In fact, materials are not of such a nature which would make it advisable to settle incremental scales in this case. There can be no doubt that ordinarily speaking there should be fixed annual increment, which would offer encouragement to the workers for better work and would provide for their proper maintenance, as they advance in age, but as the matters stand, there is no help. The workmen concerned would do well to co-operate with the Company for some time more with a view to improve its condition and to renew their claims thereafter. So, considering the matter in all its bearings, I do not find my way to introduce any annual increment for the Hide Road godown workmen at present. This issue is decided accordingly.

Issue No. : Bonus for the years 1953 and 1954

Regarding bonus, the Union's claim is that the Company should pay the workmen concerned bonus equivalent to three months' total wages for the years 1953 and 1954, in addition to one month's bonus, which the Company has paid to such workers at Puja time. The Union's claim, as I understood from its written statement, is that the Company has been paying one month's bonus to the workmen at Puja time for a long time past, without any reference to profit and loss, and that over and above that bonus, which the workers get as customary bonus, they are entitled to get profit bonus. I do not like to enter into the merits of the claim for such Puja bonus, because this is not an issue in the present reference. The leading case in this respect is the Mahalakshmi Cotton Mills reported in 1952 L.A.C. 370. A claim for such Puja bonus must depend on as to whether there was an agreement to pay it irrespective of profit as a condition of service. That agreement might be either express or implied, and where not express, past practice may lead to an inference of an implied agreement. But the practice must be unbroken, and should have continued for an appreciably long period to exclude the hypothesis of these payments being ex gratia ones or out of bounty. In the present case, the claim for bonus has been based on the general principle that labour and capital should share the surplus left after meeting the necessary and prior charges. All the Tribunals now follow in this respect the well-established principles laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in its Full Bench decision in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay v. Rastriya Mill Mazdoor Sangha, Bombay (1952 L.A.C. 433). It has been clearly laid down in the above case that the claim for bonus is to arise, if there is any surplus profit left after making provision for prior charges and fair return on paid up capital and on reserve employed as working capital. Thus, all previous theories regarding bonus have been exploded and replaced by one single theory of bonus, which is payable only out of profits of an industry. Hence, the question of bonus does not arise, until and unless there has been substantial profits leaving sufficient margin after meeting the prior charges, depreciation, reserve for rehabilitation of machinaries, a fair return for the money invested and some return on the working capital to meet the demands of bonus of the workmen. Income-tax is a legitimate deduction according to the Full Bench formula. The financial year of this Company is from October to September. In the present case, the claim for bonus is for the years 1953 and 1954. That being so, we are to consider the financial position of this Company for the years ending 30th September 1953 and 1954. The Company has accordingly produced the balance sheets for those two years, and they are Exts. A and B. These balance sheets have been audited by Messrs. Lovelock & Lewes, Chartered Accountants. The balance sheets produced by the Company must be presumed to be correct, unless the contrary is shown by definite evidence. In the present case, the Union could not show anything that the balance sheets were not correct. It appears from the balance sheets that in the year 1953 the net profit of this Company was Rs. 1,64,489-0-9 pies, and in the year 1954 it was Rs. 1,59,867-5-11 pies. It further appears from the balance sheets that subscribed, issued and paid-up capital was Rs. 34,00,000. If 6 per cent. return on the above paid-up capital is allowed, the figure comes to 2,04,000. Over and above this, there is also the payment of income-tax for these years. It appears from Ext. J(1) series, which are the copies of the income-tax assessment issued by the Income-tax Authorities, that in the year 1953-54 Rs. 69,542-15 was payable as income-tax by the Company, and Rs. 63,186-14 in the year 1954-55. O.P.W. 3 Mr. K. J. Holt, who is the Assistant Secretary of the Company, has deposed that the said amounts of income-tax have been actually paid to the Income-tax Authorities. If 6 per cent. return on the paid-up capital and income-taxes paid be deducted from net profits for the years in question, it is crystal clear that there remains no available surplus, but on the contrary there remains a deficit to the tune of more than one lakh in each year. Other items, such as depreciation, reserve for rehabilitation of machineries, etc., are not taken into account, although the Company is entitled to get deduction of the amounts required to meet those charges. Hence, the claim of the Union for profit bonus for the years 1953 and 1954 cannot be sustained, and is accordingly rejected. This issue is decided thus.

Issue No. 1—Whether the dismissal of the seven workers as per attached List A was justified. What relief are they entitled to?

Now I would like to take up issue No. 1. Regarding the dismissal of the seven workers as per attached List A of the order of reference, it is the contention of the Company that they were dismissed from service, as they participated in the stay-in-strike on 22nd April 1955, and also refused to do overtime work on 16th April 1955 and 23rd April 1955 according to the instructions of their superior officer Shri A. Mukherjee, Supervisor of the Hide Road godown. The said charges have been denied on behalf of the workmen concerned. The Union wanted to say that the workmen concerned were not guilty of the charges levelled against them, and that they had done nothing which might warrant dismissal. The Union's contention is that the Company in sacking them was actuated by ulterior motive, the motive being to crush the Union, because these workmen were more or less active organisers of the Union. It is necessary, therefore, to decide which version is correct. Ceratin facts require to be stated for appreciating the true position, and the matter should be judged dispassionately behind the background of those facts. The workmen of the Hide Road godown have all along been doing overtime work beyond normal scheduled working hours. It appears from the standing orders, which have been exhibited in this case, that such overtime work is their condition of service. The normal working hours for a workman in this godown is 36 hours in a week. This is also admitted by the Secretary of the Union, P.W. 1 Shri Gour Mohan Das. We further get from the evidence of the said Secretary and two other workmen who have deposed on behalf of the workers concerned, that overtime work is done in this godown. So, it is established beyond doubt that overtime work in the godown is the condition of service of the workers. For such overtime work the workers get extra remuneration. The majority of the workers in the godown being coolies are employed in loading and unloading of goods in railway wagons. That being so, the provisions of sections 51, 52, 54, 55, 56 and 61 of the Factories Act do not apply to such workers, and this has been made clear by rule 10 of the West Bengal Factories (Exemption) Rules, 1954. But the Union that was formed in February 1953 demanded double wages for such overtime work from the Management. Its demand was that a worker working one hour overtime would get wages with dearness allowance for two hours. A letter was also addressed to that effect to the Company on 4th April 1955 (vide Ext. G). In that letter it was perfectly made clear that unless such double wages for overtime work were paid, the workers would not do any overtime work in future. P.W. 1 Shri Gour Mohan Das, who is the Secretary of the Union, has admitted to have addressed such a letter to the Company. Thus, it is evident that the workers were willing to do overtime work, which they were doing all along and which they knew also to be a condition of service, but they were unwilling to do the same, unless double wages were paid to them for such overtime. The Company was not, however, willing to pay such double wages to them for overtime regard being had to their nomal working hours and the conditions of service. In this state of things, a clash was inevitable between the Company and the workers. This is what exactly happened in the godown within a few days from the date of the letter addressed by the Secretary of the Union to the Company as mentioned above. According to the written statement of the Company, on Saturday, the 16th April 1955, at about 12 noon, a wagon came at the godown siding containing some boiler tubes. The Godown Supervisor in order to save demurrage charge asked eight workmen to unload the wagon, but those workmen refused to carry out the instructions of the Supervisor, unless they were paid double wages, and stopped work at 12-30 p.m. as usual.

The Supervisor reported the matter to the Head Office, and these eight workmen were charge-sheeted for this. The Company sent charge-sheets to the Supervisor for handing over the same to the workmen concerned. While the Supervisor was explaining the charge-sheets to the workmen concerned on 22nd April 1955, all workmen of the godown in general left their place and surrounded the Supervisor's office, and demanded immediate withdrawal of the charge-sheets. The Supervisor informed the Management of this incident, and Mr. McMillan, who is in-charge of the godown, came to the godown at Hide Road. He tried his best to persuade the workmen to give up their unreasonable attitude by resuming normal duties, but he failed. When at about 3-15 p.m. he endeavoured to leave the godown after posting police force, the workmen blockaded his passage, and thereby prevented him from coming out of the godown. This was the first phase of the incident regarding the refusal of the workers to do overtime work. Then again on 23rd April 1955, Saturday, that is within seven days, 18 workers of this godown were asked by the Supervisor to unload five wagons placed at the Company's godown siding after scheduled working hours. But this time also those 18 workmen refused to carry out the lawful and reasonable orders of the Supervisor, and stopped work as usual at 12-30 p.m. They were charge-sheeted, and the charge-sheets were duly received by them. It may be stated here that in respect of the incident that took place on 16th April 1955, the Management held an enquiry into the matter, and came to a finding that the charge levelled against eight workers was established warranting their dismissal. But the Management out of generosity took a lenient view of the matter, and let off them with warning and reprimand, so that they might get chance to improve their conduct in future. Now regarding the incident that took place on 23rd April 1955, the Management held an enquiry on 31st May 1955 in presence of the workmen concerned, and that as a result of the said enquiry the Company decided that two of them might be excused, in view of their long services, provided they were prepared to give an undertaking for future good behaviour. Those two workmen gave such an undertaking. In respect of nine workmen, the Management decided to issue severe warnings to them with clear understanding that they would be dismissed in case of further misconduct on their part. Regarding the remaining seven workmen, the Company decided to dismiss them, as six of them participated in the stay-in-strike on 22nd April 1955 and also refused to do overtime work on both occasions, that is on 16th April 1955 and 23rd April 1955 according to the instructions of their Supervisor. Regarding the remaining workman, Shri Jagabandhu Pandey, the Company decided to dismiss him, because on 17th July 1954 he left the Howrah Station without booking the Company's goods for which purpose he was deputed there, and also he participated in the stay-in-strike on 22nd April 1955 and refused to do overtime work on 23rd April 1955. Now it is for the Tribunal to consider whether the dismissal of these seven workers as mentioned in the attached List A to the order of reference was justified. According to the Company, the principles of natural justice were scrupulously followed in dismissing them from service. But it was urged on behalf of the Union that no proper enquiry was held by the Management, and that the workmen concerned were not allowed any opportunity to examine their witnesses, or to say anything to explain their position. This has been emphatically denied by the Company. Both parties have examined witnesses before the Tribunal and from the evidence and materials placed I am satisfied at least that the workmen concerned got charge-sheet, and were present throughout the enquiry held by the Management. The enquiry sheets could not be produced before the Tribunal, because they were handed over by the Management to the Labour Officer, who held conciliation proceedings, and it is said by the Management that those enquiry sheets are still lying with the Labour Officer. In absence of the enquiry sheets, it cannot be said with any amount of precision, whether the workers really got sufficient opportunities to examine witnesses or to state what they had got to say to defend their position. Even if it be assumed that the enquiry held by the Management was not proper and against the fundamental principles of natural justice, it is of no consequence in this case, because the necessary evidence has been tendered before the Tribunal. Where there has been a violation of natural justice, the Tribunal is to go into the merits of the case critically and examine the propriety of the Management's order for dismissal. This view has been taken by the Appellate Tribunal in the case of Bathgate Employees' Union v. Bathgate & Co. (1953 L.A.C. 149). The Management has adduced evidence—both oral and documentary. The Supervisor in question, who asked the workmen concerned to do overtime work, and whose orders these workmen refused to comply with, has been examined. Mr. McMillan, who is in charge of the godown, has also deposed in this case. I do not see any reason to disbelieve the evidence of Shri A. Mukherjee, Supervisor (O.P.W. 1), and Mr. McMillan (O.P.W. 2). What the Supervisor has deposed is also corroborated by his reports sent to the Head Office. It can be hardly believed that this Supervisor would depose falsely. The evidence of the Supervisor and that of Mr. McMillan bear the stamp of truth. On a consideration of the matter, the Tribunal is satisfied that these seven workers were really guilty of the charges levelled against them. It can be hardly believed that they did not do overtime work, simply because no notice for such overtime work had been given to them, as deposed to by P.W.s 2 and 3, two of the discharged workers. In the face of clear and unequivocal evidence of the Supervisor, Shri A. Mukherjee (O.P.W. 1), the statements of P.W.s 2 and 3 cannot be readily accepted. The question of issuing any notice for overtime work could not possibly arise. This plea was simply taken by the two workers, who deposed in this case—taking advantage of the provision for notice as provided in section E of the Standing Orders. There it is stated that notice showing period and hours of work for every class and group of workmen in the godown and shipping department, and for each shift, shall be displayed on Notice Board meant for the purpose in the godown at the time-keeper's office and at or near the main entrance of the godown. It is doubtful whether any notice was required to be displayed on the Notice Board in the godown, whenever any workman in the godown was called upon to do overtime work. That no notice was necessary for such overtime work has been admitted by two of the workers, who deposed in this case, and they are P.W.s 2 and 3. Both of them have clearly stated in their cross-examination that the Company does not give any notice for overtime work, but the Supervisor gives such direction. On a consideration of the matter, the Tribunal is unable to hold that the Management in dismissing these seven workers was actuated by any ulterior motive, because of their Union activities. Nor can it say that there was want of bona fides or there was victimisation or unfair labour practice, or anything of the kind on the part of the Management in the instant case. On a careful scrutiny of the materials placed before the Tribunal, I am definitely of the view that these seven workers were guilty of wilful insubordination and disobedience of a lawful and reasonable order of a superior officer. That they deliberately refused to carry out the order of the Supervisor Shri A. Mukherjee when the latter asked them to do overtime work, has been amply proved by the evidence furnished on behalf of the Company. According to the Standing Orders of the Company [vide Appendix D(2) (1), Ext. C(1)] such wilful insubordination or disobedience of any lawful and reasonable order of a superior officer constitutes a major misdemeanour for which a workman is liable to dismissal. No company can afford to tolerate such repeated insubordination and insolence on the part of its workers. This sort of insubordination and grave misconduct undermines discipline, and the gravity of such action and conduct cannot be under-rated. The workers concerned behaved rather in a disorderly manner, and their conduct was highly subversive of discipline. So, the Tribunal, on a careful consideration of the merits of the case and after examining critically the propriety of the Management's order, is satisfied that the decision of the Management in dismissing the said workers was a possible view on the evidence before it. That being so, the Tribunal should refrain from substituting its own judgment for the judgment of the Management, as in such matters the Tribunal does not act like a Court of Appeal, but rather as a supervisory body. So, the Tribunal holds that the action of the Company in dismissing the said workers was quite justified. It is not open to the Tribunal to reduce the punishment or to substitute any other punishment for the one imposed by the Management.

The Tribunal, therefore, comes to the conclusion that the dismissal of the seven workers as per attached List A was justified. In this view of the matter, the question of their getting any relief does not arise, This issue is decided accordingly.

This is my award.

The joint petition on behalf of the Company and the workmen

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH—

1. That issue No. 2 in the schedule to the order of reference is "Whether the suspension of the eight workers as per attached List B was justified. What relief are they entitled to?"

2. That with reference to the said issue No. 2, the Company and the Union on behalf of the eight suspended workmen, have settled the dispute out of Tribunal voluntarily and for proper considerations.

3. That the cases of the eight suspended workmen have been settled by both parties on the following terms:

(A) That the eight suspended workmen shall individually give an undertaking as per Annexure A.

(B) That the eight suspended workmen will be taken back with effect from 1st July 1956, if they report for duty within the period specified below.

(C) That if any of the eight suspended workmen fails to report for duty within three days from 1st July 1956, he shall have no claim for reinstatement after the expiry of the said three days, and he shall be considered to have voluntarily resigned from the services of the Company from the date of his suspension by the Company.

(D) That the eight suspended workmen shall have no claim for any wage or compensation for the period of suspension or for the period they were on strike.

(E) That the period of suspension of the eight workmen shall be treated as "leave without pay".

Under the circumstances stated above, it is jointly prayed by both the parties that the dispute with reference to the suspension of eight workmen referred for adjudication under issue No. 2 having been settled voluntarily out of Tribunal, the Tribunal will be pleased to make an award in terms of the settlement arrived at between the parties with reference to issue No. 2.

And for this act of kindness your petitioner as in duty bound shall ever pray.

Terms of Agreement

1. The Management and the Union agree and accept the following consolidated wages to be introduced on the dates shown:

Category.	(On and from.) 1st August 1956.	1st January 1957.	1st July 1957.	1st January 1958.
	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.
Unskilled	2 0 0	2 1 0	2 2 0	2 4 0
Semi-skilled	2 6 0	2 7 0	2 8 0	2 10 0
Skilled	2 10 0	2 11 6	2 13 0	3 0 0
Highly skilled	3 14 0	3 15 0	4 0 0	4 2 0

subject to the proviso that—

(i) such workers who do not get any increment, either direct or as a result of categorisation, will get a flat increment of annas two on 1st January 1957 to cover up to 1st January 1958.

(ii) new recruits will enter at the wage slab shown under 1st August 1956.

(iii) though there are four wage slabs for each category of workers to take effect on four different dates, yet a worker if he can give or attain production level of 100 per cent. of the norm fixed by the Expert, even earlier than the scheduled dates, he will be eligible for the full wage of Rs. 2/4 for an unskilled worker and so on, which he normally would have enjoyed, only on 1st January 1958.

2. The Management will immediately take up the work of categorisation of workers with the aid of an Expert jointly selected by the Management and the Union. Before finally declaring the categorisation of workers, the Union will be given a chance to state its objections, if any, to the said Expert for his consideration. The decision of the Expert will be final and absolute.

3. The Management will undertake a complete time and motion study, job evaluation and merit rating, etc., with the aid of the abovementioned Expert. The Union and the workmen will actively co-operate and participate in this study and the implementation thereof, after the same received the approval of both the Management and the Union.

4. The Union and the work men assure that the workmen will maintain full efficiency, perfect discipline and normal work. Management also assures fullest co-operation in all matters.

5. The Management and the Union will always settle their differences and disputes, if any, by peaceful and constitutional means of negotiations, conciliation, adjudication and arbitration, and both parties will maintain and promote industrial peace and mutual concord.

6. The above wage conditions shall remain binding on both the parties up to 31st December 1958.

7. There will be no curtailment in the existing rights and privileges enjoyed by both parties.

ORDER

No. 3580Dis./D/4L-6/56.—14th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1589Dis./D/4L-6/56, dated the 19th April 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., 3 Clive Row, Calcutta, and their workmen employed in their launches represented by V. A. S. T. Launches Workmen's Union, 51 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta-12, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., 3 Clive Row, Calcutta, and their workmen employed in their launches, represented by V. A. S. T. Launches Workmen's Union, 51 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta-12.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the employees: Shri Rajani Mukherjee, Vice-President, V. A. S. T. Launches Workmen's Union.

For the Company: Shri K. B. Basu, Bar.-at-Law, and Shri R. L. Maitra, Acting Labour Adviser of I.J.M.A.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 1589Dis./D/4L-6/56, dated 19th April 1956, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., 3 Clive Row, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by V. A. S. T. Launches Workmen's Union, 51 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta-12, to this Tribunal for adjudication regarding the matters specified in the following schedule:

Schedule

(1) Duty hours.
(2) Grades and scales.
(3) Annual increment.

The issues framed for adjudication were the same as those mentioned above in the schedule.

Notices were issued to the parties. The Union filed its written statement on 28th May 1956, and the Company on 12th June 1956. The case was taken up for hearing on 28th July 1956.

The case of the launch crews in question as presented in the written statement filed on their behalf by the Union in short is that they have to work for 24 hours without any holiday or weekly rest, and that the existing grades and scales of their pay are low and not sufficient enough for their decent living. Hence, the Union has demanded that their duty hours should be fixed at 8 hours daily and 48 hours weekly, and that the grades and scales of pay with provision for annual increment as stated in the written statement should be introduced with retrospective effect from January 1954.

The Company, in reply, resists the demands put forward on behalf of the launch crews. Regarding duty hours, the Company wants to say that nowhere among such crews or River Transport staff are working hours fixed, and that duty hours cannot be fixed, because such workers being tidal workers are expected to be available for duty according to navigational considerations of the river and during periods when they are expected to make trips to and from the Calcutta Port area. Regarding wages, the Company's contention is that these launch crews, who have all along been considered by the Omnibus Jute Tribunal awards as Jute Mill employees, have already received substantial increases in their pay, and as such are not entitled to any further increases in pay as claimed or to incremental scales of pay.

The Company has further raised legal objections as to the maintainability of the present reference. In this respect its contention is two-fold. Firstly, it is contended that Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., who have been made a party to the present dispute, are not the employers of the concerned workmen, who are really the workmen of the Samnuggur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., Titaghur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., Victoria Jute Factory Co., Ltd., and Angus Company, Ltd., and that in the circumstances the present reference is bad in law and not maintainable. The second objection as raised on behalf of the Company is that the launch crews in question have all along been considered by the Omnibus Jute Tribunal awards as Jute Mill employees for the purposes of the Tribunal, and have thus been given all wages, service condition, etc., applicable to Jute Mill employees, and have been specifically included in the occupational nomenclature of the First Omnibus Jute Tribunal Award (Appendix IV). The issues 2 and 3 in the present reference regarding grades and scales of pay, and annual increment, are fundamentally questions of wages payable to these workmen, and as such were the subject-matter of reference to the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal constituted by the Government in 1954, and in that reference the aforesaid Jute Mills, whose workmen these launch crews are, were parties. This Union under their leader, late Shafatullah Khan, put forward the question of grades and scales of pay and annual increment on behalf of these workmen, which was duly considered by the Tribunal. The Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal gave its award, which came into force on 6th November 1955. In that award, directions were given regarding wages of the cargo boat crews and their working hours, but the said Tribunal did not think it necessary to interfere with the existing wages of launch crews, for whom it awarded along with other workmen not specifically mentioned a general increase of Rs. 8 per month. All the Jute Mill companies have fully implemented that award, and all the launch crews have received an increase on the lines specified in the award with effect from 6th November 1955. The said award was the subject-matter of an appeal before the Labour Appellate Tribunal, which delivered its judgment on 31st May 1956. The Appellate Tribunal confirmed the award, so far as the present workmen are concerned. Accordingly, it is contended by the Company that the aforesaid award of the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal bars a fresh reference and a fresh adjudication regarding issues 2 and 3, at least during the statutory period of its operation.

As the validity and the propriety of the present reference were challenged by the legal objections raised on behalf of the Company, the Tribunal, at the desire of both parties, heard the said objection first. Learned representatives of both sides addressed at length the Tribunal regarding maintainability of the reference in question. Both parties placed before the Tribunal some documents, which have been marked exhibits. The Company further gave the Tribunal the copies of awards of the Jute Textile Tribunals as well as the copy of the judgment of the Labour Appellate Tribunal on appeal from the award of the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal.

On a perusal of the relevant documents and after hearing the elaborate arguments of learned representatives of both sides, I am of the view that there is considerable force in the legal objections raised on behalf of the Company as to the maintainability of the present reference, and that the said objections must prevail. On a consideration of the matter, the Tribunal is convinced that the workmen in the instant case are not workmen of Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., but they are workmen of Samnuggur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., Titaghur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., Victoria Jute Factory Co., Ltd., and Angus Company, Ltd., and that Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., are the only Managing Agent of those Jute Mill companies. This is established from Exts. A and B. Exihibit A is a copy of the rules and regulations affecting the terms and conditions of service of the River Transport staff in the Thomas Duff group. It appears therefrom that this River Transport staff includes all crews of steam launches and cargo boats belonging to the companies, and that the general direction and control of such staff shall be exercised through authorised representatives of the companies concerned at the Head Office. It further appears therefrom that at the Head Office of each company, a permanent register of all launch and cargo boat crews shall be maintained. Exhibit B is a sample service record card of a launch crew, in which it is clearly stated that he is in the service of a particular company—Angus Jute Works or the Angus Company, Ltd. The Wage and Attendance Registers of these companies were also brought before the Tribunal at the time of hearing. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., placed before me some of these bound registers. They showed that these workmen used to get their wages from the concerned Jute Mill companies. Thus it is abundantly clear that Samnuggur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., Titaghur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., Victoria Jute Factory Co., Ltd., and Angus Company, Ltd., were really the employers of these workmen, and that Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd.—their Managing Agent—used only to look after the day-to-day management of those Mill companies, and whatever they did they did it in the name of those companies. Learned spokesman of the Union produced a document, Ext. 1, for showing that what was being contended by the Company now was not correct. I have perused the said document which is a written statement filed by Samnuggur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., in connection with an application under section 33A. But I may say that nowhere in this written statement it is stated that the workmen concerned were employed under Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., the Managing Agents. On the contrary, it is asserted there that the applicants are all the employees of Samnuggur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., and are under the direct control and discipline of the Head Office, and that Samnuggur Jute Factory Co., Ltd., through its Managing Agents, are the proper employers of the above workmen. So, this document does not help the workmen concerned. It, on the other hand, lends support to the contention of the Company. I, therefore, hold that Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., are not the employers of the concerned workmen.

But the fact remains that the real employers of the concerned workmen are not parties to the present dispute. Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., who have been mentioned as a party to the dispute, are not the employers of these workmen. It is very unfortunate that in spite of specific objection taken by the Company in their written statement filed on 12th June 1956, the Union took no steps whatsoever for making the Jute Mill companies mentioned above, under which the workmen concerned work, parties to the present dispute. It could have moved either the Government or the Tribunal in this respect, but nothing was done by it. Now what would be the legal position of the present reference? The Tribunal, in the absence of proper and necessary parties to the dispute, cannot obviously make any award. Certainly it would not be just and proper for the Tribunal to do so. If any award is passed in the circumstances, such award cannot possibly be implemented, nor can any relief be secured from the appropriate parties, because such award cannot be binding on the concerned Jute Mill companies. Strictly speaking, an award, if made, will involve the liabilities of the said companies, but they being no parties to the present dispute can easily avoid such liabilities. There might be many complications in future if an award is passed in absence of the proper and necessary parties. It is not, therefore, desirable that the Tribunal shall pass such an award, which can neither be implemented nor can have any binding force and effect. In this view of the matter, I hold that the reference as made, and as it stood at the time of hearing, was bad in law and not maintainable. Learned spokesman of the Union has argued that section 10(1) of the Act gives the Government absolute power to make a reference, and that when the Government has made the reference, the Tribunal must give an award, and the validity of the reference cannot be questioned or canvassed. In reply to this argument, I would say that Government is only concerned with deciding whether an industrial dispute exists, and whether in the circumstances of the particular case it should be referred to a Tribunal. But once the reference is made, it is for the Tribunal to consider whether it should pass an award after considering the matter on merits. Even in spite of the reference by the Government, the Tribunal could enquire and decide for itself whether it should assume jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the reference, and simply the fact that a reference has been made by the appropriate Government will not stand in the way of any enquiry by the Tribunal. A duty is cast upon both the Government and the Tribunal to work out the scheme of the Industrial Disputes Act. It might have escaped the notice of the Government while making the reference that the real employers of the concerned workmen were no parties to the present dispute, but that does not necessarily mean that the Tribunal shall also keep its eyes shut regarding this broad and important fact, and pass an award knowing fully well that such an award cannot be enforced against the appropriate party in securing relief for the workmen concerned. If it be done, it will lead not only to chaos and absurdities, but it will also frustrate the scheme of the Act and defeat the purpose for which the Industrial Disputes Act has been enacted, namely, settlement of industrial disputes.

Now, I will deal with other legal objection raised by the Company. It appears from the awards of the Omnibus Jute Tribunal that launch crews in question have been considered all along as Jute Mill employees. These launch crews have been specifically included in the occupational nomenclature of the First Omnibus Jute Tribunal Award, vide Appendix IV, page 138 of the said award. The Jute Mill companies, where these workmen are employed, were parties to all references made to the Omnibus Jute Tribunal. The last reference was made to the Tribunal constituted under the chairmanship of Shri M. C. Banerjee, and it is called as the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal. Very recently, that Tribunal gave its award which came into force with effect from 6th November 1955. The question of wages payable to these workmen was also the subject of reference to the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal. It appears that the present Union under their leader late Janab Shafatullah Khan of the Howrah Zilla Chatkal Mazdoor Union submitted to that Tribunal what should be the grades and scales of pay and annual increments of these workmen. The Tribunal considered the same, and in its award gave directions regarding wages of the cargo boat crews and their working hours. This would appear from page 61 of the said award. But the Tribunal did not think it necessary to disturb the existing wages of launch crews. It, however, awarded to them along with other workmen not specifically mentioned a general increment of Rs. 8 per month in basic wage. I quote below what was said by the Tribunal in this respect [vide 9(7), page 74 of the said award]:

> "Any monthly paid workman, who has not been covered by our observations in the preceding paragraphs, should be given an increment of Rs. 8 per month in his basic wage, and shall be paid a dearness allowance of Rs. 32-8 per month in place of Rs. 37-6."

The issues 2 and 3 of the present reference, which are regarding grades and scales of pay and annual increment, are fundamentally questions of wages payable to these workmen. But it is abundantly clear from the award of the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal that such questions were the subject of references to that Tribunal, which considered the same and gave its award. That award, as stated above, became operative with effect from 6th November 1955. Although an appeal was preferred to the Labour Appellate Tribunal, the said Tribunal did not modify in any way the award, so far as the present workmen are concerned. Furthermore, the Labour Appellate Tribunal has clearly stated in paragraph 34 of its judgment that the appeal against the award related to the revision of basic wages and dearness allowance of the workmen of all categories in the Jute Textile Industry of West Bengal. The award of the said Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal is still in force and operation. So, in view of what has been stated above, it must be held that the present reference relating to items of dispute as mentioned in issues 2 and 3, is without jurisdiction, inasmuch as the said items of dispute are covered by the award of the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal. In my view, this award of the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal bars a fresh reference and a fresh adjudication in respect of issues 2 and 3, at least during the statutory period of its operation. Section 19(6) of the Act stands in the way. It might be that even after adjudication of an industrial dispute the parties may remain dissatisfied, and the industrial dispute may still continue in spite of the adjudication, but in the eye of law the industrial dispute must be deemed to have merged in the award and to have lost its existence. So long as the prior award is operative and binding, neither the Government can re-open the award just by a reference of the same matter to another Tribunal, nor can the parties avoid the consequence except strictly in the manner provided for under the law. During the operation of that award the Tribunal, in spite of the Government reference, will not be able to deal with the matter. It may amount not only to incompetence of the Tribunal for want of authority, but it may also amount to want of jurisdiction. So, this Tribunal cannot superimpose any award regarding issues 2 and 3 over another binding and operative award. The Tribunal, therefore, holds that it is not competent to adjudicate on the matter regarding grades and scales of pay and annual increment of these workmen as stated in issues 2 and 3, because such questions were the subject of the award of the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal. It is true no doubt that the question of duty hours of these launch crews (which is issue No. 1 in the present reference) was not the subject of reference to the aforesaid Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal, but this matter cannot be gone into and decided in this reference, because the real employers of the concerned workmen are not parties to the dispute. I have already recorded my reasons in this respect, and I do not like to repeat the same here.

I would, however, like to say a few words in this connection. Regard being had to the nature and condition of work of the launch crews, it is extremely difficult to fix duty hours for their work. Their work depends on the tides, and the launches and boats are their home for the period of their work. They are expected to be available for duty according to navigational considerations of the river. Their main work and duties consist in the transhipment of goods to and from the respective mills, to and from other mills and the Calcutta Port area. It so happens that they are to remain idle for over a week at a time and also for months together, when their launches are laid up for repairs, etc., but without any loss in wages.

The present reference is thus disposed of.

ORDER

No. 3547Dis./D/7L-22/56.—13th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated the 12th July 1954, read with its Addendum No. 3537-Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated the 21st July 1954 and its Corrigendum No. 4130-Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated the 26th August 1954, the industrial disputes in the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal between the jute mills mentioned in the list attached with the said Order, dated the 12th July 1954, read with the said Addendum, dated the 21st July 1954 and Corrigendum, dated the 26th August 1954 and their workmen represented by the Unions and Federations mentioned in the said Order, dated the 12th July 1954, were referred for adjudication to an Industrial Tribunal with Shri M. C. Banerjee, District Judge (retired), as Chairman and Shri S. C .Mukherjee, District Judge, as member;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal a complaint in writing was made by Shri Gujor Singh, a workman of Belvedere Jute Mills, Sankrail, Howrah, before the said Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had punished the said workman concerned in such disputes;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal had adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the Annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Gujor Singh in connection with Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, Order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954 respectively referring certain industrial disputes between 101 jute mills in West Bengal including Messrs. Belvedere Jute Mills and their workmen (Case No. 271 of 1955 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (retired), Chairman.

For the workman: Shri S. C. Mukherji, Lawyer, Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

For the jute mill: Shri R. L. Moitra of Indian Jute Mills Association.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by Order No. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, dated 7th April 1954, Order No. 2329-Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 6th May 1954, Order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated 12th July 1954, Order No. 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 21st July 1954 and Order No. 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 26th August 1954, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified jute mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a Schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The Award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 7th October 1955 Shri Gujor Singh applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947) and stated as follows:

The opposite party Company taking advantage of sickness of the petitioner and on wrong information, charge-sheeted the petitioner on 24th September 1955. The petitioner was called at an enquiry, which was illegal, and improper. The petitioner was not given an opportunity to defend his case. The petitioner was not guilty of the charges as alleged against him. The petitioner has been kept suspended for an unlimited period of time which was a violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The petitioner, therefore, prays for an order to direct the Company to reinstate the petitioner with full wages and allowances for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company in its written statement stated as follows:

The application of the petitioner is misconceived, and not maintainable in law as the Company has not, in any way, violated seciont 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company has already filed an application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act on 1st November 1955 seeking permission from the Tribunal to dismiss the petitioner. Pending such permission he was suspended. Without prejudice to the preliminary objection the Company reserves the right to file a supplementary statement should that become necessary after the preliminary legal objection regarding the maintainability of the application has been disposed of by the Tribunal.

The points that arise for decision are as follows:

(1) Is the petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act maintainable?

(2) Is the petitioner entitled to get any relief in this case?

DECISIONS

Point Nos. 1 and 2.—Exhibit B shows that the Company filed an application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act for permission to terminate the services of the petitioner, Shri Gujor Singh, on the ground of misconduct. The application states that at 10.5 p.m. on 23rd September 1955 the petitioner was found sleeping while on duty and that the said act of the petitioner is a misconduct under rule 14(C)(IX) of the Standing Orders. The charge-sheet was served on the petitioner on 24th September 1955. The petitioner submitted his explanation and the Manager after holding an enquiry ordered that the petitioner should be dismissed but until the permission of the Tribunal was obtained he should continue to be suspended. On these facts the Company prayed for permission to dismiss the petitioner. The application, Exhibit B, also shows a copy of the charge-sheet on the petitioner and his explanation. A copy of the said charge-sheet also shows the Manager's decision made on 28th September 1955. Exhibit A is an order of the Tribunal, dated 7th November 1955, showing that as the Award in the proceedings arising out af the Order of Reference in the main case was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955, the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to deal with the application under section 33 of the Act. The application was, therefore, struck off. It has been decided by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Automobile Products of India, Limited, reported in 1955 L.A.C. page 221, that it is the contravention by the employer of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, that gives rise to a cause of action in favour of the workman to approach and move the Tribunal and this contravention is the condition precedent to the exercise by the Tribunal of the additional jurisdiction under section 33A of the Act. It is, therefore, clear that as the opposite party Company applied under section 33 of the Act for permission to terminate the services of the petitioner, no contravention of section 33 of the Act was committed by the opposite party. The present complaint under section 33A of the Act was, therefore, not competent, and should be rejected. The petitioner is, therefore, not entitled to any relief. These points are accordingly answered.

It is, therefore, awarded that the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, be rejected.

M. C. BANERJI,
Chairman.

C. Banerjee, District Judge (Retired), as Chairman and Shri S. C. Mukherjee, District Judge, as member;

And whereas during pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal a complaint in writing was made by Shri Nagendra Nath Surai, a workman of Fort William Jute Mills, Sibpur, Howrah, before the said Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had punished the said workman concerned in such disputes;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the Annexure hereto.

For the jute mill: Shri R. L. Moitra of Indian Jute Mills Association.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by Order No, 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, dated 7th April 1954, Order No. 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 6th May 1954, Order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated 12th July 1954, Order No. 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 21st July 1954 and Order No. 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 26th August 1954, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified jute mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a Schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The Award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 9th June 1955 Nagendra Nath Surai, a workman of Messrs. Fort William Jute Mills applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947) and stated as follows:

During the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal, the opposite party Company by a notice, dated 17th November 1954, laid off the petitioner without any justification. The petitioner denies the allegation against him as stated in the notice, and says that the action of the Company in laying off the petitioner was mala fide. The opposite party did not pay the petitioner any lay-off compensation as promised in the notice of the 17th November 1954 for a long time since then. The petitioner applied for payment of compensation and was paid 50 per cent. of the wages for 45 days only. On 30th May 1955 the petitioner applied to the Company for payment of dues as decided by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in "Automobile Products of India, Ltd." case, reported in 1954, L. A. C. page 871. The petitioner submits that the Company's notice of lay-off, and the non-payment of dues in terms thereof, are illegal and mala fide and amount to a contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The petitioner, therefore, claims full wages for the period of lay-off, and any other relief as may be deemed fit and proper.

The Company in its written statement stated as follows:

The petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is misconceived, and is not maintainable in law as the Company has not, in any way, violated section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The petition filed by Shri Nagendra Nath Surai contains various vague, misleading and incorrect allegations, and the Company denies the same. The facts of the case are as follows: On 12th November 1954 Shri Nagendra Nath Surai was examined by the Mill Medical Officer and was found medically unfit to continue his work as a mistry. Shri Nagendra Nath Surai was 65 years old when he was medically examined. As the workman was found medically unfit for further service, he was laid-off pending the permission of the Tribunal to terminate his services and he has been paid lay-off compensation in accordance with the provisions of the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act. The question of violation of section 33 of the Act does not arise in this case, and that the petitioner is not entitled to full wages or any other relief as claimed by him. The Company, therefore, prays that the application should be rejected.

The points that arise for decision are—

(i) Is the petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act maintainable?

(ii) Is the petitioner entitled to any relief in this case?

DECISION

Point No. 1.—Exhibit 1 shows that the Company filed an application under section 33 of the Act for permission to terminate the services of the petitioner Shri Nagendra Nath Surai on medical ground on account of continued ill health. Annexure "A" of Exhibit 1 is the report of the Medical Officer. This report states that Shri Nagendra Mistry was aged 65 years by his own statement, and also in the opinion of doctor, that he was suffering from breathlessness and senile debility, and was, therefore, unfit to carry on the work of a mistry. Annexure "B" to Exhibit 1 is the notice, dated 17th November 1954, for laying off the petitioner till permission is obtained from the Tribunal for termination of his services. Exhibit 2 is an order of the Tribunal, dated 7th November 1955, showing that as the Award in the proceedings arising out of the Order of Reference in the main case was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955, the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to deal with the application under section 33 of the Act. The application was, therefore, struck off. It has been decided by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Automobile Products of India, Limited, in 1955 L. A. C. page 221, that it is the contravention by the employer of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, that gives rise to a cause of action in favour of the workman to approach and move the Tribunal and this contravention is the condition precedent to the exercise by the Tribunal of the additional jurisdiction under section 33A of the Act. It is, therefore, clear that as the opposite party Company applied under section 33 of the Act for permission to terminate the services of the petitioner, no contravention of section 33 of the Act was committed by opposite party. The present complaint under section 33A of the Act was, therefore, not competent, and should be rejected. This point is accordingly answered.

Point No. 2.—From what has been decided in the foregoing point, it is clear that the petitioner is not entitled to any relief in the proceeding. It may also be added that his prayer for lay-off compensation for the entire period of lay-off or, in other words, beyond the first 45 days, is not worthy of support. The petitioner cited the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case reported in 1954 L. A. C., page 871, in his petition. This decision supports the claims of the petitioner, but the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, reported in 1956(1) L. L. J., page 749, in the case of Modi Food Products, Ltd., negatives the claim of the petitioner In view of the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the matter, the petitioner is not entitled to get any relief, even on merits.

In the result, the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is rejected.

ORDER

No. 3548Dis./D/7L-22/56.—13th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated the 12th July 1954, read with its Addendum No. 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated the 21st July 1954, and its Corrigendum No. 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated the 26th August 1954, the industrial disputes in the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal between the jute mills mentioned in the list attached with the said order, dated the 12th July 1954, read with the said Addendum, dated the 21st July 1954, and Corrigendum, dated the 26th August 1954, and their workmen represented by the Unions and Federations mentioned in the said order, dated the 12th July 1954, were referred for adjudication to an Industrial Tribunal with Shri M. C. Banerjee, District Judge (retired), as Chairman and Shri S. C. Mukherjee, District Judge, as member;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal a complaint in writing was made by Shrijukta Shyamrajia, a workman of Hukumchand Jute Mills, post office Hazinagar, 24-Parganas, before the said Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had discharged the said workman concerned in such disputes;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shyamrajia in connection with Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, Order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referring certain industrial disputes between 101 jute mills in West Bengal including Messrs Hukumchand Jute Mills and their workmen (Case No. 398 of 1955 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (retired), Chairman.

For the workman: Shri J. Pandey.

For the jute mill: Shri R. L. Moitra of Indian Jute Mills Association. assisted by Shri Sibdas Ghosh, Labour Officer.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour by Order No. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(A)/53, dated 7th April 1954, Order No. 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 6th May 1954, Order No. 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, dated 12th July 1954, Order No. 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 21st July 1954 and Order No. 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 26th August 1954, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified jute mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The Award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 5th November 1955 Shyamrajia, token No. 129, an employee of Messrs. Hukumchand Jute Mills, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), stating as follows:

> The petitioner has been in the employment of the opposite party Company, Messrs. Hukum Chand Jute Mills since 1920. The opposite party Company served the petitioner with a notice of termination of employment on the 25th August 1954. The petitioner challenged the authority of the Company to so terminate her services. The petitioner also challenged her service record, and prayed for rectification of the record by changing the date of joining from 1941 to 1920. The opposite party Company granted an extension of service to the petitioner and locked out her as from 16th January 1955. It is, therefore, prayed that the Tribunal should direct rectification of date of joining from 1941 to 1920 and also for reinstatement of the petitioner with retrospective effect. It is also prayed that failing reinstatement, the Tribunal should direct payment of all privileges and compensation on retrenchment under the Industrial Disputes Act, counting the service as having commenced from 1920.

The Company in its written statement states as follows:

> The application of the petitioner under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable in law as the Company has not, in any way, violated section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. According to the Company's record Shyamrajia joined the Hukumchand Jute Mills in 1941, and not in 1920 as alleged by her. When it was found that Shyamrajia, who was already 69 years of age, was not capable of doing her job due to old age and infirmities, she was informed that it was desirable for her to retire on receipt of retiral benefits in accordance with the terms of the Award. She was also given 16 weeks' time to make up her mind. She was not reluctant to retire, but she disputed the length of her service as recorded in her service card. On the expiry of 16 weeks' time she was allowed to continue her work but, it was obvious that it was desirable that she should retire. The claim of the petitioner for retrenchment compensation as laid down in the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act is untenable. She was informed that her age and physical condition warranted her retirement. The claim for reinstatement of an old worker of her age is untenable, and the question of paying retrenchment compensation to the petitioner does not arise. The claim of the worker for changing of service record is also untenable as it cannot be entertained by the Tribunal.

On the date of hearing, on 1st August 1956 the parties appeared, and the petitioner submitted a petition before the Tribunal withdrawing the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act on the ground that she has already retired from service. This petition appears in the Appendix "A" to this Award. It is, therefore, clear that there is no dispute between the parties which require adjudication by the Tribunal. The petitioner is, therefore, allowed to withdraw the complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, and it is awarded accordingly.

The petition of withdrawal marked as Appendix "A" shall form a part of this Award.

M. C. BANERJI,
Chairman.

The 3rd August 1956.

ORDER

No. 3646Dis./D/4L-12/55.—20th August 1956.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 2547Dis./D/4L-12/55, dated the 8th June 1955, the industrial dispute between Shri P. K. Chatterji, owner of bus No. WBU-325, of 156 Upper Circular Road, room Nos. 23 and 24, Calcutta, and his two employees mentioned in the schedule thereto represented by Howrah District Bus Workers' Union, 342/1 Grand Trunk Road, Salkia, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the Annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Shri P. K. Chatterji, owner of the bus No. WBU 325 of 156 Upper Circular Road, room Nos. 23 and 24, Calcutta, and his two employees mentioned in the schedule, represented by the Howrah District Bus Workers' Union of 342/1 Grand Trunk Road, Salkia, Howrah.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Saroj Ghosal of the Union and Shri Prodip Sen, President, Howrah District Bus Workers' Union.

For the Company: Shri A. Gan, General Secretary of the Joint Service Committee.

1. By Government Order No. 2547Dis./D/4L-12/55, dated the 8th June 1955, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 15th June 1955. After usual notices the Union filed written statement on 25th July 1955. The employer filed written objection on 15th September 1955. Then after several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 7th June 1956. The evidence was concluded on that day. The argument was heard partly on 18th June 1956 and finally on 24th July 1956. The award was reserved.

3. The only issue contained in the schedule to the Order of Reference stands as follows:—

(1) If the discharge of (1) Shri Sukha Ranjan Chakraborty and (2) Shri Bharat Lala was justified, to what relief including reinstatement and/or any other compensation are they entitled?

AWARD

4. Before I discuss the issue in question, I would like to preface it by a brief history of the dispute, as I find from the written statement of the parties before the Tribunal.

According to the Union, this Howrah District Bus Workers' Union was formed on 31st May 1954. The Union comprised among its members the conductors, drivers and cleaners numbering about 330 of the 84 buses plying in the routes Nos. 51, 54, 56 and 60. Thereafter when the Union found that the employers were in no mood to redress the grievances of the workers who were being exploited by them, it submitted a charter of demands both to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, and to the individual owners of buses including Shri P. K. Chatterji of the bus No. WBU 325 of the present case on 25th August 1954. Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty, the driver of the bus owned by Shri P. K. Chatterji above, happened to be the Vice-President of the Union. Bharat Lala was another driver of this employer. He was also an active organiser of the Union. It so happened that during the period between 31st May 1954 and 6th September 1954 as many as 18 workmen of the buses in the aforsaid routes were discharged by their employers without any notice and without any charge-sheet. No reason was assigned for their discharge. Then their cause was espoused by Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty and one Shri Mrinal Bose, and they moved the District Magistrate and the R.T.A. in the matter in September 1954. Eventually in course of conciliation proceedings, those 18 workmen were reinstated in their service in November 1954. But when the above conciliation proceedings were in progress, Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty himself and Bharat Lala aforesaid were dismissed from their service on 14th September 1954 and 26th September 1954 respectively by their employer Shri P. K. Chatterji. Bharat Lala was thereafter re-employed in service, but he was deprived of any compensation for the unemployment period. Thus has arisen the present dispute. Bharat Lala has since died after his re-employment.

The employer contends that he is a political sufferer, and a refugee from East Bengal. He purchased the aforesaid bus at a cost of Rs. 32,000 payable in instalments. But his transport business proved to be a losing one. Shri Sukharanjan is said to have caused serious damages to the said bus by his rash driving, and he is accused of prevailing on the conductor once to represent to the employer that the day's collection was stolen away. The conductor, Sadananda, later on confessed his guilt and was excused by the employer Shri Chatterji. Shri Sukharanjan also is said to have admitted his guilt, and was pardoned by the employer. Another charge against Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty is that he did not pay the price of petrol and the cost of tyre vulcanizing though he had received the same from the employer. The employer further says that Shri Sukharanjan used to allow other drivers to ply the bus in the face of contrary direction of the employer. For all these reasons, it is said, he was dismissed from service on 14th September 1954.

Bharat Lala was also dismissed for misconduct, but he was re-employed on his expressing regret and apology. He has since died. The claim for compensation and reinstatement is resisted by the employer.

Later on, the employer has taken certain legal objections, viz.,

(1) that the present dispute is an "individual dispute", and not an "industrial dispute". So the Tribunal is not competent to adjudicate upon it; and

(2) that Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty after his dismissal has become an ex-workman and, as such, he is not a "workman" as defined in the Act. So he is not competent to raise a dispute against the employer after his dismissal.

Now, let me dispose of the legal objections first. The position in law is now pretty well established. If a dispute is originally an "individual dispute", and if it continues as such up to the date of reference, then it will not be an industrial dispute. The Tribunal will not be competent to adjudicate upon it in spite of the same being described as an "industrial dispute" in the Order of Reference. The latest decision on this point by the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court is reported at page 865 of the Calcutta Weekly Notes of July 1956, Volume LX in the case of Bengal Club, Ltd. and Santi Ranjan. If the workmen or other fellow workmen espouse the cause of the workman concerned, then the individual dispute develops into a collective dispute where the Tribunal has jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the same. If any authority is needed, I can refer to the famous observation of Mr. Justice Mack of the Madras High Court in the case of Kandan Textile, Ltd. versus Industrial Tribunal. I quote from his observation as below:

> "If such a dismissal, however, even of an individual workman is taken up by Workers' Union or a substantial body of workmen who continue in employment and espouse his cause, then an industrial dispute may arise."

To the same effect is the observation of Their Lordships of the Allahabad High Court in an application for writ in the form of mandamus under Article 226 of the Constitution of India No. 851 of 1951 in the case of Ganesh Das Ramgopal versus the Government of the State of Uttar Pradesh. Now, if I turn to the evidence, I find that the case of Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty was taken up by the Union long before the date of reference,

Even a strike was contemplated by the Union on this issue (vide paragraph 4 of the proceedings of the tripartite conference held by the A.L.C., Howrah, on 8th November 1954 (Ext. 2)'. The said paragraph runs as follows:—

> "As regards Sukharanjan, Bharat and Mrinal, as employers cannot agree to reinstate them it is proposed that the dispute over their dismissal be referred to a Tribunal for adjudication, on the understanding that the Union will withdraw the contemplated strike."

Sukharanjan's name also finds mention in the letter of the President of the Union addressed to the A.L.C., dated 21st September 1954 [Ext. 2(a)]. So it is clear that the dispute centring round the dismissal of Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty and Bharat Lala was espoused by the Union long before the date of reference. The date of the present reference is the 8th June 1955. So it is clear that the present dispute, though originally it was an individual dispute, ultimately developed into a collective dispute. As such, it is an industrial dispute, and the Tribunal has jursdicton to adjudicate upon it. The employer contends that there is no evidence that the employees in question gave any written authority to the Union to take up their case. That is not necessary. A Union is constituted to redress the grievances of the workmen. So where it takes up the cause of any workman against the employer, such authorisation must be presumed in every case. So this contention is disposed of.

The second legal objection is that Shri Sukharanjan and Bharat Lala were ex-employees on the date of reference. So they were not "workmen" under the Act. But if we refer to the definition of "workmen" in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, we find that a workman discharged during the dispute also comes within the definition of "workman". In this extended sense the present workmen are attracted by the said definition. The evidence is clear that they were dismissed when there was a pre-existing dispute pending before the Conciliation Officer. I may also refer to the case of India Paper Pulp Co., Ltd. versus Workers' Union reported in L. L. J. 1955, page 541. So this contention cannot hold water.

Next I turn to the evidence to consider the merits of the case. It is admitted that none of these two workmen was given any charge-sheet. No reason was assigned for their discharge. Sukharanjan in his evidence says that when he went to join his work on 14th September 1954 after his bath, he was suddendly told by Shri P. K. Chatterji, the employer, that his services would no longer be required. He demanded a charge-sheet which was sternly refused. The employer, P.W. 1, says that he dismissed Sukharanjan for his bad driving and for putting him into troubles on three occasions when he did not pay the prices of petrol, and also for causing loss to him in the matter of tyre vulcanizing, and also for misappropriation of money by the conductor in collusion with Sukharanjan. But I find from the evidence that none of these charges has been substantiated. In the matter of misappropriation of money, the employer admits that the conductor returned the entire money. So the money alleged to have been misappropriated did not come from Sukharanjan. It is also stated that Sukharanjan was also pardoned on that occasion. The employer Shri P. K. Chatterji admits also that in the matter of discharge of Sukharanjan, he took into consideration all his past offences which he had previously pardoned. So it appears that he suddenly raked all the past sins of Sukharanjan, if there were any, and dismissed him. The employer does not say what was the present provocation that led him to take such an action. I think that the present provocation lay in the fact that Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty was the Vice-President of the Union. The employers were not slow to realise that if the Union became strong, they would become weak. They had an organisation of their own, but still they did not feel secure. So Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty was victimised by dismissal. When no present fault could be picked up on the part of Shri Sukharanjan such as to justify the employer's action, the employer fell back on his past acts of omission and commission. Strangely enough, though Shri Sukharanjan appeared to be so very delinquent, yet no warning was given to him at any time in writing. So I have no means to find whether these alleged charges for offences have been set up only when the employer found himself in a tight corner. The employer says that Shri Sukharanjan was a temporary hand working for 1½ years, and so he could be dismissed at the employer's pleasure. I have got in evidence that in this bus service no man is made permanent. So I have to suppose that the destiny of the employees here, no matter for how long they serve, lies on the sweet will and whim of employers. This is certainly not a situation which can be viewed with any equanimity by an Industrial Tribunal. So I am not prepared to accept this plea of the employer as a justification for causing Sukharanjan's discharge. Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty is said to be a rash driver, but there is no record of any police case against him. That he misappropriated the money of petrol remains to be proved. The employer admits that there is nothing in writing regarding the tyre vulcanizing story. So in the circumstances, I set aside the order of discharge or dismissal on Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty in the present case.

Regarding Bharat Lala, I get in evidence that he was re-employed and that later on he went home and died there. So it is clear that he acquiesced in the circumstances and did not claim any compensation. I cannot allow this matter to be revived after this length of time. So I can grant no relief to Bharat Lala either by way of reinstatement or by way of compensation.

Regarding Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty,, I award that he must be reinstated within one month of the award coming into operation. He is granted compensation at the rate of half his average monthly earnings during last two months just before this discharge or dismissal, from 14th September 1954 up to the date of his reinstatement in service. This amount should be paid in three equal monthly instalments. Regarding inability to pay compensation, I do not find that the employer has made out any case. Besides, the employer has got to blame himself for this penalty. As Shri Sukharanjan Chakravorty did not render any service to the employer during this period, and also because he earned something by casual work during this time, I do not grant him more than half average wages as above.

4. The area above referred to within which the supply of energy is authorised by the license (the area of supply under the Act) is the whole of the area, the boundaries of which are described in the First Annexure and delineated in red colour on the deposited map.

Situation of the Transforming Station

5. (a) The licensee shall not erect a generating station, either inside or outside the area of supply without the previous sanction of the Board.

(b) The licensee shall take a supply of energy in bulk from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Limited for distribution and will erect the necessary transformer station or stations within the area of supply.

Licensee's works

6. Compulsory Works.—The licensee shall (1) provide and instal suitable and sufficient feeders and distributing mains and execute necessary works to the satisfaction of the Government for the purpose of supplying electrical energy throughout the streets, or parts of streets, named in the Second Annexure and shown in yellow colour on the deposited map, (2) erect the transformer station or stations mentioned in clause 5 with all machinery and apparatus necessary for the purpose of giving a continuous and efficient supply, and (3) do all other works necessary for supply of energy to consumers.

Supply of Energy

7. (i) Subject to the provisions of this license, the Act and the rules thereunder and also the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1948, and the rules thereunder the licensee shall be entitled during the continuance of its license to supply energy within the area of supply of all purposes except in cases where the supply to any one consumer shall exceed 100,000 units per annum* without the previous consent in writing of the Government.

(ii) As soon as may be after the grant of this license and in any case within two weeks thereafter the licensee shall submit to the Government for sanction under sub-section (2) of section 21 of the Act draft "Conditions of supply" to regulate its relations with persons who are or intend to become consumers.

(iii) The amount of all miscellaneous charges incidental to and/or in connection with the supply of energy, which the licensee proposes to make against consumers, shall be subject to the previous approval of the Government.

Extensions to transforming station, transmission and distributing mains

8. After the supply of energy has commenced no major additions to the transforming station, machinery and apparatus, transmission and distributing mains or other works shall be made or orders placed for the same, without the previous approval in writing of the Board.

Accounts

9. (i) Separate and distinct accounts shall be kept, prepared and rendered by the licensee showing in full details as required by the Act and the rules thereunder and the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1948, or any order of the Government, the working of the undertaking for which this license, is granted.

* Except the supply to the waterworks and the drainage and sewage system.

All books of accounts shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Government or of the Board.

(ii) The licensee shall submit to the Government before the 1st October in every year, the accounts of the undertaking for one year made up to the 31st March of the same year.

Statistics

10. The licensee shall when called upon to do so submit to the Government or the Board as the case may be such statement and data as may be considered necessary for the purpose of compiling comprehensive statistics of electric supply undertakings in the State.

Hours of supply

11. From the date of the commencement of supply the licensee shall maintain a continuous supply of energy for 24 hours throughout the year.

Method of construction

12. The feeders, distributing mains and service connections may be overhead or underground in whole or in part and shall subject to the provisions of section 18 of the Act, be erected, constructed and maintained by the licensee in strict conformity with the Act and the rules thereunder and the following provisions:

(i) The licensee shall not erect overhead mains for use at any higher pressure than medium pressure without the previous sanction in writing of the Government in each case and subject to such conditions and/or limitations as the Government may impose.

(ii) Aerial lines in the vicinity of a building or structure shall be erected in compliance with the Indian Electricity Rules and in no case shall an aerial line be at a less distance than 4 feet horizontally and/or 8 feet vertically from any building or structure whether permanent or temporary.

(iii) In narrow lanes, passages or streets where it is not possible to maintain a horizontal clearance of 4 feet between aerial lines and buildings or structures underground cables shall be provided unless any special method of construction of aerial lines shall have been expressly sanctioned in writing by the Government for any such lane, passage or street and such sanction shall be obtained by the licensee before beginning construction of any such special aerial line.

(iv) Where any electric supply lines (excepting lines in streets mentioned in Second Annexure) cross or run along the routes of a taboot, temple car or similar other religious processions, the supply lines shall be laid underground or placed at such height as will allow of the free and safe passage of those processions. In case of dispute, such routes and heights shall be determined by the District Magistrate to whom the licensee shall refer before running any such lines.

(v) The licensee shall remove or replace at his own expense any aerial line which runs along or across any street if in the opinion of the Government it is considered necessary to do so.

(vi) For the purpose of rule 68(2) of the rules, the maximum wind pressure shall be taken as 20 pounds per square foot.

Nature of supply

13. The system and pressure of supply which shall be adopted for the supply of electrical energy under this license are as follows:—

(i) Three phase alternating current, three or four wire supply, at pressures of 400 volts between phases and 230 volts between each phase and neutral at a frequency of fifty complete cycles per second.

(ii) Single phase alternating current, two wire supply, at a pressure of 230 volts between the phase and neutral conductor at a frequency of fifty complete cycles per second.

(iii) Three phase alternating current, three wire supply at pressures of 6,000 volts between phases at a frequency of fifty complete cycles per second.

The pressure stated above shall not vary therefrom beyond the limits prescribed by the Indian Electricity Rules, 1937, throughout the area of supply:

Provided that licensee may from time to time with the previous sanction in writing of the Government and subject to such limitations and conditions as shall be made in writing by the Government adopt any other pressures or systems of supply or both for the purpose of this license.

Limits of rates to be charged in respect of supply of energy

14. The rates to be charged by the licensee for energy supplied by it shall not exceed the maxima as stated in that behalf in the Fourth Annexure, or in the case of a method of charge approved by the Government in accordance with clause (c) of sub-section (3) of section 23 of the Act, such maxima as the Government may fix on approving the method.

Expiry of license and purchase of undertaking

15. The license shall expire on 31st December 1967. The option of purchase given by section 7 of the Act shall be exercisable on the expiry of this license.

Bulk supply

16. Should a supply of electrical energy in bulk become available at any future date from any source at a rate not more than the rate at which the licensee is purchasing at the time and if the Government think it in the interest of development of electricity in that area so to direct, the licensee shall obtain its suppy from such source, on payment of the rate and the cost or proportionate cost (if any) of the erection or construction of its service lines as may be fixed by such source for the purpose and upon entering into an agreement for such supply embodying the terms and conditions fixed by the Government.

The decision of the Government on the operation of this clause shall be final.

Management expenses and interest of loan

17. (i) The Government shall have the right from time to time to nominate one ex officio Director of the Board of Directors of the company and the Director so nominated shall be entitled to such remuneration payable by the said company as fixed in the Memorandum and Articles of Association of such company in respect of other Directors. The Director so nominated by the Government shall not be required to hold any qualifications shares, nor shall he be liable to removal or retirement. The Government shall, however, have the right to remove the person so nominated and appoint another person in his place.

(ii) The licensee shall submit to the Government any agreement between the licensee and the Managing Agents or any modifications therein for the satisfaction of the Government that there has not been any contravention of section 9(2) of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, and paragraph XIII of the Sixth Schedule to the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1948.

(iii) The transaction relating to unsecured loans, if any, shall be reported to the Government for the satisfaction of Government that the interests of consumers have not been unduly prejudiced thereby.

Variations from the Schedule to the Act

18. In pursuance of clause (f) of sub-section (2) of section 3 of the Act, it is hereby expressly declared that—

(i) The following shall be added between the words "licensee" and "and" at the end of clause (a) of the first proviso to sub-clause (1) of clause VI of the Schedule to the Act:—"and to comply with the conditions of supply made from time to time with the previous sanction of the Government under section 21(2)";

(ii) Clause (a) of the first proviso to sub-clause (1) of clause VI of the schedule to the Act shall for the purpose of incorporation in this license be further varied to the following extent, namely, that the licensee shall not be bound to supply energy to any person for any period unless the person requisitioning such supply shall enter into an agreement.

(iii) The following sub-clause shall be substituted for sub-clause (5) of clause VI, namely:—

"Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form approved by the Government in the condition of supply and copies of the form shall be kept in the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant";

(iv) The first proviso to clause XI of the schedule to the Act shall, for the purpose of incorporation in this license, be varied by the substitution of five years for the period of seven years specified therein;

(v) The following sub-clause shall be substituted for sub-clause (2) of clause X, namely:—

"Within two weeks from the date of the granting of this license the licensee shall give notice, by public advertisement in such manner as shall be previously approved by the Government, of the method by which it proposes to charge for energy supplied and the rates at which such energy will be supplied; and, where the licensee has given such notice it shall not be entitled to change the method of charging or the rate at which energy will be supplied without giving notice thereof by public advertisement in the manner aforesaid and giving not less than one month's notice in writing or such shorter notice as the Government may deem proper of such change to the Government and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by it".

Securing continuity of supply

19. It shall be the duty of the licensee (which expression shall, for the purpose of this clause and clause 20 following, be taken to mean and include the licensee, his employees, servants, agents and his permitted assigns) to give the nearest Magistrate immediate and full information of any circumstances in which interruption of the supply may be apprehended as a result of civil commotion or disturbance of the public peace, or any strike or lock-out of the nature specified in section 15 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929 and/or section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Revocation

20. If the licensee shall in the opinion of the Government have failed to give such immediate and full information as is required by clause 19 thereof, or if at any time any interruption of the supply shall occur which in the opinion of the Government could by the exercise of reasonable care have been prevented by the licensee, or if the licensee shall in the opinion of the Government fail to comply with any of the provisions of this license, or if the general direction and control of the licensee shall cease to be in hands of the citizens of India the license may be revoked.

FIRST ANNEXURE

The boundaries of the area of supply referred to in clause 4 are as under:—

North—Bounded by the "Garh" (ditch) and the G. T. Road.

East—Bounded by the river "Hooghly".

South—Bounded by the "Garh" (ditch).

West—Bounded by the "Garh" (ditch).

THIRD ANNEXURE

(i) The three transforming stations and the switching station will be situated on Grand Trunk Road.

(ii) The system of supply will be connected to a suitable number of transformers the aggregate rated KVA of which will not be less than 800 KVA.

FOURTH ANNEXURE

Rates to be charged by the licensee for energy supplied by him referred to in clause 14 shall not exceed the maxima set out below, namely:—

Rate A—Domestic and business purposes

(a)(i) Domestic and business purposes for lights and/or all types of table, ceiling, exhaust and ventilating fans—5 annas per unit.

(ii) Domestic purposes for lift and pump motors, where the rating of such motor does not exceed 4 H.P.—3 annas 6 pies per unit.

(iii) Domestic purposes for lift and pump motors where rating of such motor exceeds 4 H.P.—3 annas per unit.

(b) Domestic and business purposes for heating devices (heater, cookers, iron, etc.) radios, refrigerators, air conditioning apparatus and all other domestic appliances not mentioned in Rate A(a)—3 annas per unit.

(c) All other domestic and business purposes not covered by any other rate—5 annas per unit.

Rate B—Unmetered supply

Lights on contract system for roadside stalls and bazar shops only, and used for not more than 6 hours daily from sunset, provided that the wattage of each lamp does not exceed 60 watts and the total number of lamps in one shop does not exceed 2—Rs. 4 per lamp per month.

Rate C—Public amusement purposes

Rate D—Battery charging and electrolysis

For battery charging and electrolysis purposes—3 annas per unit.

Rate E—Industrial purposes

(a) For each installation having motors the aggregate rated horse power of which does not exceed 4 H.P.—3 annas 6 pies per unit.

(b) Exceeds 4 but not exceeds 15 H.P.—3 annas per unit.

(c) Exceeds 15 but not exceeds 50 H.P.—2 annas 6 pies per unit.

Rate F—Industrial purposes (large)

If the monthly maximum demand exceeds 50 kilowatts special method of charge to be approved by the Government in accordance with section 23, sub-sections (3) and (4) of the Act, the maximum rates shall be such as the Government may fix on approving the method.

Rate C—Street lighting

The licensee may at any time enter into a special contract with the local bodies for supply of energy to the local bodies for public lighting upon such terms and conditions at such rates not exceeding the maximum charges specified below:—

Rs. 2-2 per month per lamp of 25 watt.

Rs. 2-6 per month per lamp of 40 watt.

Rs. 2-14 per month per lamp of 60 watt.

Rs. 3-10 per month per lamp of 75 watt.

Rs. 4-10 per month per lamp of 100 watt.

Rs. 8-2 per month per lamp of 200 watt.

Minimum charges

Provided that in respect of all premises consuming energy under different rates mentioned above, the licensee shall be permitted to levy minimum charge at the following rates per month, even if energy to that value has not been consumed during month:—

(a) For apparatus consuming energy under rate A(a)(i) and A(b)—Rs. 2 per month per kilowatt of connected load or part thereof on the premises concerned.

(b) For motors consuming energy under rate A(a)(ii), A(a)(iii) and rate E—Rs. 5 per month per H.P. installed or part thereof.

NOTE.—When the minimum charge specified above is levied then no other charge for energy consumed shall be made during the period affected.

DECISION

Two issues were referred to the Second Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, for adjudication.

(1) Establishment costs of the works canteen.

(2) Weekly off and overtime pay and the provision of uniforms to the durwans.

The Learned Adjudicator decided the first issue against the Company and the second issue against the workmen. The award was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 17th March 1955. The Company has appealed against the decision of the Tribunal on issue No. 1. This is Appeal Cal.-108 of 1955. Appeal Cal.-110 of 1955 has been filed by the workmen against the decision on issue No. 2.

We take up first the Company's appeal which relates to establishment cost of the works canteen. It is not covered by the list of appealable items under section 7(1)(b) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950. Hence the appeal is incompetent unless it is shown that it involves a substantial question of law. Shri B. P. Khaitan, who represents the Company before us urges that the decision involves an interpretation of the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal, the relevant section of the Indian Factories Act and the rules framed thereunder. For a correct application of the contention of Shri Khaitan, a short résumé of the facts of the case may be relevant. In 1947, the Government of West Bengal constituted a Tribunal to adjudicate upon the industrial disputes in 119 Engineering Firms of which the present appellant was one This Tribunal was commonly known as the Major Engineering Tribunal. This Tribunal gave its award which was published in the Calcutta Gazette under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2161/-Lab., dated the 30th June 1948. "Canteen" was one of the subject matters of the adjudication. The Indian Factories Act of 1948 came into force on 1st April 1949. Its predecessor, namely, the Indian Factories Act of 1934 which was in force during the adjudication proceedings did not provide for any canteen. But the Major Engineering Tribunal considered the relevant provision of the Act of 1948 which was then pending before the Central Legislature and recommended that food may be supplied at a price just sufficient to meet the cost of the canteen.

The Company admittedly maintains a canteen and bears a substantial portion of its costs, although there is slight difference between the parties as to the exact amount paid by the Company and the number of servants employed. According to the Company 16 servants are employed for the canteen, while the Union contends that only 14 servants are employed. Out of these servants four are directly paid by the canteen committee out of the sale proceeds of foodstuff and the rest are paid by the committee. The Union demands that the Company should bear the entire establishment costs of the canteen including the salary of the servants employed for the canteen and the Lower Tribunal relying on a decision reported in 1954 I LLJ., page 774 (Burn & Co., Ltd.) has allowed the demand of the Union. The Company denies its liability to bear any portion of the establishment costs of the canteen. The decision in the present case hinges on the correct interpretation on the relevant section of the Indian Factories Act, the rules framed under the Act and the relevant portion in the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal. We accordingly agree with Shri Khaitan that the appeal involves a substantial question of law and is maintainable.

As we have already pointed out that the Major Engineering Tribunal recommends that food may be supplied at a price just sufficient to meet the cost of the canteen. In the absence of any direction to the contrary, we may presume that the establishment cost would count in fixing the sale price of the foodstuff in the canteen. Section 46 of the Indian Factories Act, 1948, provides for canteen. It directs that in a factory where there are more than 250 workers, a canteen should be provided and maintained by the occupier for the use of the workers. It also authorises the State Government to frame rules in respect of such canteens under five specified heads. Rules 66 to 71 of the rules framed by the West Bengal Government, deals with the maintenance of canteen, equipment, price to be charged for foodstuff. Rules 66 and 67 deal with the site, ventilation, lighting and accommodation of the canteen including kitchen, pantry, store room and the dining hall. These two rules also provide for the hygienic measures in respect of the building including the kitchen, pantry and store room and the dining hall. Rule 68 deals with equipment and rule 69 with the prices of food. Rule 68 runs as follows:—

> 68. Equipment.—(1) There shall be provided and maintained sufficient utensils, crockery, cutlery, furniture and any other equipment necessary for the efficient running of the canteen. Suitable clean clothes for the employees serving in the canteen shall also be provided and maintained.
> (2) The furniture, utensils and other equipment shall be maintained in a clean and hygienic condition. A service counter, if provided, shall have a top of smooth and impervious material. Suitable facilities including an adequate supply of hot water shall be provided for the cleaning of utensils and equipment.

Rule 69 directs that food and drink and other items served in the canteen will be sold and the prices charged shall be subject to the approval of the managing committee. For our purpose rule 68 is relevant, and the correct decision on the issue before us involves an interpretation of this rule.

It has been urged on behalf of the workmen that the employer has a statutory obligation to maintain a canteen and that to discharge this statutory obligation he must bear the entire establishment cost including the salary of servants employed in the canteen. This contention raises the question whether the employer has any statutory obligation to subsidise the canteen and if so to what extent. This is a much larger issue than what is involved in the present appeal. The question before us is whether the Company has any statutory obligation to pay for the four servants employed by the canteen. Rule 68 does not specifically mean "servants" as one of the equipments. In interpreting this rule we must apply the principle of ejusdem generis. By no stretch of imagination, the words "any other equipments necessary for the efficient running of the canteen" include servants, Servants have not been enumerated in rule 68 as one of the equipments, although the rule provides for suitable clean clothings for the servants serving in the canteen.

Furniture, utensils and other equipment necessary for the canteen are to be maintained in a clean and hygienic condition and hot water is to be provided for the cleaning of the utensils and other equipments. Rule 68(2) clearly indicates that the words "any other equipment" are not intended by the Government to include servants. We are accordingly of the opinion that the Company is under no obligation to pay the salary of the four servants employed by the canteen committee. The salary of these four servants should be taken into account in fixing the price of foodstuff. This will not offend the statutory provision for canteen under the Indian Factories Act of 1949 and the rules framed thereunder. The direction of the Adjudicator on this point is vacated. It is, however, hoped that the Company will not curtail the existing subsidy.

The facts of the case reported in 1954 I LLJ., page 774 (Burn & Co., Ltd.) is different from the facts of the present case. In the said case the Company was under an obligation under the award to maintain a cheap canteen and a Bench of this Tribunal held that a cheap canteen could not mean supply of food on the basis of "no profit and no loss". This decision does not apply to the facts and circumstances of the present case.

Now coming to the appeal of the workmen's appeal No. Cal.-110 of 1955 on issue No. 2 we may at once reject as incompetent the appeal so far as it relates to weekly off and the provision of uniforms to the durwans. Shri Ram Sen who has appeared before us for the workmen has not been able to establish any substantial question of law involved in the appeal. The appeal is competent only in respect of overtime pay of the durwans.

The durwans working in the watch and ward department are not workmen under the Indian Factories Act and are not hence entitled to the benefit provided in the Act for factory workers. They do not also come under the Shops and Establishments Act. The Union claims overtime pay for the durwans for work on weekly day off. The Company states in its written statement that all the durwans excepting the durwans posted at the gates and in the stores get weekly holidays and that all durwans are allowed one month's leave with pay and 15 days' leave on half pay in a year and are provided with free quarters. The durwans are the gurdians of the property and materials of the factory, and their services are required throughout the day and the week. It is not the Union's case that they are employed for intension duty for 24 hours in a day without any recess. The durwans are provided with free quarters and free fuel and they even enjoy holidays. This is the condition of service of the durwans. The Learned Adjudicator turned down the Union's demand for overtime pay as compensation for loss of weekly rest day. We are not inclined to interfere.

In the result, appeal No. Cal.-108 of 1955 is allowed on contest and the direction of the Adjudicator to the appellant Company to bear the salaries of the four servants of the works canteen which are now paid by the canteen committee is vacated. Appeal No. Cal.-110 of 1955 is dismissed on contest. The award on issue No. 2 shall stand. Parties shall bear their own costs.

IN THE HONOURABLE LABOUR APPELLATE TRIBUNAL OF INDIA AT CALCUTTA

Application Miscellaneous No. C-27 of 1956

Shri Ram Sing and five others, 1, Jay Bhattacharya Lane, Calcutta-3. ... Applicants, versus

The National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., 5 Rustomjee Parsi Road, Cossipore, Calcutta-2. ... Opponents.

In the matter of an application under section 23 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950.

The 3rd day of April 1956.

PRESENT:

SHRI K. C. GUPTA, Member.

Appearances:

For the Applicants: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharya, President, National Carbon Mazdoor Union.

For the Opponents Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Assistant Labour Advisor, Indian Engineering Association, Bengal Chambers.

State: West Bengal.

Industry: Carbon.

ORDER

The following facts have given rise to this application.

2. During the pendency of appeal No. Cal.-207 of 1955 the opposite party, the National Carbon Company (India), Ltd., introduced piece-rate system in their packing department and thought that as a result of it six of the permanent employees would become surplus in the line. On the 21st of December 1955, this introduction of piece-rate system was taken up in hand when the six workmen who were to be retained in the line were called and explained the implications of the new system. On the following day these six workmen who were considered surplus were required to leave the packing line and take up some other work in that very department. The workmen did not agree to do so and they resisted it. For continuous 10 days they refused to obey the orders of the management requiring them to take up work in some other line in the department. They were, therefore, charge-sheeted and suspended pending enquiry. The domestic enquiry was held on the 12th of January 1956. The officer making the enquiry came to the conclusion that the workmen complainants were guilty of misconduct by violating factory's standing orders and that they deserved to be dismissed and made a report to that effect on the 13th January 1956. On the 19th of January 1956, they were informed that the Company was making an application under section 22 for permission for their dismissal and that they were to continue on suspension pending grant of permission. Within a weak of receipt of the letter communicating this order, the present application under section 23 was made on the 25th of January 1956. It took some time for the Company to make an application under section 22 which was made on the 7th of February 1956. In the meantime, the appeal which had already been heard was decided on the 27th of January 1956. On the 19th of March 1956, the Company's application under section 22 being application (Misc.) case No. C-612 of 1956 was dismissed as infructuous. Four days thereafter, i.e., when the pendency of the appeal had ceased the Company dismissed the complainants.

3. The first question that presents itself for decision in this case is whether on the date the present application was made the Company had committed any act which could be called contravention of section 22. Pointed attention of the learned representative of the workmen was drawn to show that any action which could be called violation of the provisions of section 22 of our Act had been committed by the Company, but he has failed to do so. Repeatedly he harped on the fact that the Company had not paid these workmen wages for the period from 21st of December 1955 to the 31st of December 1955 and the Company had, with ulterior motives, suspended these workmen. Thus, he maintained that these acts constituted contravention of section 22.

4. A very careful consideration has been bestowed upon the contention of the learned representative. Suspension pending enquiry—including enquiry by this Tribunal in application under section 22—has been held by this Tribunal times out of number to be no contravention of section 22 of our Act and, besides suspension pending enquiry no action express or implied of the Company giving rise to a cause of action for the present application could be cited. As regards non-payment of wages for the period from the 21st December 1955 to the 31st December 1955, suffice it to say that in the particular circumstances of this case it would not constitute contravention of section 22 though it may be possible to raise a dispute over the matter. I do not want to go into the merits of this aspect and would leave the workmen to raise a dispute in the matter if they are so advised, as any expression of opinion on my part at this stage may prejudice the case if and when raised.

5. A point was raised on behalf of the complainants that the enquiry made into their alleged misconduct was devoid of all principles of natural justice. I have gone through the proceedings of enquiry and find nothing to uphold the contention. The enquiry was conducted in the presence of the complainants and two representatives of the Union. The workmen were asked to cross-examine the witnesses produced on behalf of the Company but they refused to do so and though at the end of examination of the complainants it is not so stated that they were required to produce their witnesses, it is sufficiently clear from the report made on the day following the enquiry, i.e., on the 13th of January 1956, that the complainants did not produce any evidence.

6. It is then argued that the enquiry was devoid of all principles of natural justice inasmuch as Shri Panchanan Bhattacharya, President of the Union to which the complainants belonged, was not allowed to be present during the enquiry and to cross-examine the witnesses produced on behalf of the Company. Shri Bhattacharya may be President of the Union but certainly was not an employee of the Company and the Company could not be compelled to allow an outsider to conduct the enquiry which is a domestic enquiry.

7. I am satisfied that the enquiry cannot be called against the principles of natural justice.

8. The result is that this application under section 23 is not maintainable and is hereby dismissed.

(8) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(9) "Tribunal" means a Tribunal constituted under section 17 and having jurisdiction in respect of any matter under the rules made under this Act;

(10) all other words and expressions used herein but not defined and defined in the Insurance Act shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in that Act.

CHAPTER II

ESTABLISHMENT OF LIFE INSURANCE CORPORATION OF INDIA

Establishment and incorporation of Life Insurance Corporation of India.

3. (1) With effect from such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint, there shall be established a Corporation called the Life Insurance Corporation of India.

(2) The Corporation shall be a body corporate having perpetual succession and a common seal with power, subject to the provisions of this Act, to acquire, hold and dispose of property, and may by its name sue and be sued.

Constitution of the Corporation.

4. (1) The Corporation shall consist of such number of persons not exceeding fifteen as the Central Government may think fit to appoint thereto and one of them shall be appointed by the Central Government to be the Chairman thereof.

(2) Before appointing a person to be a member, the Central Government shall satisfy itself that that person will have no such financial or other interest as is likely to affect prejudicially the exercise or performance by him of his functions as a member, and the Central Government shall also satisfy itself from time to time with respect to every member that he has no such interest; and any person who is, or whom the Central Government proposes to appoint and who has consented to be, a member shall, whenever required by the Central Government so to do, furnish to it such information as the Central Government considers necessary for the performance of its duties under this sub-section.

(3) A member who is in any way directly or indirectly interested in a contract made or proposed to be made by the Corporation shall, as soon as possible after the relevant circumstances have come to his knowledge, disclose the nature of his interest to the Corporation; and the member shall not take part in any deliberation or discussion of the Corporation with respect to that contract.

Capital of the Corporation.

5. (1) The original capital of the Corporation shall be five crores of rupees provided by the Central Government after due appropriation made by Parliament by law for the purpose, and the terms and conditions relating to the provision of such capital shall be such as may be determined by the Central Government.

(2) The Central Government may, on the recommendation of the Corporation, reduce the capital of the Corporation to such extent and in such manner as the Central Government may determine.

CHAPTER III

FUNCTIONS OF THE CORPORATION

Functions of the Corporation.

6. (1) Subject to the rules, if any, made by the Central Government in this behalf, it shall be the general duty of the Corporation to carry on life insurance business, whether in or outside India, and the Corporation shall so exercise its powers under this Act as to secure that life insurance business is developed to the best advantage of the community.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the provisions contained in sub-section (1) but subject to the other provisions contained in this Act, the Corporation shall have power—

(a) to carry on capital redemption business, annuity certain business or reinsurance business in so far as such reinsurance business appertains to life insurance business.

(b) subject to the rules, if any, made by the Central Government in this behalf, to invest the funds of the Corporation in such manner as the Corporation may think fit and to take all such steps as may be necessary or expedient for the protection or realisation of any investment; including the taking over of and administering any property offered as security for the investment until a suitable opportunity arises for its disposal;

(c) to acquire, hold and dispose of any property for the purpose of its business;

(d) to transfer the whole or any part of the life insurance business carried on outside India to any other person or persons, if in the interests of the Corporation it is expedient so to do;

(e) to advance or lend money upon the security of any movable or immovable property or otherwise;

(f) to borrow or raise any money in such manner and upon such security as the Corporation may think fit;

(g) to carry on either by itself or through any subsidiary any other business in any case where such other business was being carried on by a subsidiary of an insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act;

(h) to carry on any other business which may seem to the Corporation to be capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with its business and calculated directly or indirectly to render profitable the business of the Corporation;

(i) to do all such things as may be incidental or conducive to the proper exercise of any of the powers of the Corporation.

(3) In the discharge of any of its functions the Corporation shall act so far as may be on business principles.

CHAPTER IV

TRANSFER OF EXISTING LIFE INSURANCE BUSINESS TO THE CORPORATION.

Transfer of assets and laibilities of existing insurers carrying on controlled business.

7. (1) On the appointed day there shall be transferred to and vested in the Corporation all the assets and liabilities appertaining to the controlled business of all insurers.

(2) The assets appertaining to the controlled business of an insurer shall be deemed to include all rights and powers, and all property, whether movable or immovable, appertaining to his controlled business, including, in particular, cash balances, reserve funds, investments, deposits and all other interests and rights in or arising out of such property as may be in the possession of the insurer and all books of account or documents relating to the controlled business of the insurer; and liabilities shall be deemed to include all debts, liabilities and obligations of whatever kind then existing and appertaining to the controlled business of the insurer.

Explanation.—The expression "assets appertaining to the controlled business of an insurer"—

(a) in relation to a composite insurer, includes that part of the paid-up capital of the insurer or assets representing such part which has or have been allocated to the controlled business of the insurer in accordance with the rules made in this behalf;

(b) in relation to a Government, means the amount lying to the credit of that business on the appointed day.

(3) Where any such assets are subject to any trust referred to in sub-section (6) of section 27 of the Insurance Act or to any other trust for the benefit of policy-holders, the assets shall be deemed to have vested in the Corporation free from any such trust.

Provident, superannuation and other like funds.

8. (1) Where an insurer whose controlled business is to be transferred to and vested in the Corporation under section 7, has established a provident or superannuation fund or any other like fund for the benefit of his employees and constituted a trust in respect thereof (hereinafter in this section referred to as an existing trust), the moneys standing to the credit of any such fund on the appointed day, together with any other assets belonging to such fund, shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), stand transferred to and vest in the Corporation on the appointed day free from any such trust.

(2) Where all the employees of any such insurer do not become employees of the Corporation under section 11, the moneys and other assets belonging to any such fund as is referred to in sub-section (1), shall be apportioned between the trustees of the fund and the Corporation in the prescribed manner; and in case of any dispute regarding such apportionment, the decision of the Central Government thereon shall be final.

(3) The Corporation shall, as soon as may be after the appointed day, constitute in respect of the moneys and other assets which are transferred to and vested in it under this section, one or more trusts having objects as similar to the objects of the existing trusts as in the circumstances may be practicable.

(4) Where all the moneys and other assets belonging to an existing trust are transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this section, the trustees of such trust, shall as from the appointed day, be discharged from the trust, except as respects things done or omitted to be done before the appointed day.

General effect of vesting of controlled business.

9. (1) Unless otherwise expressly provided by or under this Act, all contracts, agreements and other instruments of whatever nature subsisting or having effect immediately before the appointed day and to which an insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation is a party or which are in favour of such insurer shall in so far as they relate to the controlled business of the insurer be of as full force and effect against or in favour of the Corporation, as the case may be, and may be enforced or acted upon as fully and effectually as if, instead of the insurer, the Corporation had been a party thereto or as if they had been entered into or issued in favour of the Corporation.

(2) If on the appointed day any suit, appeal or other legal proceeding of whatever nature is pending by or against an insurer, then, in so far as it relates to his controlled business, it shall not abate be discontinued or be in any way prejudicially affected by reason of the transfer to the Corporation of the business of the insurer or of anything done under this Act, but the suit, appeal or other proceeding may be continued, prosecuted and enforced by or against the Corporation.

Provisions as to composite insurers.

10. (1) For the removal of doubts it is hereby declared that in any case where an insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act is a composite insurer, the provisions of the preceding sections shall only apply to the extent to which any property appertains to his controlled business and to rights and powers acquired, and to debts, liabilities and obligations incurred, and to contracts, agreements and other instruments made by the insurer for the purposes of his controlled business and to legal proceedings relating to those purpoes, and the provisions of those sections shall be construed accordingly.

(2) The Central Government may, by rules made in this behalf, provide—

(a) for the determination of the question whether any property appertains to his controlled business or whether any rights, powers, debts, liabilities or obligations were acquired or incurred or any contract, agreement or other instrument was made by the insurer for the purposes of his controlled business or whether any documents relate to those purposes;

(b) for the allocation of the paid-up capital or assets representing such paid-up capital as the case may be, between the controlled business of the insurer and any other business;

(c) for substituting for any agreements entered into by any insurer partly for the purposes of his controlled business and partly for other purposes separate agreements in the requisite terms and for any apportionments and indemnities consequent thereon;

(d) for the severance of leases comprising property of which part only is transferred to and vested in the Corporation by virtue of this Act and for apportionments consequent on such severance;

(e) for the apportionment and the making of financial adjustments with respect to any debts, liabilities or obligations incurred by any such insurer partly for the purposes of his controlled business and partly for other purposes and for any necessary variation of mortgages and encumbrances relating to such debts, liabilities or obligations;

(f) for the apportionment of the moneys and other assets belonging to any provident or superannuation fund or any other like fund to which the provisions of section 8 do not apply between persons employed in connection with the controlled business of an insurer and other persons;

(g) for any other matters supplementary to or consequential on the matters aforesaid for which provision appears to be necessary or expedient.

(3) All rules made under this section shall be laid for not less than thirty days before both Houses of Parliament as soon as possible after they are made, and shall be subject to such modifications as Parliament may make during the session in which they are so laid or the session immediately following.

(4) Where at any time before the expiration of six months from the appointed day a question has arisen under this section or under any rules made thereunder as to whether any property is or was held or used by the insurer for the purposes of his controlled business, the question shall be referred to the Tribunal for decision.

Transfer of service of existing employees of insurers to the Corporation.

11. (1) Every whole-time employee of an insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation and who was employed by the insurer wholly or mainly in connection with his controlled business immediately before the appointed day shall, on and from the appointed day, become an employee of the Corporation, and shall hold his office therein by the same tenure, at the same remuneration and upon the same terms and conditions and with the same rights and privileges as to pension and gratuity and other matters as he would have held the same on the appointed day if this Act had not been passed, and shall continue to do so unless and until his employment in the Corporation is terminated or until his remuneration, terms and conditions are duly altered by the Corporation:

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section shall apply to any such employee who has, by notice in writing given to the Cental Government prior to the appointed day, intimated his intention of not becoming an employee of the Corporation.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) or in any contract of service, the Central Government may, for the purpose of rationalising the pay scales of employees of insurers whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in it or for the purpose of reducing the remuneration payable to employees in cases where in the interest of the Corporation and its policy-holders a reduction is called for, alter the terms of service of the employees as to their remuneration in such manner as it thinks fit; and if the alteration is not acceptable to any employee the Corporation may terminate his employment on giving him compensation equivalent to three months' remuneration unless the contract of service with such employee provides for a shorter notice of termination.

Explanation.—The compensation payable to an employee under this sub-section shall be in addition to and shall not affect any pension, gratuity, provident fund money or any other benefit to which the employee may be entitled under his contract of service.

(3) If any question arises as to whether any person was a whole-time employee of an insurer or as to whether any employee was employed wholly or mainly in connection with the controlled business of an insurer immediately before the appointed day the question shall be referred to the Central Government whose decision shall be final.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, or in any other law for the time being in force, the transfer of the services of any employee of an insurer to the Corporation shall not entitle any such employee to any compensation under that Act or other law, and no such claim shall be entertained by any court, tribunal or other authority. 14 of 1947.

Transfer of services of existing employees of chief agents of insurers to the Corporation in certain cases.

12. Subject to such rules as the Central Government may make in this behalf, every whole-time salaried employee of a chief agent of an insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation and,—

(a) who was employed by the chief agent wholly or mainly in connection with the controlled business of the insurer;

(b) whose salary on the appointed day did not exceed five hundred rupees per mensem; and

(c) who was in the emplyoment of the chief agent for a continuous period of not less than one year immediately before the appointed day;

shall, on and from the appointed day, become an employee of the Corporation and the provisions of section 11 shall, so far as may be, apply in relation to such employee as they apply in relation to a whole-time employee of the insurer:

Provided that this section shall not apply except in cases where the chief agent of the insurer was required under the terms of his contract with the insurer to render the prescribed services to policy-holders of the insurer.

Explanation.—In the case of a whole-time salaried employee of a chief agent who has been retrenched by the chief agent on or after the 19th day of January, 1956, the provisions of this section shall apply as if for the words "the appointed day" the words and figures "the 19th day of January, 1956" had been substituted.

Duty to deliver possession of property and documents relating thereto.

13. (1) Where any property appertaining to the controlled business of an insurer has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act, then,—

(a) every person, in whose possession, custody or control any such property may be, shall deliver the property to the Corporation forthwith,

(b) any person who, on the appointed day, has in his possession, custody or control any books, documents or other papers relating to such controlled business shall be liable to account for the said books, documents and papers to the Corporation, and shall deliver them to the Corporation or to such person as the Corporation may direct.

(2) In particular, all the assets of an insurer appertaining to life insurance business held in deposit by the Reserve Bank of India under the Insurance Act or by trustees in trust shall be delivered to the Corporation.

(3) Without prejudice to the other provisions contained in this section, it shall be lawful for the Corporation to take all necessary steps for securing possession of all properties which have been transferred to and vested in it under this Act.

Power of Corporation to modify contracts of life insurance in certain cases.

14. The Corporation may, having regard to the financial condition on the appointed day of any insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation, reduce the amounts of insurance under contracts of life insurance entered into by such insurer before the 19th day of January, 1956, in such manner and subject to such conditions as it thinks fit:

Provided that no such reduction shall be made except in accordance with a scheme prepared by the Corporation in this behalf and aproved by the Central Government.

Right of Corporation to seek relief in respect of certain transactions of the insurer.

15. (1) Where an insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act, has, at any time within five years before the 19th day of January, 1956,—

(a) made any payment to any person without consideration;

(b) sold or disposed of any property of the insurer without consideration or for an inadequate consideration;

(c) acquired any property or rights for an excessive consideraion;

(d) entered into or varied any agreement so as to require an excessive consideration to be paid or given by the insurer;

(e) entered into any other transaction of such an onerous nature as to cause a loss to, or impose a liability on, the insurer exceeding any benefit accruing to the insurer;

(f) if a composite insurer, transferred any property from his life department to his general department without consideration or for an inadequate consideration; and the payment, sale, disposal, acquisition, agreement or variaton thereof or other transaction or transfer was not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the controlled business of the insurer or was made with an unreasonable lack of prudence on the part of the insurer, regard being had in either case to the circumstances at the time, the Corporation may apply for relief to the Tribunal in respect of such transaction, and all parties to the transaction shall, unless the Tribunal otherwise directs, be made parties to the application.

(2) The Tribunal may make such order against any of the parties to the application as it thinks just having regard to the extent to which those parties were respectively responsible for the transaction or benefited from it and all the circumstances of the case.

(3) Where an application is made to the Tribunal under this section in respect of any transaction and the application is determined in favour of the Corporation, the Tribunal shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine any claims outstanding in respect of the transaction.

Compensation for acquisition of controlled business.

16. (1) Where the controlled business of an insurer has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act, compensation shall be given by the Corporation to that insurer in accordance with the principles contained in the First Schedule.

(2) The amount of the compensation to be given in accordance with the aforesaid principles shall be determined by the Corporation in the first instance, and if the amount so determined is approved by the Central Government it shall be offered to the insurer in full satisfaction of the compensation payable to him under this Act, and if, on the other hand, the amount so offered is not acceptable to the insurer he may within such time as may be prescribed for the purpose have the matter referred to the Tribunal for decision.

Constitution of Tribunals.

17. (1) The Central Government may for the purposes of this Act constitute one or more Tribunals and each of the Tribunals shall consist of three members appointed by the Central Government one of whom shall be a person who is, or has been, a Judge of a High Court or has been a Judge of the Supreme Court, and he shall be the Chairman thereof.

(2) A Tribunal may choose one or more persons possessing special knowledge of any matter relating to any case under inquiry to assist the Tribunal in determining any question which has to be decided by it under this Act.

(3) Every Tribunal shall have the powers of a civil court while trying a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, in respect of the following matters:— 5 of 1908.

(a) summoning and enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him on oath;

(b) requiring the discovery and production of documents;

(d) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses or documents.

(4) Every Tribunal shall have power to regulate its own procedure and decide all matters within its competence, and may review any of its decisions in the event of there being a mistake on the face of the record or correct any arithmetical or clerical error therein.

CHAPTER V

MANAGEMENT

Offices, Branches. and agencies.

18. (1) The central office of the Corporation shall be at such place as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify.

(2) The Corporation shall establish a zonal office at each of the following places, namely, Bombay, Calcutta Delhi, Kanpur and Madras, and, subject to the previous approval of the Central Government, may establish such other zonal offices as it thinks fit.

(3) The territorial limits of each zone shall be such as may be specified by the Corporation.

(4) There may be established as many divisional offices and branches in each zone as the Zonal Manager thinks fit.

Committees of the Corporation

19. (1) The Corporation may entrust the general superintendence and direction of its affairs and business to an Executive Committee consisting of not more than five of its members and the Executive Committee may exercise all powers and do all such acts and things as may be delegated to it by the Corporation.

(2) The Corporation may also constitute an Investment Committee for the purpose of advising it in matters relating to the investment of its funds, and the Investment Committee shall consist of not more than seven members of whom not less than three shall be members of the Corporation and the remaining members shall be persons (whether members of the Corporation or not) who have special knowledge and experience in financial matters, particularly, matters relating to investment of funds.

(3) The Corporation may constitute such other Committees as it may think fit for the purpose of discharging such of its functions as may be delegated to them.

Managing Directors.

20. The Corporaton may appoint one or more persons to be the Managing Director or Directors of the Corporation, and every Managing Director shall be a whole-time officer of the Corporation, and shall exercise such powers and perform such duties as may be entrusted or delegated to him by the Executive Committee or the Corporation.

Corporation to be guided by the directions of Central Government.

21. In the discharge of its functions under this Act, the Corporation shall be guided by such directions in matters of policy involving public interest as the Central Government may give to it in writing; and if any question arises whether a direction relates to a matter of policy involving public interest the decision of the Central Government thereon shall be final.

Zonal Managers.

22. (1) The Corporation may entrust the superintendence and direction of the affairs and business of a zonal office to a person, whether a member or not, who shall be known as the Zonal Manager and the Zonal Manager shall perform all such functions of the Coproration as may be delegated to him with respect to the area within the jurisdiction of the zonal office.

(2) The Corporation may constitute for each zone a Board consisting of such number of persons as it thinks fit to appoint thereto for the purpose of advising the Zonal Manager in respect of such matters as are referred to it under the regulations made by the Corporation.

(3) The Corporation shall constitute in the prescribed manner for each zonal office an Employees and Agents Relations Committee consisting of such number of persons as it thinks fit and every such Committee shall consist of representatives of the Corporation and of its employees and agents, so however, that the number of representatives of the employees and agents on the Committee shall not be less than the number of representatives of the Corporation and it shall be the duty of the Committee to advise the Zonal Manager on matters which relate to the welfare of the employees and agents of the Corporation or which are likely to promote and secure amity and good relations between them and the Corporation.

Staff of the Corporation.

23. (1) For the purpose of enabling it to discharge its functions under this Act, the Corporation may employ such number of persons as it thinks fit.

(2) Every person employed by the Corporation or whose services have been transferred to the Corporation under this Act, shall be liable to serve anywhere in India.

CHAPTER VI

FINANCE, ACCOUNTS AND AUDIT

Funds of the Corporation.

24. The Corporation shall have its own fund and all receipts of the Corporation shall be credited thereto and all payments of the Corporation shall be made therefrom.

Audit.

25. (1) The accounts of the Corporation shall be audited by auditors duly qualified to act as auditors of companies under the law for the time being in force relating to companies, and the auditors shall be appointed by the Corporation with the previous approval of the Central Government and shall receive such remuneration from the Corporation as the Central Government may fix.

(2) Every auditor in the performance of his duties shall have at all reasonable times access to the books, accounts and other documents of the Corporation.

(3) The auditors shall submit their report to the Corporation and shall also forward a copy of their report to the Central Government.

Actuarial valuations.

26. The Corporation shall, once at least in every two years, cause an investigation to be made by actuaries into the financial condition of the business of the Corporation, including a valuation of the lialbilities of the Corporation, and submit the report of the actuaries to the Central Government.

Annual report of activities of Corporation.

27. The Corporation shall, as soon as may be, after the end of each financial year, prepare and submit to the Central Government in such form as may be prescribed a report giving an account of its activities during the previous financial year, and the report shall also give an account of the activities, if any, which are likely to be undertaken by the Corporation in the next financial year.

Surplus how to be utilised.

28. If as a result of any investigation undertaken by the Corporation under section 26 any surplus emerges, not less than 95 per cent. of such surplus shall be allocated to or reserved for the policy-holders of the Corporation and the remainder may be utilised for such purposes and in such manner as the Central Government may determine.

Reports to be laid before Parliament.

29. The Central Government shall cause the report of the auditors under section 25, the report of the actuaries under section 26 and the report giving an account of the activities of the Corporation under section 27 to be laid before both Houses of Parliament as soon as may be after each such report is received by the Central Government.

CHAPTER VII

MISCELLANEOUS

Corporation to have the exclusive privilege of carrying on life insurance business.

30. Except to the extent otherwise expressly provided in this Act, on and from the appointed day the Corporation shall have the exclusive privilege of carrying on life insurance business in India; and on and from the said day any certificate of registration under the Insurance Act held by any insurer immediately before the said day shall cease to have effect in so far as it authorises him to carry on life insurance business in India.

Exception in the case of insurance business in respect of persons residing outside India.

31. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 30 or in the Insurance Act, the Central Government may, by order, permit any person who has made an application in that behalf, to carry on life insurance business in India in respect of the lives of persons ordinarily resident outside India, subject to such restrictions and conditions as may be specified in the order and any such order shall be deemed to have effect as if it were a certificate of registration issued by the Controller to such person under section 3 of the Insurance Act in respect of that class of business.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall authorise any person permitted to carry on life insurance business of the nature referred to in that sub-section, to insure the life of any person ordinarily residing outside India, during any period of his temporary residence in India.

Power of Corporation to have official seal in certain cases.

32. The Corporation may have for use in any zonal office, divisional office or in any office outside India an official seal which shall be a facsimile of the common seal of the Corporation, with the addition on its face of the name of the zonal office, divisional office or other office where it is to be used, and any such official seal may be affixed to any deed or document to which the Corporation is a party.

Requirement of foreign laws to be complied with in certain cases.

33. Where any property or rights appertaining to the controlled business of an insurer are transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act or would be so transferred and vested but for the fact that such transfer and vesting are governed otherwise than by the law of India, the insurer shall comply with such directions as may be given to him by the Corporation for the purpose of securing that the ownership of the property or, as the case may be, that the right is effectively transferred to the Corporation.

Revesting of certain shares vested in the Administrator-General.

34. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Insurance Act, all shares which have vested in the Administrator General of any State under sub-section (8) of section 6A of that Act and which have not been disposed of in accordance with the provisions of that sub-section before the appointed day, shall, on payment of the amount of expenditure, if any, incurred by the Administrator General in relation to such shares by the persons who would have been entitled to those shares if the said sub-section had not been enacted, revest in such persons.

Repatriation of assets and liabilities in the case of foreign insurers in certain cases.

35. (1) Any insurer incorporated outside India may, before the appointed day, make an application to the Central Government stating that among the assets appertaining to the controlled business of the insurer there are assets brought into India by the insurer for the purpose of building up his life insurance business in India which notwithstanding anything contained in section 7, should not be transferred to and vested in the Corporation.

(2) On receipt of an application under sub-section (1), the Central Government shall determine the value of the assets of the insurer appertaining to his controlled business in existence on the 31st day of December, 1955, computed as at that date in accordance with the provisions contained in paragraph 3 of Part B of the First Schedule, and deduct therefrom the total amount of the liabilities of the insurer appertaining to his controlled business in existence on the 31st day of December, 1955, computed as at that date in accordance with the provisions contained in the Second Schedule; and if there is any excess, the Central Government may, by order, direct that such assets equivalent in value to the excess as may be specified in the order shall not be transferred to or vested in the Corporation, or where the order is made after the appointed day, that the Corporation shall be divested of the said assets.

(3) In the case of any insurer incorporated outside India, the Central Government may also, by order, direct that any such liabilities in respect of life insurance policies expressed in any foreign currency issued on the lives of persons who are not citizens of India as are specified in the order together with any such assets necessary to meet the liabilities, as may be so specified, shall not be transferred to or vested in the Corporation or, if the order is made after the appointed day, that the Corporation shall be divested of such liabilities and assets as aforesaid.

(4) The amount of liabilities in respect of the policies referred to in an order made under sub-section (3) shall be computed as at the 31st day of December, 1955,—

(a) in any case where in respect of the insurer concerned an order has been made under sub-section (2), in accordance with the provisions contained in clause (b) of the Second Schedule; and

(b) in any other case, in accordance with method A specified in the Second Schedule.

Explanation.—In computing the amount of liabilities in respect of the policies referred to in this sub-section, allowance shall be made for receipts and payments in respect of such policies from the 31st day of December, 1955, up to the date of the order.

(5) Every order made by the Central Government under this section shall be carried out by the Corporation in such manner as the Central Government may direct.

Contracts of chief agents and special agents to terminate.

36. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Insurance Act or in any other law for the time being in force, every contract appertaining to controlled business subsisting immediately before the appointed day,— shall, as from the appointed day, cease to have effect and all rights accruing to the chief agent or the special agent under any such contract shall terminate on that day:

(a) between an insurer and his chief agent or between an insurer and a special agent; or

(b) between the chief agent of an insurer and a special agent;

Provided that in every such case compensation shall be given by the Corporation to the chief agent or the special agent, as the case may be, in accordance with the principles contained in the Third Schedule, and the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 16 shall, so far as may be, apply in every such case.

Policies to be guaranteed by Central Government.

37. The sums assured by all policies issued by the Corporation including any bonuses declared in respect thereof and, subject to the provisions contained in section 14 the amounts assured by all policies issued by any insurer the liabilities under which have vested in the Corporation under this Act, and all bonuses declared in respect thereof, whether before or after the appointed day, shall be guaranteed as to payment in cash by the Central Government.

Liquidation of Corporation.

38. No provision of law relating to the winding up of companies or corporations shall apply to the Corporation established under this Act, and the Corporation shall not be placed in liquidation save by order of the Central Government and in such manner as that Government may direct.

Special provisions for winding up of certain insurers.

39. Where any insurer being a company (other than a composite insurer) whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act has in accordance with the provisions of this Act collected and distributed any moneys paid to him by the Corporation by way of compensation or otherwise and has also complied with any direction given to him by the Corporation for the purpose of securing that the ownership of any property or any right is effectively transferred to the Corporation, the Central Government may on application being made to it in this behalf by such insurer grant a certificate to the insurer that there is no reason for the continued existence of the insurer and where such a certificate has been granted shall cause the certificate to be published in the Official Gazette and upon the publication thereof the insurer shall be dissolved.

Penalty for withholding property, etc.

40. If any person wilfully withholds or fails to deliver to the Corporation as required by section 13, any property or any books, documents or other papers which may be in his possession or unlawfully retains possession of any property of an insurer which has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act or wilfully applies any such property to purposes other than those expressed in or authorised by this Act, he shall, on the complaint of the Corporation, be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Tribunal to have exclusive jurisdiction in certain matters.

41. No civil court shall have jurisdiction to entertain or adjudicate upon any matter which a Tribunal is empowered to decide or determine under this Act.

Enforcement of decision of Tribunals.

42. Any decision of a Tribunal may be enforced in any civil court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the person against whom the decision is to be enforced actually and voluntarily resides or carries on business or personally works for gain or owns any property, as if it were a decree passed by that court.

Application of the Insurance Act.

43. (1) The following sections of the Insurance Act shall, so far as may be, apply to the Corporation as they apply to any other insurer, namely:—

Sections 2, 2B, 3, 18, 26, 33, 38, 39, 41, 45, 46, 47A, 50, 51, 52, 110A, 110B, 110C, 119, 121, 122 and 123.

(2) The Central Government shall as soon as may be after the commencement of this Act, by notification in the official Gazette, direct that the following sections of the Insurance Act shall apply to the Corporation subject to such conditions and modifications as may be specified in the notification, namely:—

Sections 2D, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22, 23, 25, 27A, 28A, 35, 36, 37, 40, 40A, 40B, 43, 44, 102 to 106, 107 to 110, 111, 113, 114 and 116A.

(3) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that all or any of the provisions of the Insurance Act other than those specified in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), shall apply to the Corporation subject to such conditions and modifications as may be specified in the notification.

(4) Every notification issued under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) shall be laid for not less than thirty days before both Houses of Parliament as soon as possible after it is issued, and shall be subject to such modifications as Parliament may make during the session in which it is so laid or the session immediately following.

(5) Save as provided in this section, nothing contained in the Insurance Act shall apply to the Corporation.

Act not to apply in certain cases.

44. Nothing contained in this Act shall apply in relation to—

(a) any insurer whose busines is being voluntarily wound up or is being wound up under the orders of the court;

(b) any insurer to whom the Insurance Act does not apply by reason of the provisions contained in section 2E thereof;

(c) any composite insurer in respect of the management of whose affairs an Administrator has been appointed under section 52A of the Insurance Act;

(d) the scheme run by the Central Government known as the Post Office Life Insurance Fund;

(e) any approved superannuation fund as defined in clause (a) of section 58N of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, which is in existence on the appointed day;

II of 1922.

(f) any scheme in existence on the appointed day or any scheme framed after the appointed day with the approval of the Central Government whereby, in consideration of certain compulsory deductions made by Government from the salaries of its employees as part of the conditions of service, the payment of money is assured by Government on the death of the employee concerned or on the happening of any contigency dependent on his life.

Special provisions regarding certain composite insurer.

45. Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (c) of section 44, the Administrator appointed to manage the affairs of a composite insurer under the Insurance Act shall, as soon as may be practicable after the commencement of this Act, take steps in the prescribed manner,—

(a) to transfer the assets and liabilities appertaining to the controlled business of the insurer, to the Corporation; and

(b) to vest the management of the affairs of the insurer in respect of any other kind of business, in the person entitled thereto.

Defects in constitution or Corporation of Committees not to invalidate acts or proceedings

46. No act or proceeding of the Corporation or of any Committee of the Corporation shall be called in question on the ground merely of the existence of any vacancy or defect in the constitution of the Corporation or Committee, as the case may be.

Protection of action taken under Act.

47. No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any member or employee of the Corporation for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

Power to make rules.

48. (1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the term of office and the conditions of service of members;

(b) the manner in which the moneys and other assets belonging to any such fund as is referred to in section 8 shall be apportioned between the trustees of the fund and the Corporation;

(c) the services which the chief agent should have rendered for the purpose of the proviso to section 12;

(d) the jurisdiction of the Tribunals constituted under section 17;

(e) the manner in which, and the persons to whom, any compensation under this Act may be paid;

(f) the time within which any matter which may be referred to a Tribunal for decision under this Act may be so referred;

(g) the manner in which and the conditions subject to which investments may be made by the Corporation;

(h) the manner in which an Employees and Agents Relations Committee may be constituted for each zonal office;

(i) the form in which the report giving an account of the activities of the Corporation shall be prepared;

(j) the conditions subject to which the Corporation may appoint employees;

(k) the fees payable under this Act and the manner in which they are to be collected;

(l) any other matter which has to be or may be prescribed.

(3) All rules made under this section shall be laid for not less than thirty days before both Houses of Parliament as soon as possible after they are made, and shall be subject to such modifications as Parliament may make during the session in which they are so laid or the session immediately following.

Power to make regulations.

49. (1) The Corporation may, with the previous approval of the Central Government, by notification in the Gazette of India, make regulations not inconsistent with this Act and the rules made thereunder to provide for all matters for which provision is expedient for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such regulations may provide for—

(a) the powers and functions of the Corporation which may be delegated to the Zonal Managers;

(b) the method of recruitment of employees and agents of the Corporation and the terms and conditions of service of such employees or agents;

(c) the number, term of office and conditions of service of members of Boards constituted under section 22;

(d) the territorial limits of each zone established under this Act and the business to be transacted in each zone;

(e) the manner in which the Fund of the Corporation shall be maintained;

(f) the maintenance of separate funds and accounts at each of the zonal offices;

(g) the jurisdiction of each divisional office and the establishment of Councils representative of policyholders in each area served by a divisional office for the purpose of advising the divisional office in respect of any matter which may be referred to it;

(h) the conduct of business at meetings of the Corporation;

(i) the formation of Committees of the Corporation and the delegation of powers and functions of the Corporation to such Committees, and the conduct of business at meetings of such Committees;

(j) the form and manner in which policies may be issued and contracts binding on the Corporation may be executed;

(k) the classification of policies, whether issued by the Corporation or by any insurer whose controlled business has been transferred to and vested in the Corporation, for the purpose of declaring differential bonuses, wherever necessary;

(l) the manner in which and the intervals within which the accounts of the various zonal offices, divisional offices and branch offices may be inspected and their accounts audited;

(m) the conditions subject to which any payment may be made by the Corporation.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE

(See section 16)

PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING COMPENSATION

PART A

The compensation to be given by the Corporation to an insurer having a share capital on which dividend or bonus is payable, who has allocated as bonus to policy-holders the whole or any part of the surplus as disclosed in the abstracts prepared in accordance with Part II of the Fourth Schedule to the Insurance Act in respect of the last actuarial investigation relating to his controlled business as at a date earlier than the 1st day of January, 1955, shall be computed in accordance with the provisions contained in paragraph 1 or paragraph 2, whichever is more advantageous to the insurer.

Paragraph 1.—Twenty times the annual average of the share of the surplus allocated to share-holders as disclosed in the abstracts aforesaid in respect of the relevant actuarial investigations multiplied by a figure which represents the proportion that the average business in force during the calendar years 1950 to 1955 bears to the average business in force during the calendar years comprised in the period between the date as at which the actuarial investigation immediately preceding the earliest of the relevant actuarial investigations was made and the date as at which the last of such investigations was made.

Paragraph 2.—Half the amount payable under paragraph 1 plus the paid-up capital or assets equivalent thereto, or, in the case of a composite insurer, that part of the paid-up capital or assets equivalent thereto which has or have been transferred to and vested in the Corporation under this Act less the amount, if any, of expenses or losses or both capitalised by the insurer for the purposes of Form A in the First Schedule to the Insurance Act.

Explanation 1.—For the purposes of paragraph 1,—

(a) "relevant actuarial investigations" means such minimum number of latest actuarial investigations as at dates earlier than the 1st day of January, 1955 (not being less than two in any case), as would leave the period intervening between the date as at which the actuarial investigation immediately preceding the first of such investigations was made and the date as at which the last of such investigations was made, to be not less than four years;

(b) "average business in force" means the average of total sums assured by the insurer (including any bonus) in respect of his controlled business as on the 31st day of December of each of the relevant calendar years.

Explanation 2.—For the purposes of paragraph 1, where an insurer has allocated to share-holders more than 5 per cent. of any such surplus as is referred to therein, the insurer shall be deemed to have allocated only 5 per cent. of the surplus and where an insurer has not allocated any such surplus to share-holders or has allocated to share-holders less than 3½ per cent. of any such surplus, the insurer shall be deemed to have allocated 3½ per cent. of the surplus.

Explanation 3.—In the case of any insurer incorporated outside India, the annual average of the share of the surplus allocated to share-holders for the purposes of paragraph 1 shall be deemed to be the annual average of the surplus as disclosed in the abstracts prepared in accordance with Part II of the Fourth Schedule to the Insurance Act in respect of the relevant actuarial investigations multiplied by a figure which is the average of the two figures mentioned below:—

(i) a figure representing the proportion which the share allocated to share-holders out of the surplus in respect of the world business of the insurer (such share being computed subject to the provisions of Explanation 2) bears to the whole of such surplus as ascertained with reference to the last actuarial investigation relating to such business as at a date earlier than the 1st day of January, 1955; and

(ii) a figure representing the proportion which the share allocated to share-holders out of the surplus in respect of the world business of the insurer (such share being computed subject to the provisions of Explanation 2) bears to the whole of such surplus as ascertained with reference to the actuarial investigation relating to such business immediately preceding the actuarial investigation referred to in clause (i):

Provided that in the case of any such insurer in respect of whom an order has been made under section 35 the amount computed as follows shall be deemed to be the annual average of the surplus:—

(a) there shall be deducted from the annual average of the surplus, interest at 3½ per cent. per annum

for one year calculated on the assets specified in any order made under sub-section (2) of section 35;

(b) with respect to the balance arrived at under clause (a), there shall be computed an amount that bears the same proportion to the said balance as the liability on policies appertaining to the controlled business of the insurer, other than those expressed in any foreign currency issued on the lives of persons who are not citizens of India, bears to the liability in respect of all policies appertaining to such business, the liabilities on policies being computed as at the 31st day of December, 1955, in accordance with the provisions contained in clause (b) of the Second Schedule:

Provided further that—

(a) in any case where the order made under section 35 is with reference to sub-section (2) only, the preceding proviso shall have effect as if clause (b) had been omitted therefrom; and

(b) in any case where the order made under section 35 is with reference to sub-section (3) only, the preceding proviso shall have effect as if—

(i) clause (a) had been omitted;

(ii) in clause (b), the words, brackets and letter "with respect to the balance arrived at under clause (a)" had been omitted; for the words "the said balance" the words "annual average of the surplus" had been substituted; and for the words, brackets and letter "with the provisions contained in clause (b) of", the words and letter "with method A specified in" had been substituted.

Explanation 4.—Where an insurer is an insurer incorporated outside India whose paid-up capital is outside India—

(a) the provisions contained in paragraph 1 shall have effect as if the words "less a sum equal to that part of the paid-up capital of the insurer as may be determined by the Central Government to be allocable to the controlled business of the insurer" were inserted at the end of that paragraph; and

(b) the provisions contained in paragraph 2 shall have effect as if,—

(i) the words "without making the deduction referred to in clause (a) of Explanation 4" had been inserted after the words "half the amount payable under paragraph 1"; and

(ii) the words beginning with "plus the paid-up capital" and ending with "in the First Schedule to the Insurance Act" had been omitted.

PART B

The compensation to be given by the Corporation to an insurer having a share capital on which dividend or bonus is payable who has not made any such allocation as is referred to in Part A in respect of the last actuarial investigation as at a date earlier than the 1st day of January, 1955, shall be an amount equal to the value of the assets of the insurer appertaining to his controlled business in existence, on the 19th day of January, 1956, computed as at that date in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 3 less the amount of liabilities of the insurer appertaining to such business in existence on the 19th day of January, 1956, computed as at that date in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4.

Paragraph 3.—(a) The market value of any land or buildings. Assets.

(b) The market value of any shares, securities or other investments held by the insurer.

(c) The total amount of the premiums paid by the insurer in respect of all leasehold properties reduced in the case of each such premium by an amount which bears to such premium the same proportion as the expired term of the lease in respect of which such premium shall have been paid bears to the total term of the lease.

(d) The amount of debts due to the insurer, whether secured or unsecured, to the extent to which they are reasonably considered to be recoverable.

(e) The amount of premiums which have fallen due to the insurer on policies of life insurance but have not been paid and the days of grace for payment of which have not expired.

(f) The amount of cash held by the insurer whether in deposit with a bank or otherwise.

(g) The value of all tangible assets other than those falling within any of the preceding clauses.

Paragraph 4.—(a) The total amount of liabilities of the insurer to holders of policies in respect of his controlled business on account of matured claims on which payment has to be made. Liabilities.

(b) The total amount of liabilities of the insurer to holders of policies in respect of his controlled business which have not matured for payment, the liabilities in respect thereof being calculated on the following actuarial bases:—

(i) in respect of whole-life assurances and endowment assurances, the mortality table to be used shall be the Oriental (25-35) ultimate mortality table, and an interest rate of 3½ per cent. per annum shall be assumed and for expenses 20 per cent. of office premiums in the case of with-profit policies and 15 per cent. of office premiums in the case of non-profit policies shall be reserved;

(ii) in respect of other policies such actuarial bases determined by the actuary making the valuation as may be consistent with the basis specified in clause (i); and

(iii) in determining the liabilities of insurers under clause (b) the actuary shall make all the usual provisions and reserves as are ordinarily done in such cases.

(c) The total amount of all other liabilities of the insurer.

(d) Where, as a result of the actuarial valuation of policy liabilities made under clause (b), the life insurance fund is shown to be in surplus, a sum equal to 96 per cent. of such surplus shall be deemed to be a liability under this paragraph.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this Part, in the case of an insurer incorporated outside India in respect of whom an order under section 35 has been made, the assets or the assets and liabilities, as the case may be, specified in the order shall be excluded.

Paragraph 5.—If the insurer to whom compensation is to be given under this Part is a displaced insurer, the compensation to be given shall be computed in accordance with the following provisions:—

Firstly, there shall be ascertained the losses incurred by the displaced insurer in respect of claims arising by deaths established by the displaced insurer to have been caused by the civil disturbances which took place on the occasion of the setting up of the Dominions of India and Pakistan, the total loss being taken as the difference between the amounts paid as claims in respect of such deaths and the total amount of the actuarial reserve in respect of the relevant policies;

Secondly, there shall be ascertained the difference between the market value as at the 15th day of August, 1947, of any immovable property in West Pakistan belonging to the displaced insurer and the market value thereof determined under Paragraph 3 of this part, or, where any such immovable property has been sold before the 19th day of January, 1956, the difference between the market value thereof as at the 15th day of August, 1947, and the sale price;

Thirdly, there shall be ascertained the amount of deposits held by the displaced insurer in banks which could not be withdrawn on account of a moratorium declared under any law for the time being in force, to the extent to which such deposits have become losses;

Fourthly, there shall be ascertained the difference between the market value as at the 15th day of August, 1947, of any shares in any company now carrying on business in West Pakistan held by the displaced insurer and which had been acquired before the 15th day of August, 1947, and the market value of such shares as at the 19th day of January, 1956.

The amount of compensation to be given to the displaced insurer under this Part shall be—

(a) the amount which would have to be given to him if this Paragraph had not been enacted, plus

(b) an amount which represents one-half of the difference between the compensation which would have to be given to him if to the value of the assets referred to in Paragraph 3 there had been added the sum of the four items referred to in this Paragraph and with respect to the liabilities referred to in Paragraph 4, the life insurance fund had been increased by a like sum, and the compensation which would have to be given to him if this Paragraph had not been enacted

one-half of the paid-up capital of the displaced insurer whichever is less.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this Paragraph "displaced insurer" means an insurance company whose registered office during any part of the year 1947 was in any area now forming part of West Pakistan and whose register office is now in India.

PART C

The compensation to be given by the Corporation to an insurer—

(a) having no share capital; or shall be in the form of an addition at the rate of rupee one per thousand in respect of the sum assured (excluding bonuses) under each with-profit policy, and in the case of an insurer falling under clause (b), such compensation shall also include a sum equivalent to the paid-up capital of the insurer to be paid to him.

(b) having a share capital on which a dividend or bonus is not payable;

THE SECOND SCHEDULE

PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING THE VALUE OF LIABILITIES IN CERTAIN CASES

The total amount of the liabilities of an insurer incorporated outside India for the purposes of sub-section (2) of section 35 shall be the sum of the amounts computed in accordance with the following provisions:—

(a) the total amount of liabilities of the insurer to holders of policies in respect of his controlled business on account of matured claims on which payment has to be made;

(b) the total amount of liabilities of the insurer to holders of policies in respect of his controlled business which have not matured for payment, the liabilities in respect thereof being the liabilities calculated in accordance with method B below or the mean of the liabilities calculated in accordance with method A and method B below, whichever is greater.

Method A.—Actuarial liability calculated on the same bases as adopted by the insurer at the last actuarial investigation as at a date earlier than the 1st day of January, 1955.

Method B.—Actuarial liability calculated on the method known as the modified net premium method of valuation, the mortality tabel to be used being the Oriental (25-35) ultimate mortality table, an interest rate of 2½ per cent. per annum being assumed and the allowance for first year expenses being Rs. 40 per thousand rupees of the sum assured by the policy.

Explanation 1.—Before ascertaining the liability under method A and method B, there shall be added to each with-profit policy in force on the 31st day of December, 1955 (unless such addition has already been made) bonus at the same rate as declared at the said last actuarial investigation in respect of each year or part of a year the policy had been in force since the date as at which the said last actuarial investigation was made.

Explanation 2.—In calculating the liabilities in accordance with method A or method B,—

(i) in respect of policies other than whole-life assurance and endowment assurance, such actuarial basis determined by the actuary making the valuation as may be consistent with the basis specified in the method shall be employed; and

(ii) the actuary shall make all the usual provisions and reserves as are ordinarily done in such cases;

(c) the total amount of all other liabilities of the insurer.

THE THIRD SCHEDULE

(See section 36)

PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING COMPENSATION PAYABLE TO CHIEF AGENTS

The compensation payable to a chief agent shall consist of seventy-five per cent. of the overriding commission specified in the contract relating to chief agency with the insurer on the renewal premiums received by the Corporation during a period of ten years from the appointed day in respect of the business procured by the chief agent before the appointed day; and such compensation shall be determined and paid annually for the said period.

PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING COMPENSATION PAYABLE TO SPECIAL AGENTS

The compensation payable to a special agent shall consist of one-eighth of his annual average earnings during the period beginning on the 1st day of January, 1952, and ending on the 31st day of December, 1955, in the form of overriding commissions in respect of business procured by him through insurance agents.
